QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

DISTRESS IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said —

As the Government is aware, there has been scanty rainfall during the past year throughout Bihar, and consequently both the winter rice and the rabi crops have considerably suffered for want of moisture, and the area sown with rabi has been much less than usual. Will the Government in these circumstances be pleased to say if any distress is or is likely to be apprehended in any of the Bihar districts among the lower and labouring classes, regard being had to (1) the quantity of food-grains available, (2) the ruling prices thereof, and (3) the staying power of the above-mentioned classes? If so, how is it proposed to meet the situation?

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON replied —

"There was a short rainfall in September and October in Bihar, with the result that the rice crop was short, but the rabi sowings were not far short of the normal, and the harvest, which is now being reaped, though not a good crop, is generally at least half an average crop. The bhadori of last autumn was a good crop, and the harvests of the three preceding years were good. Prices are normal, in some districts of Bihar below normal. Crime is below normal. The situation has been carefully watched by Government and its officers from October onwards. Some small works have been opened in two districts to test it, but so far indicate no lack of employment or wages."

PATWARIS

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said —

Regard being had to the fact that the landlords of Bihar, where the patwari system is still in vogue, are liable under the law to pay the patwaris' dues known as neg, while they themselves cannot legally recover the same from the raiyats, and that the patwari is neither the servant of the malik who pays his neg, nor that of the Government which appoints him, and that on account of his anomalous position he is a constant source of trouble and hardship to both the landlord and the tenant, and that the system does not exist in the districts of Lower Bengal generally,—will the Government be pleased to consider the advisability of abolishing the patwari institution altogether, which, to say the least, is an anachronism?

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON replied —

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the correspondence on this subject, which was published in Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, pages 225 to 263, on the 27th March, 1895."

INOCULATION AS A PREVENTIVE AGAINST PLAGUE.

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY asked —

Are there any statistics available to show what measure of success has attended the inoculation operations as a preventive against plague in the Bengal Presidency?

If so, will the Government be pleased to lay them on the table?

The Hon'ble MR. KISCH replied —

"The reports and statistics available will be laid on the table."

The following documents were accordingly placed on the table, viz. —

- (1) Letter No 1481, dated the 16th December, 1901, from the Civil Surgeon, Chapra, to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, with enclosure
- (2) Note by the District Medical Officer, East Indian Railway Hospital, Gaya, dated the 18th December, 1901
- (3) Letter No 39P, dated the 26th December, 1901, from the Civil Surgeon, Monghyr, to the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal
- (4) Letter No 1051, dated the 31st December, 1901, from the Civil Surgeon, Gaya, to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, with enclosures.
- (5) Letter No 1<sup>B</sup><sub>F</sub>, dated the 7th January, 1902, from the Civil Surgeon of Patna, to the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, with enclosures

PLAGUE GRANT.

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY asked —

Will the Government be pleased to state if the grant of Rs 2,15,000 allotted in the budget estimates for the current year in connection with plague expenditure has been allocated to the affected districts in Bihar, and, if so, in what proportions?

The Hon'ble MR KISCH replied —

'Rupees 47,500 has up to date been allotted to Municipalities and District Boards in affected districts in Bihar, namely, Rs 33,000 to Patna, Rs. 5,000 to Saran, Rs. 3,000 to Shahabad, Rs 2,000 to Gaya, Rs 2,000 to the Santhál Parganas, and Rs 2,500 to Monghyr. Owing to the Government having undertaken to bear all expenditure for camps, inspections, and other arrangements not purely local, the charges on local bodies outside of Calcutta have this year been generally very small.'

MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENTS.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUROSH MUKHOPADHYAYA asked —

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the decision of the High Court, reported in Indian Law Reports, 27 Cal, 849, in which it has been held that an assessment of tax under section 85, clause (a), of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, as amended by Bengal Act IV of 1894, made in consideration of the assessee's "circumstances and property" (altogether or partly) outside the local limits of the Municipality, is ultra vires and illegal?

(b) Is the Government aware that in many Municipalities (e.g., Taki Municipality, district 24 Parganas, Dobhatta Municipality, district Khulna) assessments are still made in contravention of the provisions of the law as explained in the above decision?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to draw the attention of Municipal authorities to the decision referred to for their guidance in the matter of assessment?

The Hon'ble MR. KISCH replied —

"(a) Only by the question of the Hon'ble Member.

"(b) Only from the implication in the Hon'ble Member's question

"(c) The Government will do so."

IMPROVEMENT OF THE BHAGIRATHI RIVER

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, asked —

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the observations made by His Excellency the Viceroy, in reply to the address which was presented to him at Murshidabad by the local self-governing bodies and the Murshidabad Association, regarding the condition of the Bhagirathi? If so, will the Government be pleased to state if it is disposed to adopt any measures for improving the river, by making it navigable throughout the year, and thus giving effect to the wishes of His Excellency the Viceroy?

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE replied —

"The attention of this Government has been drawn to the observations made by His Excellency the Viceroy at Murshidabad upon the subject of the possible improvement of the Bhagirathi river.

"The question of the feasibility of adopting other measures than those hitherto employed for the maintenance of navigation upon this river has been under consideration for some months, in particular by the employment of powerful suction dredgers to cut a channel through its shoals."

THE HOWRAH BRIDGE ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to extend the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, to the Howrah Bridge.

He said — "I will state the objects and reasons for introducing this Bill. It is proposed to grant a license under the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act for the supply of electricity for lighting the Howrah Bridge. This Act, however, applies only to Calcutta as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Act. It can be extended by Notification under section 34 to other municipalities. The Howrah Bridge is not within the limits of either the Calcutta or the Howrah Municipality. It is vested in and controlled by the Port Commissioners. This being so, it is impossible to grant a license under the Act as it now stands, for the purpose of lighting the Howrah Bridge. To remedy this defect, it is proposed to declare the Howrah Bridge and such of the approaches as are vested in the Port Commissioners to be included within Calcutta for the purposes of this Act. If this is done, a license can be granted."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business for the purpose of introducing the Bill.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended,

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE introduced the Bill, and also moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was read accordingly.

THE BENGAL DRAINAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. MACPHERSON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880.

He said — "Under that Act, as the Council may be aware, schemes of drainage have been undertaken, and may be undertaken with the object of reclaiming and improving agricultural lands. When it appears to Government to be expedient to carry out a scheme for drainage and improvement, Government appoints a Committee of Drainage Commissioners, of whom a majority must be holders of lands in the area affected by the scheme. These Drainage Commissioners take the votes of all landholders in the area affected, and if the majority of votes be in favour of a drainage scheme, they prepare and submit the scheme for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor. If the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the scheme, it is carried out by the Public Works Department at the expense of Government, and the cost with interest is recovered by Government in ten yearly instalments from the landholders, after an apportionment has been made field by field against the lands reclaimed or benefited. The Act provides that landholders who have paid sums apportioned shall have an alternative right either of enhancing their tenants' rents with reference to the increased productive power of the land, or of recovering from the tenants by instalments extending over ten years the sums which they (the landlords) have paid for the drainage works. If the landlord sues for an enhanced rent, the tenant has the option of agreeing to an enhanced rent or of paying the landlord the cost of the drainage works for his holding. If, when the landlord recovers the cost of the drainage works, there be a dispute as to the amount of cost payable by a tenant, the Collector decides on the basis of a very carefully prepared record drawn up by the Drainage Commissioners. But if the tenant neglects to pay, the landlord under the existing law can only recover by suit in the Civil Courts. Similarly, landlords can only recover by civil suits against their co-sharers any sum paid to the Collector in discharge of a joint-liability, supposing that the co-sharers do not amicably adjust such payments.

I believe that up to date only three drainage schemes have been carried out, all in the Hooghly and Howrah districts, under the provisions of the Act of 1880, namely, the three schemes known as the Dhankuni, the Howrah, and the Rajapore schemes. The Rajapore scheme includes the Burrjola scheme. Indeed, the Dhankuni scheme was begun in 1878 under an old Act of 1871, the Hooghly and Burdwan Drainage Act, but was completed under the Act of 1880. I may mention that in the Rajapore Drainage area, which is much the largest of the schemes, the number of villages benefited is 162, and the area reclaimed and improved is a little over 41,000 acres, the total cost incurred in the scheme, including the capitalised amount for future maintenance charges, is Rs 14,51,174. The estimated increase of annual value of the lands benefited is Rs 2,56,089. In the Howrah scheme the area benefited is 13,456 acres. The total cost incurred, including capitalised maintenance charges, is Rs 5,21,924, and the estimated increase of annual value is Rs 59,736.

A fourth scheme, known as the Amta scheme, also proposed in the Hooghly district, was rejected by the zamindars two years ago after a good deal of consideration. One of the reasons given for rejecting it was the difficulty that has been experienced by the landholders in other drainage areas in recovering from their co-sharers and from their tenants the sums which they have paid, and which they are paying to Government. The difficulties which landholders have in making such recoveries have been for some time under the consideration of the local officers and of Government, and it has appeared to the Lieutenant-Governor that the grievance of the landholders in this respect is real, and that the extension of drainage projects, which are apparently in themselves desirable, is impeded by these difficulties. The object of the Bill, for the introduction of which the permission of this Council is asked, is to facilitate the recovery by landholders from their co-sharers, and from their tenants, of the sums which the landholders have paid and are paying to Government. In the Bill as drawn, no principle of the Drainage Act of 1880 is modified. But it is proposed to allow the landlords the procedure of the Public Demands Recovery Act of 1895, which is commonly known as the certificate procedure, to assist them to recover, more expeditiously and at less cost, the sums payable by their co-sharers and by their tenants. The Council will remember that a similar right is given to proprietors against their co-sharers in recovery of cesses paid to Government by a provision of the Bengal Cess Act.

"I shall not on this occasion take up the time of the Council by going into the provisions of the Bill in detail. This can be done more conveniently when the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons and the Notes on Clauses have been read by Hon'ble Members.

"I now move for leave to introduce this Bill to amend the Bengal Drainage Act of 1880."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Wednesday, the 2nd April, 1902.

CALCUTTA,
The 1st April, 1902.

F G WIGLEY,
Secretary to the Bengal Council, and
Assistant Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph. The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Provided that every application under any of the said sections in respect of any such claim be made within sixty days from the commencement of this Act

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE expenses connected with carrying out drainage schemes under the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880, are payable to the Government by the holders of the land benefited. The Act contains some provisions, in sections 42 to 44, for the recovery by landholders of a proportionate share of these expenses from their tenants, who derive benefit from drainage works, but it has been found that these provisions are insufficient for the purpose, and the main object of this Bill is to provide further facilities for the realisation of these just dues.

2 It is also declared, by section 3 of the Act, that joint-landholders shall be jointly and severally liable for the expenses of carrying out drainage works, but where one co-sharer pays the whole of such expenses, he has no ready means of recovering due contributions from his co-sharers. The second object of the Bill is to authorise the recovery of such contributions—

(a) as if they were arrears of rent, or

(b) under the summary procedure prescribed by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, or

(c) by taking credit for them in any adjustment of accounts

3 The third object of the Bill is to provide a procedure for amending the list of persons who have been formally declared to be liable to pay the expenses of drainage schemes. Such amendment is necessary when the name of a co-sharer is found to be omitted from the list, or when a change in the ownership or joint-ownership of land has taken place after the list was framed.

NOTES ON CLAUSES

Clause 2 (Section 36A).—This section authorises the Collector, upon application, or of his own motion, and after enquiry,—

(1) to add, to the list of persons declared liable to pay drainage expenses, the name of any co-sharer whose name is found to be omitted, and

(2) to alter any name in that list so as to take account of any change in the ownership or joint-ownership of land which has occurred by transfer or succession.

An appeal is allowed from the Collector's order to the Commissioner, in terms similar to those in which an appeal is given by section 35 of the Act against an order apportioning drainage expenses.

Sub-section (5) requires every addition and alteration, when made or when confirmed in appeal, to be published, and clauses are added to ensure that all amendments made shall have due effect.

2. Clause 3.—This clause directs the insertion of two new sections (41A and 41B) in the Act, with the object of assisting joint-landholders who have paid drainage expenses to recover due contributions from their co-sharers.

Section 41A authorises such landlords to recover such contributions—

- (a) as if they were arrears of rent; or
- (b) upon application to the Collector, or
- (c) by taking credit for them in any adjustment of accounts

Section 41B requires such applications to be properly signed and verified, and proscribes a fee of eight annas to be paid upon each, and further contains provisions, similar to those contained in section 49 of the Cess Act, 1880, authorising the Collector, if he thinks fit, to recover the said contributions under the certificate procedure

3 Clause 4—Section 45 of the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880, prohibits the enhancement of the rent of a tenant when money has been recovered from him under section 42 or section 43 for drainage expenses. A new method of recovering such expenses is proposed to be provided in section 45A (referred to in paragraph 4, infra), and, since a successful resort to this method should equally bar the enhancement of rent, it is proposed to extend section 45 of the Act to this case as well

4 Clause 5 (Section 45A)—This section authorises landholders to apply to the Collector to recover, by means of the certificate procedure, the contributions towards drainage expenses to which they are entitled under clause (c) of section 42 of the Act

Special provision is made to admit of the recovery of such contributions from tenants who have surrendered their leases after enjoying the benefit of the drainage works

5 Clause 6—Section 48 of the Act authorises proprietors and others to recover from their tenants contributions towards the maintenance of drainage works

It is proposed by this clause to declare that the new sections (41A, 41B and 45A), relating to the recovery of contributions for the construction of drainage works, may be applied for the recovery of the first-named contributions

6 Clause 7 (Section 51A)—This section gives, to landholders under whom land is held free of rent or revenue, authority, similar to that given by the new section (45A) to other landholders to apply to the Collector to recover payments of drainage charges by means of the certificate procedure

7 Clause 8—Difficulties have been experienced by landholders in recovering their dues on account of payments made by them in connection with the drainage schemes of Howrah and Rajapur, which are now being carried out. It is accordingly proposed, by clause 8 of the Bill, to give these landholders the right, which it is intended to confer on landholders generally by earlier clauses of the Bill, to apply to the Collector to recover claims for drainage charges by means of the certificate procedure

The clause is, however, confined to claims which are subsisting and unsatisfied at the commencement of the new Act, and will only have effect in cases in which applications for the benefit of the certificate procedure are made within sixty days from that time

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1901

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 2nd April 1902.

RESOLUTION—No 1552Medl

The Returns with notes by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1901.

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums for the year 1900, and the Resolution recorded by Government upon it

In accordance with the recent orders of the Government of India, the Report on Lunatic Asylums will in future be triennial, instead of annual as heretofore, the first triennial report being for the years 1900-1902. In the intervening years only the returns are to be submitted, with such notes as may be necessary. The returns for the year 1901 have been punctually received.

2. The number of lunatics in all the asylums at the commencement of the year was 943. During the year there were 229 admissions and 20 re-admissions, and 122 discharges and 61 deaths. Allowing for these additions and deductions, the number of inmates in the asylums at the close of the year was 1,009, an increase of 66 on the preceding year, of whom 45 were criminal and 21 non-criminal. The number of criminal lunatics continues to increase, the percentage to the total population in the asylums at the close of the year being 52.92 against 51.85 in 1900.

3. In 50 per cent of the total admissions during the year it was possible to discover the cause of insanity. This is an improvement on last year when the percentage of ascertained cases was only 35. In three-fourths of the cases in which the cause of insanity was traced, it was found to be physical and chiefly the habitual use of ganja. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that there is still very little improvement in the preparation of the medical history sheets of lunatics, and will now await the Inspector-General's suggestions in the matter.

4. The general health of the inmates of asylums showed a marked improvement. The total number of admissions to hospital was 576, against 968 in the previous year, and the death rate was 6.18 per cent of the average number of inmates, against 10.67 per cent in 1900. There were 24 cases of injuries and accidents to lunatics, against 33 in 1900, and most of them were of a trivial nature, and the warders were not to blame. There were no escapes from the asylums during the year.

5. The income from paying patients and the net receipts from manufactures in all the asylums were Rs. 13,702 and Rs. 6,510, respectively, against Rs. 18,017 and Rs. 6,721 in 1900. The falling-off in the former item of receipts is due to fewer admissions of paying patients into the European asylum at Bhawanipur. The total expenditure on all the asylums was Rs. 1,39,516, against Rs. 1,30,775, the increase being chiefly under diet and public works. The system of giving rewards for good behaviour and steady work is being tried with good results.

6. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the several officers who held charge of the asylums during the year for their efficient management of the institutions entrusted to their care.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. M. KISCH,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal

RABI CROPS IN BENGAL, 1901-1902.

The following is published for general information

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Note on the Rabi Crops of Bengal for 1901-1902.

Explanatory.—This forecast furnishes estimates of the area and outturn of the rabi crops, with the exception of wheat, cotton and oilseeds, for which separate forecasts are issued. The chief crops dealt with in this forecast are barley, gram, other cereals and pulses, summer rice, potatoes, and tobacco.

2 The character of the season—The last monsoon was generally deficient, and terminated early, and consequently sowings were retarded and contracted. Heavy showers at the end of November benefited some districts, but the Christmas rains held off, and the fall in March has come too late to benefit any but the summer rice crop. The Patna Division, in which these crops are most extensively grown, was particularly unfortunate in its weather throughout the season.

3 Area sown—Excluding the area sown with wheat, cotton and oilseeds, the normal area sown with the various rabi crops in the Province amounts, according to the district returns which are summarised in Appendix I, to 10, 114,000 acres, this figure having been revised in some districts in the light of fresh surveys and other enquiries. The area actually sown this year with these crops is estimated at 9,048,200 acres, against 9,339,800 acres last year. The decrease is due to drought at the sowing season.

4 Outturn—Seven contiguous districts in Central and Northern Bengal, viz, Mymensingh, Bogra, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Munshidabad, Malda, and Bubbhum, report an average or nearly an average crop. In the Patna Division, however, which contains  $3\frac{1}{2}$  million acres under these crops, the estimate varies from 89 per cent in irrigated Gaya to only 39 per cent in Champaran. According to the estimate of the District Officers, the outturn for the Province as a whole amounts to only 71 per cent. of a normal crop, as compared with a 79 per cent. crop estimated last year. Allowing for the tendency to underestimate, and for the benefit which the summer rice will derive from recent rainfall, it is safe to anticipate a 75 per cent. or a 12 anna crop for the Province as a whole.

5 Gross outturn of summer rice—In Appendix II, I have calculated the total yield of the summer rice crop of the Province, accepting the Provincial outturn as 95 per cent of a normal crop. It amounts to 3,295,800 cwt., as compared with 3,084,000 cwt., estimated last year.

Total food-crops	240,800	240,000	221,800	105	60	The figures in columns 8 and 9 have been revised according to settlement records. In Gopalganj Subdivision about the normal area is under each crop but in the Sevan and Chapra Subdivisions especially the latter lack of moisture has prevented germination in many cases and in many lands which could not be irrigated crops have withered and come to nothing and therefore the area in column 7 is shown as about 13 per cent below the normal for the whole district. Irrigated and diara lands will give a normal outturn but these represent only about 20 per cent of the whole area and therefore I do not think the outturn for the whole district of rabi food-crops will exceed 62 per cent.	The decrease in area and outturn is due to the drought of the season.

The figures in column 7 have been compiled from the Jir was having further check made as I am not satisfied as to their accuracy. The figures in column 9 are I believe fairly accurate. They have been calculated in proportion to the area as well as outturn. No doubt on account of scanty moisture a smaller area has been sown this year and most of the cereals are very poor. Kharif, winter and tobacco are the only fair crops this year i.e. they are up to two-thirds of the normal outturn.	The figures in column 8 have been revised in the light of the revised figures in column 5.

REPORT OF THE BRUCE INSTITUTION FOR THE YEAR 1901

I.—Control—During the year under review, the Hon'ble Mr L. P. Pugh, Mr Geo Irving, and Mr H. A. Bamford were re-appointed to be Governors. The Rev J. E. Robinson was appointed a Governor, vice the Rev Bishop Warne, resigned. The Lord Bishop of Calcutta (ex officio Governor) was absent from India during the greater part of the year. Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., C.I.E. (Honorary Secretary), was absent for about four months, making over charge of his duties to Mr J. S. Slater.

The following is a list of the Governors at the close of the year —

The Hon'ble the Chief Justice of Bengal	} Ex officio.
The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals
The Chairman of the Calcutta Municipality
The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal (Honorary Secretary)
The Hon'ble Mr Justice Sale
The Hon'ble Mr L. P. Pugh (Barrister-at-law).
The Very Rev. Father V. Marchal, S.J.
The Rev A. Kitchin
The Rev J. E. Robinson
Geo. Irving, Esq.
H. A. Bamford, Esq. (Inspector of European Schools)

II.—Capital and Income—The capital of the Institution was increased from Rs. 10,46,200 to Rs. 10,51,200 by a further temporary investment of Rs. 5,000 in  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. Government securities. The former investment is held by the Comptroller General in the form of a stock-certificate of the year 1869. It yields at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, less commission at  $\frac{1}{4}$  per cent charged by the Comptroller-General, an annual net interest of Rs. 36,525 7-4, paid half-yearly, which is placed to the credit of the Institution in the Bank of Bengal. The latter investment is held by the Secretary and Treasurer, Bank of Bengal, and yields an annual interest of Rs. 175, paid half-yearly, which is credited to the accounts of the Institution.

III.—Election, Vacancies, etc—The annual election was held in the month of January instead of in August as hitherto, and all future elections will also be held in January, so as to enable the girls elected to attend school from the beginning of the school-year. For the seven vacancies advertised, 29 applications were received, but another vacancy having occurred just before the election, eight of the most deserving girls were elected on the recommendation of a Sub-Committee, consisting of Colonel T. H. Henlley, I.M.S., C.I.E., the Very Rev. Father V. Marchal, S.J., the Rev. A. Kitchin, and Mr. H. A. Bamford. Of the girls elected, one was placed in the Loreto Boarding School, Entally, two in the Loreto Orphanage, Entally, three in the Pratt Memorial School, one in the Calcutta Free School, and one in La Martinière. During the year there were 14 vacancies caused by the withdrawal of children by their parents or guardians, of whom 11 had attained the age of 17 years, the limit ordinarily allowed under the rules. If, however, a girl elects to take up teaching as a profession, some extension of time is generally allowed, if the Governors consider her fit to take up higher studies. One such extension was granted during the year. Two girls, who were in poor health, were, at the request of the school authorities, transferred temporarily to the Dow Hill Girls' School at Kurseong, but such transfers are only granted when no extra charge to the Institution is involved. Another girl, who was absent from school without leave for a considerable period, was struck off the list of foundationers. There was one death. Of the girls who had left school, two found places as teachers and one is learning type writing. Girls who are orphans, on their withdrawal from the foundation at the age of 17, are generally retained in the schools in which they have been educated and suitable employment found for them.

At the close of the year there were 142 girls on the foundation, against 146 in the preceding year. They were distributed as follows —

Lorette Convent, Entally—
Boarding School	...	19
Orphanage	...	33

Total			142

The following table affords particulars as to the class and religion of the foundationers at the close of the year —

CLASS	Roman Catholics	Church of England	Non conformists	Total
1 Orphans or deserted by the parents	24	10	8	51
2 Fatherless or deserted by the father, or father incapable	29	41	16	86
3 Father or both parents alive	1	3	1	5
Total	54	64	25	142

IV.—Education and Maintenance.—The nature of the education imparted to the girls on the foundation is generally that prescribed for primary and middle schools for Europeans. In exceptional cases a higher education is given. A girl is not ordinarily allowed to remain in school after she has attained the age of seventeen years, when an outfit grant of Rs. 50 is usually given to enable her to start in life. The end sought is to fit the girls for a respectable and useful station in life.

The average monthly cost for the education and maintenance of each girl on the foundation amounted to Rs. 19-4, against Rs. 19-0-9 in the preceding year. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 22,606 and closed with a balance of Rs. 7,591.

The total amount paid under the different heads of expenditure was as under —

1900	Rs.	A.	P.	1901	Rs.	A.	P.

				Total	42,510	3	9

V.—Inspection —Mr. H. A. Bamford was appointed Visiting Governor for the first half and re-appointed for the second half-year. His reports were satisfactory. Speaking generally, Mr. Bamford states that the foundationers are making satisfactory progress in their studies, they are well cared for and in good health, and are happy. Good accounts also continue to be received from the school authorities in regard to the general conduct, application, progress, health, and attendance of the foundationers.

VI.—Meetings —Four meetings were held during the year, and among the various resolutions passed the following may be noted —

The inclusion of the Old Church Parochial Home in the list of schools approved for the education of Bruce foundationers

THE SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT OF THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE

1. The Executive Council of the Imperial Institute desire to direct attention to the character of the work now carried on in an important Department of the Institute, which has been for several years in operation, and has of late undergone considerable extension.

The Scientific and Technical Department of the Institute has been established to acquire information by special enquiries and by experimental research, technical trials, and commercial valuation regarding new or little known natural or manufactured products of the various Colonies and Dependencies of the British Empire and of foreign countries, and also regarding known products procurable from new sources, and local products of manufacture which it is desired to export. This work is carried out with a view to the creation of new openings in trade, or the promotion of industrial developments.

2. In an extensive and well-equipped series of Research Laboratories, a numerous staff of skilled Chemists, under the direction of Professor Wyndham R. Dunstan, M.A., F.R.S., carry out the investigation of the chemical constitution and properties of new dye-stuffs, tanning materials, seeds and food-stuffs, oils, gums and resins, fibres, timbers, medicinal plants and products, animal products, minerals and ores, soils, cements, and various other products, with a view to their commercial utilization. Whenever necessary these materials are submitted to special scientific experts, by whom they are made the subjects of particular investigation or practical tests. Reports are also obtained from technical or trade experts in regard to the probable commercial or industrial value of any such products, while full information is collected from official or other trustworthy sources regarding the probable extent and cost of available supplies.

3. Appended to this memorandum is a paper giving illustrations of work of the above nature, which has been carried out for India and the Colonies in the Scientific and Technical Department of the Institute. It will be seen that this work is quite distinct in character from the services rendered respectively by the Commercial Information Office of the Board of Trade and by the Botanical Establishment of the Royal Gardens, Kew. But the work of this Department of the Institute may indeed be regarded as an important adjunct to that accomplished by those Government establishments, especially in furnishing the results of chemical investigation and technical trials which most generally determine the commercial value of natural products.

4. All materials requiring scientific or technical examination, or commercial valuation, should be submitted to the Institute for examination either by, or through, the Foreign Office, the Colonial Office, the India Office, or the Board of Trade, or through the Colonial or Indian Government Authorities. Requests for the examination of such materials may also be submitted by Public Commercial Bodies and Institutions of the respective Colonies and Dependencies, or by the Representatives of H. M. Government in foreign countries.

5. Reports on the results of enquiries or experimental investigations are supplied, as a rule, without charge, when applied for as above directed, but, should special expenses be incurred in connection with any such reports, or with the commercial valuation of particular materials or manufactured products, which the Council do not consider themselves warranted in meeting, a statement of such actual outlays will be furnished, for repayment, when the reports are supplied to the Public Bodies or Institutions concerned. Should an investigation or report of exceptional character be asked for by a Government Department, an estimate of the attendant expenses will be submitted, with a view to ascertain whether authority for such expenditure will be given.

[The attention of those who are concerned in finding new markets for Indian and Colonial products may be also directed to the collections of products exhibited in the Galleries of the Imperial Institute, illustrating the material resources of the Colonies and Dependencies of the Empire. They represent upwards of forty different countries, and are open free to the public. On application to the Commercial Information Office of the Institute, or to the Curators of individual Sections of the Collections, all available information is furnished regarding any particular product exhibited in the Galleries, and samples are supplied in special instances to merchants and others. Enquiries as to possible supplies (and their probable cost) in any specific case, or for other special information desired, are dealt with promptly if made in writing.]

to the Honorary Director of the Institute. The assistance of the Government Authorities of the Colonies is invoked to ensure that the Collections of natural and manufactured products, and full information regarding their contents, shall be maintained up to the day.]

INDIA

(For further particulars see "Parliamentary Return of the Imperial Institute, Indian Section, August, 1899—" Eyre and Spottiswoode, London)

ACONITES

A chemical examination has been made of the constituents of the principal varieties of aconite indigenous to India. The medicinally active constituent has been examined, its chemical composition and properties defined, and its exact medicinal action ascertained. Several papers on the subject have been already published (see Addendum) relating to Aconitum ferox, Aconitum heterophyllum, and Aconitum Fischeri.

TOBACCO

A consignment of specially-prepared tobacco was sent from Tirhoot for chemical analysis and commercial valuation, with a view to the satisfactory sale of the consignment. The results of its analysis, together with a sample of the tobacco, were submitted to a number of tobacco manufacturers and brokers, and the consignment was afterwards sold at a fair price.

Arrangements are now being made for a systematic examination of the different varieties of tobacco grown in India, with a view to the improvement of certain growths.

OPIMUM

A detailed enquiry is being conducted as to the quality of the opium produced in the different opium districts of India. It originated in a request for a chemical examination of opium specially grown in Jeypore, which proved to contain much less morphine and far more narcotine than is usually present in the best Turkey opium medicinally employed in this country.

The same peculiarity is shown by most of the opium produced in India, and the question is being fully investigated with the view of ascertaining the cause of this difference in Indian as compared with Turkey opium and the possibility of improving the Indian product.

If Indian opium could be produced richer in morphine, there is no reason why it should not be medicinally employed in Europe, instead of Turkey opium, and also used as a source of morphine and other alkaloids.

PODOPHYLLUM

A complete chemical examination has been made of the constituents of the Indian podophyllum (Podophyllum emoi). It has been shown in a paper communicated to the Chemical Society (see Addendum) that its constituents are identical with those of American podophyllum (Podophyllum peltatum) which is largely employed in medicine, both in this country and throughout Europe.

Medical trial has completely substantiated the results of the chemical enquiry (see Addendum). It is proved that this plant, which is abundant in India, is a most efficient substitute for the American podophyllum at present employed, and the plant and medicinal preparations made from it have now been included in the "Indian and Colonial Addendum to the British Pharmacopœia."

Incidentally, it was discovered that the Indian plant also contains a yellow dye which might be profitably employed in dyeing, being, in fact, identical with the colouring matter of the well known dye stuff, quercitron bark.

JUTE

An extensive series of samples of jute, collected at different stages of growth and treated under various conditions, are being investigated with the view of securing greater uniformity in the quality of Indian jute fibre.

EDIBLE GUMS

A chemical examination has been made of several Indian gums which seemed likely to be of commercial value as substitutes for gum arabic. The results, together with samples of the gums, were submitted to brokers in this country, who reported on their commercial value, and there have been already commercial enquiries for these gums by manufacturers.

IRON ORES.

Chemical analysis has been made of a number of specimens of Indian iron ores, chiefly magnetite, obtained from the Salom district of Madras. The results have given rise to an important discussion as to the possibility of the ores being profitably smelted in India.

COAL

A chemical and technical examination has been made of representative samples of coal obtained from the principal coal districts of India, including many in which the seams at present are not actively worked. A full description of the composition and characters of the different varieties of Indian coal has been drawn up by Professor Dunstan and issued as a separate paper by the India Office. It is also included in the "Parliamentary Return of the Imperial Institute, Indian Section, August, 1899."

FOOD-GRAINS

All the more important Indian food-grains are being submitted to a complete chemical examination, chiefly by Professor Church, F.R.S., who has already made a number of reports on the subject, dealing with their composition and nutritive value.

FIBRES

A large number of Indian fibres have been chemically examined, and afterwards examined by fibre experts. The results have been communicated to the Indian Government, so that suitable action might be taken in those cases in which it seems desirable. Among these fibres are Pine-apple, Sabar, Tacca, Madar, Ban Reha, the fibre of Phoenix paludosa, and the floss of Calotropis procera.

TIMBERS

The mechanical properties of Pyinma wood have been carefully tested by Professor Unwin, F.R.S., with a view to its application in engineering and building construction.

TANNING MATERIALS

Systematic chemical examination is being conducted of the principal plants now used, as well as those which seem likely to be applicable in tanning. Those which prove to be rich in tanning are afterwards submitted for trial in the tan-yards. In this way a large number of astringent plants are being investigated, and reports on the tanning value of the following classes have already been made — Myrobalans, Mangroves, and the Cæsalpinias.

At the instance of the Indian Government, the question of the best method of preparing extracts of tanning agents is being carefully enquired into, with the object of rendering available the enormous supply of astringent plants which are abundant in the forests of India.

Much interest in this matter has been taken by tanners in this country, and the whole subject promises to be a most important one from a commercial point of view.

EDIBLE OILS

An extensive series of samples of the principal edible oils of India having been made under the direction of Dr Watt, each oil has been subjected to systematic chemical examination and compared with oils of the same type which command a ready sale in this country. The composition and chief properties of these oils have now been put on record (see Addendum), and many of them are likely to be commercially important.

DYE-STUFFS

The principal Indian dye materials are being investigated with the assistance of Professor Hummel and Mr. A. G. Perkin, of the Dyeing Department, Yorkshire College, Leeds. An account of the dyeing properties of Delphinium Zaili has already been given, whilst the constituents of "Kamala" have been investigated and a description of its adulterants provided, which, it is hoped, will lead to the export from India of this dyeing material in a purer condition.

MEDICINAL PLANTS.

It is most important that the numerous plants abundant in India and held there in high repute as medicinal agents should be completely investigated, both as regards their principal constituents and their medicinal value. It has been shown from an examination of an Indian henbane, Hyoscyamus muticus, that this plant contains a valuable alkaloid (hyoscyamine) in a form in which it can be more readily isolated from the other plants which are now resorted to for this purpose (see Addendum).

The constituents of Indian hemp are also being examined, with the object of ascertaining the cause of, and, if possible, of providing a remedy for, the rapid deterioration in quality which this drug undergoes when stored.

A number of samples of Indian kino have been examined, and reports as to their commercial value obtained. Suggestions have been made for the better collection and export of the drug to this country.

INDIA RUBBER AND GUTTA PERCHA.

A chemical examination is being made of the constituents of the latexes which furnish these products and of similar latexes, possible substitutes for India rubber and gutta percha. A chemical examination has been made, and commercial valuation obtained of various samples of rubber produced in India with a view to their improvement.

MINFRAIS.

A number of samples of mica have been forwarded from Jeypore for the purpose of ascertaining their fitness for the various purposes for which mica is industrially employed. The samples were judged to be inferior, and the authorities of Jeypore have been provided with a complete statement of the quality and character which mica should possess in order to command a satisfactory price in the English market.

A large number of specimens of 'lime-stones', chiefly from Madras, have been submitted to examination in order to determine their fitness for use in the smelting of iron.

CANADA

CANADIAN HONEY.

This honey was chemically examined and compared with the best honey sold in the English markets, in order to estimate its suitability for sale in this country. The result was not wholly favourable, and defects in the product were pointed out to the Board of Agriculture. These have now been remedied, and large shipments have since been made to this country.

SWEET CLOVER FIBRE.

A sample of this fibre, stated to be derived from Menlotus alba, or sweet clover, which is very plentiful in some districts of the Province of Quebec, was submitted by the Minister of Agriculture, and chemically examined in the Department and also by fibre experts. The valuable properties of the fibre were pointed out and suggestions made for its utilisation.

METHODS OF GRADING WHEAT.

A memorandum on the elaborate methods in use on the Continent in grading and analysing wheat was drawn up for the guidance of Canadian millers who had applied for the information.

CANADIAN GRAPHITE.

Several samples of graphite were submitted to brokers for valuation on the basis of the results of chemical analysis. They proved to be inferior to the graphite at present obtained from Ceylon.

CANADIAN FELSPAR.

A sample from a new deposit of Canadian felspar was analysed and shown to be soda felspar. The material was next successfully tried in several potteries, and consignments of the felspar have since been exported to this country.

CANADIAN MICA.

A report on the special characteristics and commercial value of Canadian amber mica and its application for electrical purposes.

CANADIAN SUMACH.

The chemical constituents of this plant, which is abundant in Canada, have been examined and its value as a tanning agent determined by actual trial in a large tannery. The results were in some respects very satisfactory, and a number of suggestions were made as to the cultivation and preparation of the plant for use in tanning. The report was illustrated with samples of leather tanned with the sumach.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 0.03 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1.0° lower, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

$\Delta$ , dew,  $\circ$ , overcast;  $\delta$ , gloomy,  $p$ , passing temporary showers;  $t$ , thunder,  $\Delta$ , lightning.

- (d) In settling any question under this section, an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such street, railway, tramway, or canal, and may, if he thinks fit, require the undertakers to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid any interference with any traffic, so far as may be possible
- (e) Where no such requisition, as in this section mentioned, is served upon the undertakers, or where after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the undertakers may, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them or settled by arbitration as aforesaid, cause to be executed the works specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid, and may from time to time repair, renew, and amend the same (provided that their character and position are not altered), but subject in all respects to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof respectively as may have been settled by arbitration as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties

The Local Government, local authority, and any body or person for the time being liable to repair any street or part of a street, or entitled to work any railway or tramway, which the undertakers may be empowered to break up for the purposes of this license may, if they think fit, from time to time, serve a notice upon the undertakers, stating that they desire to exercise or discharge all or any part of any of the powers or duties of the undertakers as therein specified in relation to the breaking up, filling in, reinstating, or making good any streets, bridges, sewers, drains, tunnels, or other works vested in, or under, the control or management of the Local Government, or the local authority, or other body or person, as the case may be, and may from time to time amend or revoke any such notice by another notice similarly served. Where the Local Government, the local authority, or any such body or person as aforesaid (in this section referred to as the "givers of the notice") have given notice that they desire to exercise or discharge any such specified powers and duties of the undertakers, then so long as such notice remains in force the following provisions shall have effect, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested —

- (a) The undertakers shall not be entitled to proceed themselves to exercise or discharge any such specified powers or duties as aforesaid, except where they have required the givers of the notice, to exercise or discharge such powers or duties, and the givers of the notice have refused or neglected to comply with such requisition as hereinafter provided or in cases of emergency

- (c) Upon receipt of any such requisition as last aforesaid, the givers of the notice may proceed to exercise or discharge any such powers or duties as required by the undertakers subject to the like restrictions and conditions as the undertakers would themselves be subject to in such exercise or discharge, so far as the same may be applicable
- (d) If the givers of the notice decline, or for twenty-four hours after the time when any such exercise or discharge of any powers or duties is by any requisition required to be commenced, neglect to comply with such requisition, the undertakers may themselves proceed to exercise or discharge the powers or duties therein specified in like manner as they might have done if such notice as aforesaid had not been given to them by the givers of the notice
- (e) In any case of emergency the undertakers may themselves proceed to at once exercise or discharge so much of any such specified powers or duties as aforesaid as may be necessary for the actual remedying of any defect from which the emergency arises without serving any requisition on the givers of the notice, but in such case the undertakers shall, within twelve hours after they begin to exercise or discharge such powers or duties as aforesaid, give information thereof in writing to the givers of the notice.

- (f) If the undertakers exercise or discharge any such specified powers or duties as aforesaid, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day, during which such offence continues provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the the circumstances

If the undertakers fail to give any such security within seven days after being required to do so, or in case of difference after the delivery of the arbitrators' award, they shall not be entitled to serve any further requisition upon such givers of the notice, requiring them to exercise or discharge any power or duties under this section until such security has been duly given

Provided that nothing in this or the last preceding section shall in any way affect the rights of the undertakers to exercise or discharge any powers or duties conferred or imposed upon them by this license or the Act in relation to the execution of any works beyond the actual breaking up, filling in, reinstating or making good any such street or part of a street, or any such bridges, sewers, drains, tunnels or other works, or railway or tramway as in this section mentioned.

15 The undertakers may from time to time alter the position of any pipes (not forming part of any main sewer of the local authority) or any wires being under any street or place authorized to be broken up by them which may interfere with the exercise of their powers under the Act or this license, and any body or person may in like manner alter the position of any electric lines or works of the undertakers, being under any such street or place as aforesaid, which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such body or person in relation to such street or place subject to the following provisions, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested—

- (a) Fourteen days before commencing any such alteration the undertakers, or such body or person (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the operators" shall serve a notice upon the body or person for the time being entitled to such pipes, wires, electric lines, or works (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the owners" describing the proposed alteration, and stating the amount of compensation (if any), proposed to be made in respect thereof, and the manner in which such compensation (if any) is proposed to be paid or secured, together with a plan showing the manner in which it is intended that such alterations shall be made, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, from time to time, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire

- (b) Within seven days after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, such owners, may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the operators requiring that any question in relation to such works or any other question arising upon such notice or plan as aforesaid shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon such question shall be settled by arbitration accordingly
- (c) In settling any question under this section an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such pipes, wires, electric lines or works, and may, if he thinks fit, require the operators to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid interference with any purpose for which such pipes, wires, electric lines or works are used so far as may be possible
- (d) Where no such requisition as in this section mentioned is served upon the operators, the owners shall be held to have agreed to the notice or plan served on them as aforesaid, and in such case, or where after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the operators, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them or settled by arbitration as aforesaid, may cause the alterations specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid to be made, but subject in all respects to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid or such modifications thereof respectively as may have been settled by arbitration as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties
- (e) At any time before any operators are entitled to commence any such alterations as aforesaid, the owners may serve a statement upon the operators stating that they desire to execute such alterations themselves, and where any such statement has been served upon the operators, they shall not be entitled to proceed themselves to execute such alteration, except where they have notified to such owners that they require them to execute such alterations, and such owners have refused or neglected to comply with such notification as hereinafter provided
- (f) Where any such statement as last aforesaid has been served upon the operators, they shall, not more than forty eight hours and not less than twenty-four hours before the execution of such alterations is required to be commenced, serve a notification upon the owners stating the time when such alterations are required to be commenced and the manner in which such alterations are required to be made
- (g) Upon receipt of any such notification as last aforesaid, the owners may proceed to execute such alterations as required by the operators, subject to the like restrictions and conditions as the operators would themselves be subject to in executing such alterations, so far as the same may be applicable
- (h) If the owners decline or, for twenty four hours after the time when any such alterations are required to be commenced, neglect to comply with such notification, the operators may themselves proceed to execute such alterations in like manner as they might have done, if no such statement as aforesaid had been served upon them

- (i) All expenses properly incurred by any owners in complying with any notification of any operators under the last preceding sub sections shall be repaid to them by such operators, and may be recovered summarily before a court of summary jurisdiction, which shall have power to determine the amount thereof
- (j) Any owners may, if they think fit by any statement served by them upon any operators under this section, require the operators to give them such security for the repayment to them of any expenses to be incurred by them in executing any alterations as above mentioned as may be agreed upon between such owners and operators, or in default of agreement as may be determined by arbitration, and where any operators have been so required to give security they shall not be entitled to serve a notification upon the owners requiring them to execute such alterations until such security has been duly given
- (k) If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act) make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss, damage, or penalty which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such additional penalties as aforesaid, if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances

16. Whenever the undertakers require to dig or sink

Laying of electric lines, &c, near pipes for Gas or Water and near sewers, drains, &c

any trench for laying down any new electric lines (other than service lines), or other works near to which any pipe, sewer, drain, water course, defence, or work under the jurisdiction or control of the Local Government, or of any local authority or belonging to any duly authorized body or person, or any branch or service pipe for the supply of gas or water has been lawfully placed, or whenever any duly authorized body or person requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new mains or pipes other than service pipes or other apparatus near to which any lines or works of the undertakers have been lawfully placed, the undertakers or such duly authorized body or person (as the case may be) in this section referred to as the "operators" shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized body or person or to the undertakers (as the case may be) in this section referred to as the "owners" not more than forty-eight hours and not less than twenty-four hours' notice before commencing to dig or sink such trench as aforesaid, and such owners shall be entitled by their officer to superintend the digging or sinking of such trench, and the operators shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may from time to time be made by the owners or such officer for the protection of every such sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line, or work, and for securing the same from injury, and they shall also, if required to do so by the owners thereof, repair any damage that may be done thereto

If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to all owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such penalty if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section, as far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the operators were ignorant of the position of the sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line or work affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the operators

17 Seven days before commencing to lay down, or place, any electric line, or to use any electric line in any manner, whereby the work of telegraphic or telephonic or electric signalling communication through any wire or line lawfully laid down or placed in any position, may be injuriously affected, the undertakers shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the owner of such wire or line, notice in writing, specifying the course, nature, and gauge of such electric line, and the manner in which such electric line is intended to be used and the amount and nature of the currents intended to be transmitted thereby, and the extent to, and manner in which (if at all), earth returns are proposed to be used, and any owner entitled to receive such notice, may, from time to time, serve a requisition on the undertakers requiring them to adopt such precautions as may be therein specified in regard to the laying, placing or user of such electric line, for the purpose of preventing such injurious affection, and the undertakers shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may be made by such owner for the purpose of preventing the communication through such wire or line from being injuriously affected, as aforesaid

If any difference arises between any such owner and the undertakers with respect to the reasonableness of any requirements so made, such difference shall be determined by arbitration

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to repairs or renewals of any electric line, so long as the course, nature, and gauge of such electric line, and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby, are not altered

If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to the body or person entitled to any such wire or line for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every such default, and in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the undertakers were ignorant of the position of the wires or lines affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the undertakers

Compulsory works

18 The undertakers shall within a period of two years after the commencement of this license lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every street or part of a street specified in that behalf in the second schedule, and shall thereafter maintain the same

19 In addition to the mains specified in the last preceding section, the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of eighteen months, after the commencement of this license, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every other street or part of a street within the area of supply upon being required to do so in manner by this license provided

All such mains as last above mentioned shall be laid down by the undertakers within six months after any requisition in that behalf served upon them in accordance with the provisions of this license has become binding upon them, or such further time as may in any case be approved of by the Local Government

20 If the undertakers make default in laying down any mains in accordance with the provisions of this license within the periods prescribed in that behalf respectively, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees in respect of each such default for each day during which such default continues, and if the Local Government are of opinion in any case that such default is wilful and unreasonably prolonged, they may themselves or upon the application of the local authority, revoke this license as to the whole or, with the consent of the undertakers, any part of the area of supply, or, if the undertakers so desire, may, after having given an opportunity to the local authority to make representations and objections with reference thereto, suffer the same to remain in force as to such area or part thereof, subject to such conditions as they may think fit to impose, and any conditions so imposed shall be binding on, and observed by, the undertakers, and shall be of the like force and effect in every respect as though they were contained in the license

21 Any requisition requiring the undertakers to lay down distributing mains for the purpose of general supply throughout any street or part of a street under the last preceding sections may be made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises along such street or part of a street, or, where the Local Government or the local authority has the control and management of the public lamps in such street or part of a street, by the Local Government or the local authority

Every such requisition shall be signed by the owners and occupiers making such requisition or by the Local Government or the local authority (as the case may be), and shall be served upon the undertakers

Forms of requisition shall be kept by the undertakers at their office, and a copy shall be supplied free of charge to any owner or occupier of premises within the area of supply and to the Local Government and the local authority on applying for the same, and any requisition so supplied shall be deemed valid in point of form

22 When any such requisition is made by any such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the undertakers (if they think fit) may, within fourteen days after the service of the requisition upon them, serve a notice on all the persons by whom such requisition is signed, stating that they decline to be bound by such requisition, unless such persons or some of them will bind themselves to take a supply of energy for three years of such amount in the aggregate (to be specified by the undertakers in such notice) as will, at the rates of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy from distributing mains to ordinary consumers within the area of supply, produce annually such reasonable sum as shall be specified by the undertakers in such notice provided that in such notice the undertakers shall not be required to specify any sum amounting to less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing and laying down the required distributing mains, and any other mains or additions to existing mains which may be necessary for the purpose of connecting such distributing mains with the nearest available source of supply

Where such notice is served the requisition shall not be binding on the undertakers, unless within fourteen days after the service of such notice on all the persons signing the requisition has been effected, or in the case of difference the delivery of the arbitrator's award, there be tendered to the undertakers an agreement severally executed by such persons or some of them, binding them to take for a period of three years at the least such specified amounts of energy respectively, as will in the aggregate at the rates of charge above specified produce an annual sum amounting to not less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing and laying down such distributing mains or other mains as above mentioned, nor unless sufficient security for the payment to the undertakers of all moneys which may become due to them from such persons under such agreement is offered to the undertakers (if required by them by such notice as aforesaid) within the period limited for the tender of the agreement as aforesaid

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any persons signing any such requisition as to the reasonableness of the amount specified by the undertakers in their notice, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered to them under the section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration

23 Where any such requisition is made by the Local Government or the local authority, it shall not be binding on the undertakers, unless the street or part of a street in respect of which such requisition is made actually adjoins a street already supplied with distributing mains or unless the Local Government or local authority agree to bear the cost of any other main or any addition to existing mains which may be necessary for the purpose of connecting such distributing main with the nearest available source of supply or unless at the time when such service is effected or within fourteen days thereafter there be tendered to the undertakers (if required by them), an agreement executed by the Local Government or the local authority, and binding them to take for a period of three years at the least a supply of energy for lighting such public lamps in the street or part of a street in respect of which such requisition is made as may be under their management or control

24 The undertakers shall forthwith, after commencing to supply energy under this license, cause a map to be made of the area of supply on a horizontal scale of at least one inch to 88 feet, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line of all their then existing mains service lines, and other underground works and distributing boxes, and shall once in every year cause such map to be corrected and such additions to be made thereto as will show the line of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and distributing boxes

25 Every map so made or corrected for the undertakers or a copy thereof, with the date expressed thereon of deposit and inspection of maps shall be kept by the undertakers at their principal office within the area of supply, and a copy of every such map shall, within one month after such map is made or corrected, be served by the undertakers upon the Local Government and upon the local authority

Every copy of the said map, as last corrected, which may be served upon the local authority, shall be kept by them at their office, and shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of all applicants, and such applicants may take copies of the same or any part thereof. The local authority may demand and take from every such applicant as aforesaid such fee not exceeding one rupee for each inspection of such map or copy, and such further fee not exceeding one rupee for each copy of the same, or any part thereof, taken by such applicant as they may from time to time prescribe.

26 If the undertakers fail to comply with any of the requirements of the last preceding sections of this license with respect to maps, they shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day after the first day during which such offence continues

27 The Local Government may from time to time appoint, and keep appointed, one or more competent and impartial persons to be electric inspectors for the purpose of inspecting electric lines and works and of certifying meters under this license

28 The Local Government shall pay to every electric inspector appointed under this license such reasonable remuneration (if any) as they may from time to time determine, and such remuneration may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any fees which are directed to be paid to electric inspectors for services rendered by them under this license as may be settled by the authority by whom such remuneration is determined. Provided that where any such remuneration is settled to be in substitution for such fees as aforesaid, such fees shall, in lieu of being paid to such electric inspector for his own use, be due and paid to him on behalf and for the use of the Local Government, and shall be deposited by them in the public treasury

29 Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by the authority by whom he is appointed, shall from time to time test for insulation and conductivity any portion of any main of the undertakers within the area of supply through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied by them - Provided that such testings shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government

30 Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by any person supplied with energy by the undertakers, shall from time to time test for insulation and conductivity any service lines by which such energy is supplied and the efficiency of any joints in such service lines as may from time to time be approved of by the Local Government

31 Notice shall be given to the undertakers before the commencement of any testing by an electric inspector, and such testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of such inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the undertakers and in such manner as such inspector may think expedient, but except under the provisions of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government, he shall not be entitled to have access to or interfere with the mains of the undertakers at any points other than those at which the undertakers have reserved for themselves access to the said mains. Provided that the undertakers shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by or required by such inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid.

32 Every electric inspector shall, on the day immediately following that on which any testing has been completed by him under this license, make and deliver a report of the results of his testing to the authority or person by whom he was required to make such testing and to the undertakers, and such report shall be receivable in evidence.

If the undertakers or any authority, company, or person are or is dissatisfied with any report of any electric inspector, they may appeal to the Local Government against such report, and thereupon the Local Government shall enquire into and decide upon the matter of any such appeal, and their decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

33 The undertakers shall at such places, within a reasonable distance from any distributing main, establish at their own cost such reasonable number of testing stations as the Local Government shall deem sufficient for testing the supply of energy by the undertakers through such main, and shall place thereat proper and suitable instruments of a pattern to be approved by the Local Government, and shall connect such stations by means of proper and sufficient electric lines with such mains, and supply energy thereto for the purpose of such testing.

34. The undertakers shall set up and keep upon all premises from which they supply energy by any distributing mains, such suitable and proper instruments of such pattern and construction as may be from time to time approved of or prescribed by the Local Government, and shall from time to time take and record, and keep recorded, such observations as the Local Government from time to time prescribe, and any observations so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

35 The undertakers shall keep in efficient working order all instruments which they are required by the under this license to place, set up, or keep at any testing station or on their own premises, and any electric inspector appointed under this license may from time to time examine and record the readings of such instruments at such times and in such manner as he may be directed by the authority by whom he is appointed, and any readings so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

36 Any electric inspector appointed under this license shall have the right to have access at all reasonable hours to the testing places and premises of the undertakers for the purpose of testing the electric lines and instruments of the undertakers, and ascertaining if the same are in order, and in case the same are not in order, he may require the undertakers forthwith to have the same put in order.

37. The undertakers may, if they think fit, on each occasion of the testing of any main or service line, or the testing or inspection of any instruments of the undertakers by any electric inspector be represented by some officer or other agent, but such officer or agent shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

38 All expenses of testing by an electric inspector, including such reasonable fees to the electric inspector as may from time to time be prescribed in that behalf by the local authority, with the approval of the Local Government, shall be paid by the undertakers, unless the report of the electric inspector, or, in the case of an appeal, the decision of the Local Government shows that the local authority or any body or person supplied with energy was guilty of any default or negligence, and in such case the expenses of the testing, including such fees as aforesaid, shall be ascertained by a court of competent jurisdiction and paid by such local authority, body, or person as the court shall direct.

39. The undertakers shall afford all facilities for the proper execution of this license with respect to testing and the readings and inspection of instruments, and shall comply with all the requirements of or under this license in that behalf, and in case the undertakers make default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees and in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding ten rupees for every day after the first day during which such offence continues.

40. If at any time it appears to the Local Government that any mains, electric lines, or works of the undertakers are defective and not in accordance with the regulations and conditions subject to which the undertakers are for the time being authorized to supply energy under this license, the Local Government may, by order in writing, require the undertakers to remedy such defect so as to comply with such regulations and conditions within such period as may be therein limited in that behalf, and if the undertakers make default in remedying such defect within the time so limited, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees for every day during which such default continues provided that if such defect is, in the opinion of the Local Government, dangerous to public safety, they may also by any such order as aforesaid forbid the use of such main, electric line, or work as from such date as may be specified in that behalf until the defect is remedied, and if the undertakers make use of any such main, electric line, or work, while the use thereof is so forbidden, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand rupees for every day during which such user continues.

SUPPLY

41. The undertakers shall, upon being required to do so by the owners or occupier of any premises situate within fifty yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are for the time being required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply to private consumers under this license or any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorized to supply energy under this license, give and continue to give a supply of energy for such premises in accordance with the provisions of this license and of all such regulations and conditions as aforesaid, and they shall furnish and lay any electric lines that may be necessary for the purpose of supplying the maximum power with which any such owner or occupier may be entitled to be supplied under this license, subject to the conditions following (that is to say), the cost of so much of any electric line for the supply of energy to any owner or occupier as may be laid upon the property of such owner or in the possession of such occupier, and of so much of any such electric lines as may be laid for a greater distance than sixty feet from any distributing main of the undertakers, although not on such property, shall be defrayed by such owner or occupier.

42. Every owner or occupier of premises requiring a supply of energy shall

(a) serve a notice upon the undertakers, specifying the premises in respect of which such supply is required and the maximum power required to be supplied, and the day (not being an earlier day than a reasonable time after the date of the service of such notice) upon which such supply is required to commence: and

(b) enter into a written contract with the undertakers (if required by them so to do) to continue to receive and pay for a supply of energy for a period of at least three years of such an amount that the rent payable for the same at the rate of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy to ordinary consumers within the area of supply shall not be less than twenty rupees per centum per annum on the outlay incurred by the undertakers in providing any electric lines required to be provided by them for the purpose of such supply and give to the undertakers (if required by them so to do) security for the payment to them of all moneys which may from time to time become due to them by such owner or occupier in respect of any electric lines to be furnished by the undertakers, and in respect of energy to be supplied by them

Provided always that the undertakers may, after they have given a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier of such premises, within seven days after the date of the service of such notice, to give to them security for the payment of all moneys which may from time to time become due to them in respect of such supply, in case such owner or occupier has not already given such security, or in case any security given has become invalid or is insufficient; and in case any such owner or occupier fail to comply with the terms of such notice, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues

Provided also that if the owner or occupier of any such premises as aforesaid uses any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the undertakers for any purposes or deals with it in any manner so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the efficient supply of energy to any other body or person by the undertakers, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy to such premises so long as such user continues

Provided also that the undertakers shall not be compelled to give a supply of energy to any premises unless they are reasonably satisfied that the electric lines, fittings, and works therein are in good order and condition, and not calculated to affect injuriously the use of energy by the undertakers or by other persons

Provided also that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric lines, fittings, or works within such premises as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the undertakers by the owner or occupier before being connected to the source of supply with a view to their being examined and tested

If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to the reasonableness of the amount of any security required to be given, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered under this section, or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any lines, fittings, or works, such difference shall be determined by arbitration

43 The maximum power with which any such consumer shall be entitled to be supplied shall be of such amount as he may from time to time require to be supplied with, not exceeding what may be reasonably anticipated as the maximum consumption on his premises

Provided that where any consumer has required the undertakers to supply him with a maximum power of any specified amount, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum, except upon one month's notice to the undertakers, and any expenses incurred by the undertakers in respect of the service lines, by which energy is supplied to the premises of such consumer or any fittings or apparatus of the undertakers upon such premises, consequent upon such alteration, shall be paid by him to the undertakers, and may be recovered summarily as a civil debt

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to the public lamps to which they may be and are required to supply energy under this license, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees in respect of every such default for each such lamp and for each day during which any such default occurs

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy in accordance with the terms of any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorised to supply energy under this license, they shall be liable to such penalties as may by such regulations and conditions be prescribed in that behalf

Provided always that when such default is due to cyclones or floods or storms or other causes not under the control of, or due to default of, the undertakers, no penalty shall be enforced if the undertakers show due diligence in resuming the supply

Provided that the penalties to be inflicted on the undertakers under this section shall in no case exceed in the aggregate the sum of five hundred rupees in respect of any defaults not being wilful defaults on the part of the undertakers for any one day and provided also that in no case shall any penalty be inflicted in respect of any default if the Court having cognisance of the case shall be of opinion that such default was caused by inevitable accident or force majeure, or was of so slight or unimportant a character as not materially to affect the value of the supply

PRICE

46 The undertakers may charge for energy supplied by them to any ordinary consumer (otherwise than by agreement)—

- (1) by the actual amount of energy so supplied, or
- (2) by the electrical amount contained in such supply, or, unless the Local Government from time to time otherwise direct,
- (3) by the number of hours during which the supply of energy is actually used by such consumer, and the maximum power with which he is for the time being entitled to be supplied

Provided that before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the undertakers shall give notice to the Local Government and to the local authority by what method they propose to charge for energy supplied through such main and, where the undertakers have given any such notice, they, shall not be entitled to change such method of charging, except after one month's notice of such change has been given by them to the Local Government and the local authority and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by them from such main.

Provided also that when the undertakers have given notice to any consumer of charging him by the number of hours, and the maximum power in manner above described, such consumer, if he objects to that method of charge, may by one month's notice in writing require the undertakers to charge him by the actual quantity of energy supplied, to him, and thereafter the undertakers shall not, except with the consumer's consent, charge him by any other method.

47 The prices to be charged by the undertakers for energy supplied by them shall not exceed those stated in that behalf in the fourth schedule in the first, second, and third sections thereof respectively. Provided that if the Local Government are of opinion that, or the local authority, or the undertakers shall at any time, after the expiration of seven years after the commencement of this licence, make a representation to the Local Government that, the prices or methods of charge stated in the said schedule ought to be altered, the Local Government, after such enquiry as they may think fit, may make an order varying the prices or methods of charge in lieu thereof, and the prices or methods of charge so varied or substituted shall have effect on and after such day as may be mentioned in the order as if they had been stated in the said schedule. Provided also that the prices and methods of charge for the time being in force may be altered in like manner at any time after the expiration of any or every period of seven years after the same were last altered.

48 Subject to the provisions of this licence and of the principal Act, and the right of the consumer to require that he shall be charged according to some one or other of the methods above mentioned in cases where he is entitled to require a supply, the undertakers may make any agreement with a consumer as to the price to be charged for energy, and the mode in which such charges are to be ascertained, and may charge accordingly.

49 The price to be charged by the undertakers and to be paid to them for all energy supplied to the public lamps, and the mode in which such charges shall be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the Local Government or local authority and the undertakers as the case may be, and in the event of difference, by arbitration, regard being had to the circumstances of the case and the distributing or other mains (if any) which may have to be laid for the purpose and the prices charged to ordinary consumers in the district.

METERS AND APPARATUS

50. The energy supplied by the undertakers to any ordinary consumers under this licence, or the electrical quantity contained in such supply (according to the method by which the undertakers elect to charge) in this licence referred to as "the value of the supply," shall, except as otherwise agreed between such consumer and the undertakers, be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter duly certified under the provisions of this licence.

51 A meter shall be considered to be duly certified under the provisions of this licence if it be certified by an electric inspector appointed under this licence to be of some construction and pattern and to have been fixed and to have been connected with the service lines in some manner approved of by the Local Government, and to be a correct meter, and every such meter is in this licence referred to as a "certified meter." Provided that where any alteration is made in any certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed or disconnected from the service lines, such meter shall cease to be a certified meter unless and until it be again certified as a certified meter under the provisions of this license

52 Every electric inspector, who may be required by the undertakers or by any consumer to examine any meter for the purpose of certifying the same as a certified meter under the provisions of this license, shall be entitled to demand from the undertakers or consumer so requiring him, and to be paid such fees as may from time to time be determined in that behalf by the Local Government before commencing such examination, and every electric inspector shall, upon being required so to do by the undertakers or any such consumer as aforesaid, examine any meter situate within the district for which he is appointed if such fees are offered to him as aforesaid, and shall certify the same as a certified meter if he considers it entitled to be so certified.

53 Where the value of the supply is under this license required to be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, the undertakers shall, if required so to do by the consumer, supply him with an appropriate meter, and shall, if required so to do, fix the same upon the premises of the consumer, and connect the service lines therewith, and procure such meter to be duly certified under the provisions of this license, and for such purposes may authorise and empower any officer or person to enter upon such premises, and execute all necessary works and do all necessary acts. Provided that previously to supplying any such meter the undertakers may require such consumer to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the price of such meter, or to give security therefor, or may require him to enter into an agreement for the hire of such meter as hereinafter provided, and also to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the expenses of fixing such meter and connecting it with the service lines, and procuring the same to be certified under this license

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any consumer under this section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

54 No consumer shall connect any meter used or to be used under this license for ascertaining the value of the supply with any electric line through which energy is supplied by the undertakers, or disconnect any such meter from any such electric line, unless he has given to the undertakers not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention so to do, and if any person acts in contravention of this section, he shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees

55 Every consumer of energy supplied by the undertakers shall at all times at his own expense keep all meters belonging to him, whereby the value of the supply is under this license to be ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering such value, and in default of his so doing the undertakers may cease to supply energy through such meter

The undertakers shall have access to and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect, and replace any such meter at all reasonable times. Provided that all reasonable expenses of and incident to any such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring such meter to be again duly certified where such recertifying is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter be found to be not in proper order, be paid by the consumer, but if the same be in proper order, all expenses connected therewith shall be paid by the undertakers

56. The undertakers may let for hire any meter for ascertaining the value of the supply, and any fittings thereto, and any other apparatus required for their undertaking, for such remuneration in money, and on such terms with respect to the repair of such meter or apparatus and fittings, and for securing the safety and return to the undertakers of such meter or apparatus and fittings as may be agreed upon between the hirer and the undertakers, or in case of difference be decided by the Local Government, and such remuneration shall be recoverable by the undertakers summarily as a civil debt.

57 The undertakers shall, unless the agreement of hire otherwise provides, at all times at their own expense, keep all meters let for hire by them to any consumer, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained in proper order for correctly registering such value, and in default of their so doing the consumer shall not be liable to pay rent for the same during such time as such default continues. The undertakers shall for the purposes aforesaid have access to and be at liberty to remove, test, inspect, and replace any such meter at all reasonable times. Provided that the expenses of procuring any such meter to be again duly certified where such recertifying is thereby rendered necessary shall be paid by the undertakers.

58 If any difference arises between any consumer and the undertakers as to whether the value of the supply is ascertained (whether belonging to such consumer or the undertakers) is or is not in proper order for correctly registering such value, or as to whether such value has been correctly registered in any case by any meter, such difference shall be determined upon the application of either party by an electric inspector, or, where the Local Government are the consumers, by an officer to be appointed by the Local Government, who shall also order by which of the parties the costs of the proceedings before him shall be paid, and the decision of such inspector or officer shall be final and binding on all parties. Subject as aforesaid, the register of the meter shall be conclusive evidence in the absence of fraud of the value of the supply.

59 Where any consumer who is supplied with energy by the undertakers from any distributing main is provided with a certified meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply and the undertakers change the method of charging for energy supplied by them from such main, the undertakers shall pay to such consumer the reasonable expenses to which he may be put in providing a new meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to such new method of charging, and such expenses may be recovered by the consumer from the undertakers summarily as a civil debt.

60 In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of any consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the undertakers may from time to time place upon his premises such meter or other apparatus as they may desire for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to such consumer, or the number of hours during which such supply is given, or the maximum amount of such supply, or any other quantity or time connected therewith. Provided that such meter shall be of some construction and pattern, and shall be fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the Local Government, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the undertakers, and shall not, except by agreement, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the undertakers and the terminals on the consumer's premises at which the supply is given.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

Prospectus for Admission

This School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2 The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60, of whom only 15 can be other than Biharis by race (viz, natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar), but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar in that order.

3 The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers

The curriculum includes—

- (1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics
- (2) Careful training in Survey work.
- (3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering
- (4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings
- (5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and with machinery

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed, and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be a Bihari by race

4 The next Session will commence on 7th July 1902

5 In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re 1-8. All scholarship holders, however receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English

6 Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below—

- (1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University, in English and Mathematics
- (2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools
- (3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 11th and 15th July respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day)

7 Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars—

- (a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian
- (b) Race and religion, and evidence to show that he is either a Bihari or a native of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, or a domiciled Bengali
- (c) A certificate of good moral character
- (d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age)
- (e) A medical certificate, showing him to be fit for employment in the public service
- (f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending, till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal

8 There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re 1. An Amin student is taught Elementary Surveying with a corresponding amount of Mathematics and of Geometrical Drawing. He will not be admitted to the Workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of Elementary Surveying, and the other subjects taught in the Amin class, may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate

9 Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the Session that commences 7th July 1902, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1902

10 Every candidate for admission to the School must bring a certificate of good character from the Head of the Institution from which he has come

11 All candidates for admission to the School should present themselves personally at the School on the 7th July.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY asked —

Will the Government be pleased to take early steps to secure the affiliation of the Bihar School of Engineering to the Calcutta University in accordance with a memorial submitted some time ago by residents of Bihar?

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON replied —

"The proposal for affiliation of the Bihar School of Engineering to the Calcutta University in the First Engineering Standard will, it is understood, be discussed by the Faculty of Engineering of the University on the 3rd April.

"Until the recommendation of the Faculty of Engineering is received Government can take no action."

THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH IN SCHOOLS.

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY asked —

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the Office Memorandum, dated the 12th June, 1901, issued by the Director of Public Instruction to all schools and colleges, enjoining that English can only be first taught in the new Standard IV formed under Government Resolution, No 1 of the 1st January, 1901, which corresponds to Class VII (Section A) of high schools (i.e., a boy must be for four to six years in the lower classes in a high school before he can be taught English), and that even then it is to be taught only as a second language for some considerable time, i.e., up to and including Standard VI, which corresponds to Class V of high class schools, and that English is to be the medium of instruction in high schools from the fourth class and upwards?

It is to be noted that the number of classes in high class schools, excluding the two infant classes, is eleven. It is apprehended that the effect of the new scheme will be—

- (a) to prolong the period of a boy's tuition in a high class school to 11 or 13 years, according as the two infant classes are included or not,
- (b) to contract the period of the boy's instruction in English practically to four years,
- (c) to lower the standard of efficiency in English, which, in the opinion of educational experts, is already too low.

Will the Government be pleased to consider the merits of the scheme in the light of the above considerations, and pass such orders as it may think proper in the interests of higher education?

In the event of the Government not recalling or modifying the above-mentioned Circular of the Director of Public Instruction, will it be pleased to consider the advisability of suspending its operation till the Resolution of the Government of India on the report of the Indian Universities Commission, which is expected to deal with education in all its branches, is issued?

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON replied —

"The instructions issued by the Director are in accordance with the orders issued in the Resolution of this Government, No. 1, dated the 1st January, 1901, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette.

"The reasons for the new rules are stated in paragraph 12 of that Resolution, and may briefly be explained to be that boys should make such progress in their mother-tongue as will enable them to express their own ideas and understand the thoughts of others before they proceed to the study of a foreign language.

"The new rules are not likely to postpone the age at which a boy can go up for the Entrance Examination, and will, it is hoped, increase the standard of general knowledge and of efficiency in English

"There does not seem to be any reason for suspending the rules published last year until the report of the Universities Commission shall be received and dealt with."

DISTRICT FUNDS

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, asked —

Will the Government be pleased to state whether the assurances given by the Government of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, namely (1) that District Funds shall be relieved of the burden of maintaining Provincial Roads, (2) that the proceeds of the Road-Cess shall not be devoted to the cost of maintaining dispensaries, veterinary schools and other Educational establishments, (3) that the whole of the proceeds from forries shall be made over to the Local Boards for purposes of water-supply,—have been carried out or not? (Vide letter No 10T.—M, dated Darjeeling, 22nd May, 1896, from the Hon'ble Mr Risley to all Commissioners)

The Hon'ble Mr KISCH replied — •

"The Government is unable to find, from the letter cited or from any other pronouncement of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, that in his time the burden of maintaining Provincial Roads rested with the District Fund, or that the proceeds of the Road Cess were devoted to the cost of maintaining dispensaries, veterinary schools, and other educational establishments

"The Government is also unable to find, from the letter cited or from any other declaration of the Government of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, that he gave any of the assurances mentioned in the question

"It is, however, the case that in the time of Sir Alexander Mackenzie it was represented that certain District Boards, in the exercise of the discretion given to them by the Local Self Government Act, were spending part of the proceeds of the Road Cess, as well as other funds at their disposal, on schools, dispensaries and other objects beyond the scope of section 109 of the Cess Act of 1880. The Government of Sir Alexander Mackenzie therefore explained by circular orders that the Local Self-Government Act of 1885 had repealed the restrictive section 109 of the Cess Act, had merged the Road Cess in the District Fund, and had added pounds, education, medical relief, sanitation, vaccination, famine relief, the destruction of noxious animals, fairs, and agricultural exhibitions to the list of objects to which the fund might be applied. At the same time Sir Alexander Mackenzie expressed his opinion that it was desirable that, as a general rule and gradually as might be practicable, an amount approximately equal to the proceeds of the Road Cess should be devoted by District Boards to the objects of the Act of 1880

"This expression of opinion, although involving no legal obligation, has been on the whole acted upon by District Boards in the exercise of their discretion and the powers of self-government given to them by the Legislature

"At present, no provincial road is maintained by a District Fund unless the District Fund is in receipt of a grant from Provincial Revenues at least equal to the estimated cost of maintaining the road. Also, the returns for 1900-1901—the latest completed year for which figures are available—show that the total expenditure of District Boards on roads and other means of communication, the drinking-water supply, drainage, and other objects within the limited scope of the Cess Act of 1880 was more than 45 lakhs, that is to say, at least 2 lakhs more than the total proceeds of the Road Cess."

EXPENDITURE BY DISTRICT BOARDS ON THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE WATER-SUPPLY

---

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, asked —

Will the Government be pleased to state the amount of money spent by the different District Boards in Bengal for the improvement of water supply in the shape of digging or improving wells, or excavating or restoring tanks, since the Government Order was passed in 1894-95 to the effect that at least a sum of Rs. 5,000 a year should be spent for that purpose by each District Board?

The Hon'ble Mr KISCH replied —

“The order referred to is apparently a passage in the Government Resolution reviewing the District Board reports for 1894-95. In that Resolution it was suggested to the District Boards, with whom under the Local Self-Government Act the matter rests, ‘that every District Board might properly set apart at least the sum of Rs. 5,000 a year for the improvement of water-supply to be spent either in the digging or improvement of wells, or in the excavation or restoration of tanks to be reserved for drinking purposes only,’ and it was said that the expenditure suggested would be rather more than double the amount actually spent during the year 1894-95 then under review.”

“The amount spent in 1894-95 was Rs. 63,768. The Resolution was dated December, 1895, so that the effect of the suggestion would first appear in the returns of the year 1896-97. In that year the expenditure by District Boards on the improvement of the water-supply was Rs. 1,51,200. In 1897-98 it was Rs. 2,23,500, in 1898-99 Rs. 1,31,500, in 1899-1900 Rs. 1,16,800, in 1900-1901 Rs. 1,14,200.

“The figures for each District Board separately will be laid on the table.”

Statement showing the expenditure incurred by the several District Boards in Bengal on the improvement of the water-supply during the five years ending 1900-1901.

ISSUE OF MAGISTERIAL PROCESSES WITHOUT DUE INQUIRY.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, said:—

In the Government Resolution on the Police Administration of Calcutta and its Suburbs for 1900, the Government of Bengal made the following remarks —

"There are signs that the Magistrates issue processes without due inquiries. Out of 2,692 cognizable cases instituted before them, 413 were dismissed before the issue of processes out of the remainder, only 496 ended in conviction. It must be remembered that, even when a case is compromised, it is not necessarily one in which processes should have been granted; even innocent men may prefer to come to terms rather than be harassed in Court, and when only 25 per cent. of the cases in which processes issued resulted in conviction, it is clear that there is still room for more careful consideration before deciding to summon the accused."

Will the Government be pleased to state what is the condition of things in this respect in the mufassal districts; and has the Government taken any steps to remove the grievances, if any exist?

The Hon'ble Mr. BOURDILLON replied —

"The figures quoted by the Hon'ble Member refer only to cases cognisable by the Police, which were taken up by Magistrates on complaint or of their own motion, and my answer will be limited in the same manner

"The Calcutta figures for 1900 show that in 26.5 per cent. of the cases instituted process was refused either at once or after inquiry, whereas in the mufassal in the same year the percentage was 48.7. As regards convictions in cases brought to trial, the Calcutta figures yield a percentage of 25.7, and those in the mufassal a ratio of 40 per cent.

"The attention of Government has long been given to the need of care and caution before process is issued the matter has repeatedly been brought to the notice of Magistrates in the Resolutions of Government on the annual reports of the Inspector-General of Police, and a circular on the subject was issued by the High Court in 1898."

IMPROVEMENT SCHEME FOR CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble BABU JOY GOBIND LAW asked —

Will the Government be pleased to inform the public as to the nature and extent of the proposed Improvement Scheme for Calcutta, which, it is understood, is now under the consideration of the Government?

The Hon'ble Mr. KISCH replied —

"The Local Government regrets that the only answer it can give to this question is to refer the Hon'ble Member to the statement made by the Hon'ble Financial Member at the meeting of the Viceroy's Legislative Council on the 26th ultimo."

THE HOWRAH BRIDGE ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE moved that the Bill to extend the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, to the Howrah Bridge, be taken into consideration by the Council at its next meeting.

He mentioned that the Port Commissioners had no objection to offer to the provisions of the Bill.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL DRAINAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. MACPHERSON introduced the Bill to amend the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880, and moved that it be read in Council. He said —

"In asking leave to introduce this Bill, I gave to the Council a short account of the procedure prescribed in the Drainage Act for the inception of an Agricultural Drainage scheme, and also noticed the leading provisions of the Act with regard to recovery of the cost of the drainage works. I explained that the landholders have difficulties in recovering from their co-sharers and from their tenants the sums which have to be paid to Government on account of the cost of drainage works, and that it is proposed to give to landholders the benefit of the procedure of the Public Demands Recovery Act—that is the Certificate Procedure.

"I have now to draw the attention of the Council to the provisions of the Bill of which, as I understand, copies have been placed in the hands of Hon'ble Members. A reprint of the Act of 1880 embodying the amendments proposed by this Bill has also, I think, been circulated to Hon'ble Members for their assistance in considering the Bill.

"Clause 1 is the title of the Bill.

"Clauses 2 and 3 facilitate recovery from co-sharer landholders. Clause 2 by revision when necessary of the list of landholders, and clause 3 by making the Certificate Procedure available.

"Clause 5 provides for recovery from tenants by application of the Certificate Procedure.

"Clauses 4 and 6 flow out of clauses 3 and 5, and are dependent on them.

"Clause 7 gives power to landholders to recover by the Certificate Procedure from rent free or revenue-free-holders. There is a mistake in the notes on clauses appended to the Bill, so far as regards this clause. The note runs 'This clause gives to persons who hold land free of rent or revenue,' &c. The note (paragraph 6) should run 'This clause gives to landholders under whom land is held free of rent or revenue,' &c

"Clause 8 is intended to make it clear that the new provisions as to recovery apply to payments already made by landholders in respect of the Howrah and Rajapur Drainage schemes.

"The proviso to the clause will, I understand, keep alive the claims of landholders in the Rajapur and Howrah Drainage areas, though otherwise barred by the three-years' law of limitation, which applies to sums paid by landholders under the Drainage Act.

"This clause with its proviso will require very careful consideration in the Select Committee stage.

"I now move that this Bill be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was read accordingly

THE BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1902-1903

The Hon'ble Mr. KISCH laid on the table the Financial Statement for 1902-1903, with explanatory notes. In doing so he said —

"The year which has just closed was for Bengal, as well as for India as a whole, a year of financial prosperity, and at the beginning of the new year we find ourselves with a balance of Rs 47,08,000, according to the revised estimate, instead of only Rs. 20,00,000, which was estimated in the budget to be the balance at the close of the past year.

"The receipts for the current year are estimated at Rs. 5,10,10,000, including two special grants, amounting together to 16 lakhs, which the Government of India have allotted to this Government out of their abundance. This sum of Rs. 5,10,10,000 added to the opening balance of Rs. 47,08,000 gives a total of Rs. 5,57,18,000. Out of this amount, 20 lakhs must, by the standing orders of the Government of India, be kept as a minimum balance, so that the amount estimated as available for expenditure in the current year is Rs. 5,37,18,000. The manner in which it is proposed to spend this sum is detailed in the budget.

"The budget estimate of expenditure last year was Rs. 5,04,02,000, and that figure may conveniently be used for comparison with the sum of Rs. 5,37,18,000 available this year. The sum available is thus Rs. 33,16,000 in excess of the budget estimate of expenditure for last year. It is true that the revised estimate shows a saving of nearly 15 lakhs on the budget, owing chiefly to some of the measures contemplated last year not being yet sanctioned and to others having been given effect to late in the year. For all these, provision is again made. For example, we have provided again for the establishment of a Provident Fund for teachers in primary schools, and for the improvement of the position and prospects of the Judicial branch of the Provincial Civil Service, and we have of course had to make provision for a whole year's expenditure on account of measures which were sanctioned during last year and which involve recurring expenditure.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Baker, when he introduced the budget last year, mentioned that a sum of Rs. 4,80,000 had been provided as a special additional grant from Provincial Funds to improve the financial position of District Boards. This grant, which was raised to 5 lakhs at the time it was actually distributed among the District Boards, was specially assigned for important local roads. A similar grant of 5 lakhs is provided in the present budget.

"The funds available this year for expenditure are, however, as I have stated, some 33 lakhs beyond the amount which was available last year. This sum of 33 lakhs includes the special grants of 10 lakhs and 6 lakhs, which the Government of India have themselves assigned for Education and Public Works. This grant of 10 lakhs brings up the total education grant to Rs. 42,42,000, a figure which contrasts favourably with the allotment of Rs. 27,66,000 in the first year of the present Provincial Contract, and with the allotment of Rs. 22,67,000 in 1871-72, the first year of Provincial Finance. Of the 6 lakhs for Public Works, the Government of India have specially assigned 3 lakhs for the erection and equipment of a building for the Physiological, Pathological, and Meteorological Departments of the Medical College. Against the balance of the 33 lakhs there are some other items of considerable importance. We have provided 4 lakhs for improvement and reforms in the Police Administration and the Police staff, 1½ lakhs to open out a new route called the Madaripore blul route for country boat and steamer traffic in Eastern Bengal; 1½ lakhs to meet the cost of another Judge for the High Court and increases of establishment in that Court, and 1½ lakhs as a grant to District Boards for feeder roads leading to railways. This last grant is in addition to the grant of 5 lakhs already mentioned and in addition to the direct expenditure of the Public Works Department on Provincial feeder roads. We have also raised the provision of Rs. 40,000 in the last budget for improving the position of Munsifs to Rs. 62,000; and we have provided Rs. 30,000 for improving the status of Sub-Deputy Collectors, Rs. 20,000 for agricultural banks and grain banks, Rs. 43,000 for four Additional Subordinate Judges, Rs. 28,000 for the replacement of a large number of head-constables by Sub-Inspectors, and Rs. 55,000 for training colleges at Hoogly and Dacca, and to raise the status of the Dacca Survey School. With the help of the gift of 6 lakhs from the Government of India, we have been able to place the grant to the Public Works Department for roads and buildings at Rs. 52,35,000 against Rs. 45,88,000, the amount allotted in the budget for last year. Out of this grant of Rs. 52,35,000 for roads and buildings, Rs. 28,48,000 is allotted for original works, and the most important of these works will be found entered in detail towards the end of the explanatory notes.

"The Financial Statement will, in the ordinary course, come up for discussion at the next meeting of Council, and I shall be much obliged if Hon'ble Members who propose to ask for any information or explanation, or to comment on any matters in connection with the budget, will extend to me the courtesy shown to my predecessors and give me notice three or four days before the meeting."

PART I.—General Review.

ACCOUNTS OF 1900-1901

In the statement which was laid before the Council on the 30th March 1901, it was assumed that the year 1900-1901 had opened with a credit balance of Rs. 38,18,000, and would close with a balance of Rs 42,04,000. The actual accounts yielded a slightly higher balance than this estimate. The amount actually available for expenditure was Rs 5,19,79,506, and the amount actually expended during the year was Rs 4,77,17,894, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 42,61,612—an increase of Rs. 57,612 over the revised estimate.

REVISED ESTIMATE, 1901-1902

2 The budget estimate for 1901-1902, as passed by the Government of India, assumed that the year would open with a balance of Rs 42,04,000, that the receipts would aggregate Rs 4,81,98,000 and the expenditure Rs 5,04,02,000, so that the year would close with a balance of Rs 20,00,000. The revised estimate now passed takes the total revenue at Rs 4,93,65,000 and the expenditure at Rs 4,89,19,000, so that there is a surplus of Rs 4,46,000 from the year's transactions. Adding this surplus to the opening balance of Rs 42,02,000, the estimated closing balance is now Rs 47,08,000.

3. Of the increase on the receipt side, Rs 5,25,000 is under Stamps, the increase being divided between General and Court-fee Stamps, Rs. 1,50,000 under Excise, owing to better settlements, Rs 2,50,000 under Assessed Taxes, due to revision of assessments, Rs 72,000 under Registration, Rs 92,000 under Jails, owing to an increased supply of manufactures to Government departments, Rs 3,52,000 under Miscellaneous, partly from Unclaimed Deposits which is an uncertain item, and to a large extent from recoveries of arrears of contributions from Municipalities towards the cost of plague camps in 1899-1900 and 1900-1901, such expenditure from the beginning of 1901-1902 being wholly met from Provincial Revenues. The arrears from District Boards on account of their shares of plague expenditure amounted to Rs 1,22,000, and this accounts for the increase under Contributions from Local to Provincial. Against these increases, there are decreases of Rs 1,38,000 under Provincial Rates owing to the improvement anticipated in the budget from valuations and revaluations in certain districts not having been fully realised, and Rs 90,000 under Minor Works and Navigation.

4. The net decrease of expenditure according to the revised estimate as compared with the budget of the year just closed is Rs 14,83,000. This is due to smaller expenditure under Land Revenue (Rs 2,02,000), chiefly under Survey and Settlements, under Police (Rs 1,61,000), chiefly from the full increased strength of the Police Force not being employed throughout the year, under Education (Rs 2,86,000), chiefly from the grant towards the Provident Fund for gurus in primary schools not being used owing to the scheme not being yet sanctioned, under Medical (Rs 3,46,000), chiefly from savings in the grant for plague charges, and Civil Works (Rs 5,14,000), the full grant for Public Works and burial grounds not being used, and under Contributions to Incorporated Local Funds (Rs 2,50,000).

BUDGET ESTIMATE 1902-1903

5. The budget estimate for 1902-1903 as now passed adopts Rs 47,08,000 as the opening balance, and provides for receipts aggregating Rs 5,10,10,000 and expenditure Rs 5,37,18,000, leaving a closing balance of Rs 20,00,000 which is the minimum prescribed by the Secretary of State. Compared with the budget estimate for 1901-1902, the total receipts for 1902-1903 are placed higher by Rs. 28,12,000, while as compared with the revised estimate they are higher by Rs 16,45,000, an amount nearly covered by the special assignments of 10 and 6 lakhs sanctioned by the Government of India for expenditure under Education and Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department, respectively. The total expenditure is estimated at Rs 5,37,18,000, against Rs. 5,04,02,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs 4,89,19,000

The budget is explained more fully in the following paragraphs

9 Stamps —The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1901-1902 was passed by the Government of India for Rs 1,85,00,000. The actuals in 1900-1901 amounted to Rs 1,84,34,830, and the returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first ten months of 1901-1902 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs 7,17,000. In view of these figures, both the revised estimate for 1901-1902 and the estimate for 1902-1903 have been placed at Rs. 1,92,00,000. The Provincial share is three-fourths of this sum, and amounts to Rs. 1,44,00,000.

10 Excise —The budget estimate of the total revenue under this head for 1901-1902 was Rs. 1,47,00,000, against Rs. 1,46,48,357 the actuals of 1900-1901. The figures of the first ten months of 1901-1902 show an increase of Rs 2,74,000 over the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year, and both the revised estimate for 1901-1902 and the estimate for 1902-1903 have been passed for Rs 1,50,00,000. In view of these figures, the revised estimate for the total of Provincial Rates has been placed at Rs 48,50,000, and the estimate for 1902-1903 at Rs. 49,80,000. An increase in the cess is expected on the completion of revaluations in certain districts and from the introduction of the Cess Act in the Sonthal Parganas.

12. Customs —The original estimate of Provincial receipts for 1901-1902 was Rs 2,70,000. The actual receipts in 1900-1901 amounted to Rs 2,68,734, and those in the first ten months of 1901-1902 showed a decrease of Rs 7,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. In view of these figures, both the revised estimate for 1901-1902 and the estimate for 1902-1903 have been placed at Rs. 2,60,000.

13. Assessed Taxes—The budget estimate of receipts from Income tax for 1901-1902 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 52,00,000. The actual collections in 1900-1901 amounted to Rs. 52,76,359, and the returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first ten months of 1901-1902 exceeded those of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 3,86,000. Both the revised estimate for 1901-1902 and the estimate for 1902-1903 have been placed at Rs. 57,00,000. The Provincial share (one-half) is Rs. 28,50,000.

14. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1902-1903 are estimated at Rs. 12,55,000, against Rs. 12,35,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 12,33,339 the actuals of 1900-1901. The increase in the estimate is due to provision having been made for the sale of sleepers in the Jalpaiguri Division.

15. Registration.—The original estimate under this head for 1901-1902 was Rs. 15,40,000, against Rs. 15,31,580 the actuals of 1900-1901. The collections in the first ten months of 1901-1902 showed an exceptional increase of Rs. 1,30,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate for 1901-1902 has accordingly been passed for Rs. 16,85,000, while the estimate for 1902-1903 has been placed at Rs. 16,00,000. Do on loans to municipalities and other public corporations . . .	1,74,000
Do on Government securities . . .	14,000
Miscellaneous . . .	52,000
Total . . .	3,57,000

17. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The estimate of Rs. 7,96,000 is based on the actuals of the past three years which were Rs. 8,26,776 in 1898-99, Rs. 7,84,196 in 1899-1900, and Rs. 7,94,448 in 1900-1901.

18. Jails.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 14,15,000 against Rs. 12,20,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 13,68,853 the actuals of 1900-1901. The increase is mainly due to the supply of clothing for the Police by the Jail Department.

19. Police—The estimate under this head is Rs. 1,82,000, against Rs. 2,08,639 the actuals of 1900-1901. The decrease is due to smaller recoveries being anticipated on account of police supplied to Railway Companies and to smaller receipts from fees, fines, and forfeitures under Presidency Police.

20. Marine—The budget estimate for 1901-1902 was Rs. 12,20,000, which has been raised to Rs. 12,60,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first ten months of the year. The increase is mainly under Pilotage Receipts in Calcutta which fluctuate with the tonnage of vessels visiting and leaving the port. The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs. 13,33,000.

21. Education—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 7,46,000, against Rs. 6,02,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 7,07,265 the actuals of 1900-1901. The increase is due to larger receipts expected from the sale proceeds of articles manufactured by the Reformatory schools and also from fees of High and Boarding schools.

22. Medical.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 2,19,000, against Rs. 2,10,000 the sanctioned estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 2,11,487 the actuals of 1900-1901. The increase is due to an anticipated increase in the fees from the Medical College and Medical Schools.

23. Scientific and other Minor Departments—The total receipts for 1902-1903 are estimated at Rs. 2,47,000, against Rs. 2,76,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902. The decrease is specially under Botanical Garden receipts, the revised estimate including special receipts from Birch Hill Park, Dajeeeling.

24. Miscellaneous—The receipts under this head are by their nature of uncertain amount, varying considerably from year to year. The estimate for 1902-1903, based on past actuals, has been placed at Rs. 7,76,000, against Rs. 7,18,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 7,97,465 the actuals of 1900-1901.

25. Irrigation Major Works—(Direct receipts). The budget estimate for 1901-1902 was Rs. 17,18,000, and the revised estimate is taken at Rs. 17,80,000, the receipts from both the Midnapore and Orissa canals being expected to be better than the budget. The actual receipts in 1900-1901 amounted to Rs. 18,06,331, and the revised estimate for 1901-1902 has been reproduced in the budget for 1902-1903.

26. Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate of receipts for 1902-1903 is Rs. 5,90,000, which is the same as the revised estimate for 1901-1902. A decrease on the actuals of 1900-1901 is expected from both the Calcutta and Eastern Canals and from the Nadia rivers.

27. Civil Works—The estimate of receipts by the Public Works Department is Rs. 2,00,000, against Rs. 1,88,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The increase is due to anticipated increase in the receipts under rents of buildings and to increased receipts in the Government share of profits of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway.

EXPENDITURE

28. Refunds and Drawbacks—The total Provincial expenditure in 1902-1903 is estimated at Rs. 1,80,000, against Rs. 1,84,000 the sanctioned estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs. 1,81,659 the actuals for 1900-1901. The actuals for 1900-1901 included a special payment for mesno profits on account of drift timber.

29. Assignments and Compensations—The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs. 1,70,000, against Rs. 1,50,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902. The estimate provides for the payment of arrears.

30. Land Revenue—The estimate of expenditure for 1902-1903 amounts to Rs. 43,75,000, against Rs. 43,02,000 the budget, and Rs. 41,00,000 the revised estimate for the year 1901-1902 as shown below—

Total ...	38,78,703	43,02,000	41,00,000	43,75,000

The increase under (1) is due to provision having been made (a) for the full sanctioned strength of officers and establishment, (b) for the improvement of the status of Sub-Deputy Collectors, (c) for purchase of typewriters for the offices of Collectors, (d) for an increased grant for copyists, (e) for purchase of a sea-going boat for the use of the Collector of Noakhali, and (f) for increased grants under Contract Contingencies and Rents, Rates, and Taxes. A provision of Rs. 5,000 has been made under (3) for the establishment of grain banks in the Sonthal Parganas and of Rs. 15,000 under (5) for the establishment of agricultural banks.

31. Stamps.—The estimate of expenditure for 1902-1903 amounts to Rs. 8,53,000, against Rs. 7,54,000, the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The increase is chiefly under Stamp paper supplied from the Central Stores, the estimate under which is Rs 4,16,000, against Rs 3,37,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The Provincial share (three fourths) is Rs 6,40,000.

32 Excise—The expenditure for the year 1902-1903 is estimated at Rs 7,56,000, against Rs 7,44,000 the budget grant for 1901-1902. A provision of Rs 6,000 has been made for strengthening and improving district preventive establishments. The Provincial share (one half) is Rs 3,78,000.

33 Forests—The total expenditure in 1902-1903 is estimated at Rs 7,43,000, against Rs. 6,00,000, the revised estimate for 1901-1902. The estimate includes a provision of Rs 35,700 for payment to the Porabhat Estate on account of profits of the five years ending March 1901, Rs 45,300 for buildings, Rs 16,000 for excavation of tanks in the Angul Division for the supply of water in the reserved forests in times of drought, and Rs 14,000 for forest surveys in Singhbhum.

34 Registration.—The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs. 9,50,000, against Rs 9,13,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The increase is partly due to the appointment of a Joint Sub-Registrar of Calcutta, but chiefly on account of commission to rural Sub-Registrars which increases with the increase in the number of registrations. The Provincial share (one half) is Rs 4,75,000.

35 General Administration—The estimate on this head amounts to Rs 17,57,000, against Rs. 17,11,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The estimate includes Rs 10,000 on account of railway carriages for the Lieutenant-Governor now under construction by the East Indian Railway, and Rs. 28,000 to meet the deficit on account of tour charges in the past two years and in 1902-1903.

36 Law and Justice—Courts of Law—The budget estimate of expenditure for 1901-1902 was Rs. 94,13,000, against Rs 91,33,042 the actuals of 1900-1901. The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs 96,85,000, and includes provision for another Judge, an Official Referee and his assistant, an Assistant Registrar, and other establishments in the High Court. Provision has also been made for the salaries of 4 permanent additional Subordinate Judges, for the regrading of Munsiffs and Sub-Deputy Collectors, and for additional process serving establishments in Burdwan, Hooghly, Nadia, Mymensingh, Chittagong, and Cuttack, with reference to local requirements.

37. Jails.—The original estimate of expenditure for 1901-1902 was Rs 24,86,000, against Rs 28,31,170 the actuals of 1900-1901. The actuals of the first nine months of the year, however, show increased expenditure under dieting charges, owing partly to increased jail population and partly to high prices of food grains, and also under purchase of raw materials for manufactures, and the revised estimate for the year has accordingly been raised to Rs. 30,06,000. The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs 29,43,000.

38 Police—The following table compares the estimates of expenditure under this head—

Total	60,65,389	63,25,000	61,64,000	68,41,000

The actuals for the first ten months of 1901-1902 indicate that there will be savings under Presidency Police and District Executive Force, chiefly owing to the full strength of the Force as now sanctioned not being employed throughout the year. The revised estimate of total expenditure has been passed for Rs 61,64,000, against Rs 63,25,000 the budget grant for 1901-1902. The estimate for 1902-1903 amounts to Rs 68,41,000. Under (1) provision has been made for increased expenditure under Feed and keep of horses, Rents, Rates, and Taxes, and under (4) for the gradual substitution of Sub-Inspectors for head constables as investigating officers in accordance with the recommendation of the Police Commission, for pony allowances for head constables on the investigating staff, for Mogaya Domo settlements, and for an increased grant for contract contingencies.

39 Marine.—The estimate has been placed at Rs. 10,15,000, against Rs 10 23,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902. Under most heads there is an increase, but it is more than met by the estimated decrease under Pilotage and Pilot establishments, as the payments to free-list pilots are not expected to be as high as in 1901-1902.

40 Education.—The budget estimate under this head for 1901-1902, amounting to Rs 32,04,000, has been reduced to Rs 29,18,000 in the revised estimate, owing chiefly to the provision of Rs. 1,25,000 as a contribution to a proposed Provident Fund for teachers in primary schools not having been used. There were also savings under Engineering Colleges and Schools owing to smaller boarding charges in the Civil Engineering College, and to the provisions for the workshops of the Dacca Survey School and Bihar School of Engineering and for the steam engine for the Dacca Survey School not having been utilized. The estimate for 1902-1903 provides for a total expenditure of Rs 42,42,000, and includes a special provision of 10 lakhs for educational reforms, the renewed provision of 1½ lakhs as a contribution to the proposed Provident Fund, a provision of Rs. 25,000 for starting training colleges at Hooghly and Dacca, and Rs 30,000 for raising the Dacca Survey School to the status of the Bihar School of Engineering.

41 Medical.—The estimate for 1902-1903 amounts to Rs 24,35,000, against Rs 24,85,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902, and Rs 21,46,989 the actuals of 1900-1901. The estimate includes a provision of Rs 4,50,000 for plague charges, against Rs 5,65,000 the budget grant for 1901-1902, and Rs 3,20,894 the actuals of 1900-1901. The grants-in-aid to Municipalities and District Boards and the refunds of their contributions towards plague charges aggregated Rs 1,49,938, in 1901-1902 as shown below —

42. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs 6,58,000, against Rs 5,22,000 the budget estimate for 1901-1902. The increase is distributed under Veterinary and Stallion charges (Rs 18,700), Experimental Cultivation (Rs 51,700), for larger grants for and in aid of agricultural experiments and silk culture, Cinchona Plantation (Rs 16,600), for the extension of cultivation and the purchase of additional machinery to extend the capabilities of the factory, Zoological Gardens (Rs. 11,000), a special additional grant, and Imperial Gazetteer and Statistical Memoir (Rs. 25,000).

43. Superannuation—The expenditure under this head shows a progressive increase owing to the increase in the claims to pensions. The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs. 24,62,000, against Rs. 23,67,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902.

44. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1902-1903 is Rs. 12,25,000, against Rs. 12,45,000 the sanctioned estimate for 1901-1902.

45. Miscellaneous—The estimate under this head is Rs. 2,54,000, against Rs. 2,45,000 the revised estimate for 1901-1902. The details under minor heads are shown in Appendix B.

46. Irrigation—Major Works—Under the category of Major Works are included the Orissa Canals, the Midnapore Canal, the Hiji Tidal Canal, and the Sone Canals, the outlay for the construction and extension of which has for the most part been advanced from the Imperial Treasury. The Provincial Government, which gets the receipts from the works, is responsible for their maintenance and for the payment of interest on the capital expenditure. The total grant for working expenses for 1902-1903 is Rs. 12,25,000, against Rs. 12,97,000 the budget grant for 1901-1902, and Rs. 11,88,577 the actuals of 1900-1901.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected, approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnaud's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1902.

WEATHER during March was of the usual hot season character, with rather marked high temperature conditions at the beginning and end of the month, and a period of disturbance in the middle. During that period of disturbance two depressions approached the Province from the west, and, though they did not, as frequently happens, move in an easterly direction into Burma, they caused moderate general rainfall, which was in excess of the normal in the northern districts and in South-West Bengal. Each depression continued to follow an easterly course until it was over the central districts of Bengal, when a rise of pressure in Assam as well as to the north-west of the low pressure area caused a displacement southward over the Bay. Simultaneously with this change of direction rainfall began in Assam or North Bengal, and from there spread southward and westward over the Province.

In front of these depressions there was the usual wave of high temperature, and the early occurrence of rainfall in the north-east is well shown by the fall of temperature in that region preceding the fall in other parts of the Province.

The first disturbance caused general rainfall about the 13th with scattered showers on the preceding and subsequent days. On the second occasion the rainfall began about the 20th and continued for several days, but it was very scattered in the south-western districts until the 22nd and 23rd, when it was fairly general in both Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Probably owing to the variable winds in North Bengal accompanying the change of direction of advance of the depression, rainfall was considerably more heavy in that division than in other parts. The total fall in North Bengal for the month was 3.1 inches, nearly 2 inches in excess of the normal. In South-West Bengal excess was nearly 1 inch, and in Bihar rather more than half an inch. In other divisions there was defect greatest in East Bengal, where, with a total fall of 2 inches, there was defect of a third of an inch.

As temperature was very high in the early part of the month and again at the end, and the cool weather which followed the disturbances above referred to was of only brief duration, mean temperature for the month was above the normal over the whole Province. In Chota Nagpur there was excess of  $3^{\circ} 8$ , in Bihar  $2^{\circ} 9$ , in Bengal Proper nearly  $2^{\circ}$ , and in Orissa and Assam  $1^{\circ}$ . The highest maximum readings recorded were  $108^{\circ} 5$  in Orissa,  $107^{\circ} 9$  in South-West Bengal,  $105^{\circ} 1$  in Chota Nagpur, and  $104^{\circ} 4$  in Bihar. Average excess in maximum temperature varied from  $2^{\circ}$  in Lower Bengal and Orissa to  $5^{\circ}$  in the west of Bihar. In minimum temperature it was more uniform and generally between  $2^{\circ}$  and  $3^{\circ}$ .

At the beginning of the month pressure after a moderate general fall was practically normal over the whole area. Winds were southerly in the west of the Bay, variable in all parts of South West Bengal, except the south-western districts, and as usual at that time of the year northerly in Burma. Temperature was  $4^{\circ}$  to  $5^{\circ}$  above the normal in all districts, except Orissa. On the two subsequent days the fall of pressure continued inland, but not so much so over the Bay, so that the gradient became steeper, the southerly winds penetrated inland as far as North Bengal, and temperature steadily increased. On the 4th, when pressure had begun to recover, mean excess in temperature varied from  $4^{\circ}$  in the southern districts to  $7^{\circ}$  at some places in the west of Bihar.

A brisk rise of pressure on the 4th again gave a normal distribution, but it was immediately followed by a brisk fall which continued till the 8th, when a considerable increase in wind force at the head of the Bay caused a further increase of temperature. On that and the following day mean excess in temperature varied from  $5^{\circ}$  in the south of the Province to  $11^{\circ}$  in Chota Nagpur.

On the 9th a well-marked depression was over the Province with regular cyclonic winds. But for the strong winds at the head of the Bay and the high temperature inland weather was not noticeably disturbed, and it was not until three days later that a rise of pressure in North-East India appeared to cause a general change. At that time the depression of the 9th, though not so well marked, was still over Bengal, and the increase of pressure which began in the north-east displaced it westward, where it coincided with another shallow depression advancing eastward. The result was an area of low pressure over Chota Nagpur and a steep gradient to the east over Bengal. There was still very little rainfall in Bengal, but on the following day, that is the 13th, when the rise of pressure continued over the north of the Province and the depression in its eastward motion recurved southward, general rainfall occurred in Bengal Proper and the east of Bihar. There was no rain in the western districts over which the central area lay, and the fall of temperature was more marked in the east than in the west of the Province. On the 14th pressure was lowest over the Bay, the rainfall had extended to Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and temperature was low over the whole Province.

The changes as noticed above show that the rainfall began in the north-east and extended south-westward over the Province, and that probably the most important cause was the rise of pressure which, first shown in Assam and North Bengal, met the advancing depression and caused the southerly displacement of the central area first towards Orissa and thereafter over the north of the Bay.

For some days after the 14th fine settled weather prevailed inland and over the Bay with northerly winds and temperature not above the normal. On the 18th there were signs of the development or advance of the second depression of the month. Pressure was steadily falling, the area of lowest pressure was in Chota Nagpur, and winds were easterly, showing an indraught towards that area. On the following day the low pressure area was better defined over Chota Nagpur and the gradient was steep from west to east, but an irregular rise of pressure had begun over Assam, with rain and falling temperature in North Bengal. The subsequent history of the disturbance is very similar to that of the preceding one. The area of lowest pressure recurred southwards and became diffused over the north of the Bay. The rainfall which began on the 18th or 19th slowly extended south-westward, and ended in Orissa and Chota Nagpur on the 23rd. The days of most general rainfall were the 21st and 22nd.

On the 23rd, when the disturbance was practically over and pressure was above the normal in Bengal, temperature was low by amounts varying from 2° in the west to 12° in East Bengal.

Temperature soon recovered, and during the last week of the month ordinary hot season conditions prevailed. Pressure underwent the usual oscillations, and temperature was latterly in moderate excess.

Pressure, owing to the disturbances during the second and third weeks, was for the greater part of the month below the normal. Means for the month are consequently low, except in North Bengal and Assam, where pressure on an average was practically normal. The greatest defect is in the western districts, where it varies from .02 inch in Orissa and Chota Nagpur to .04 inch in the west of Bihar.

Temperature has as usual in March undergone considerable variations in consequence of the passage of disturbances which are generally preceded by a wave of high temperature, and, when rainfall occurs, are followed by a period of low temperature. The extreme variations were 12° above the normal in the western districts just before the first disturbance and 12° below in East Bengal just after the second.

As temperature was more frequently above than below the normal, means both maximum and minimum are considerably in excess. The difference from the normal in the former varies from 2° in the south to 4° in the north-west. In the latter it was more uniform and generally between 2° and 3°.

Rainfall was general and moderately heavy on two occasions—the first about the 10th, the second about the 21st and 22nd. On the latter occasion the falls were both more heavy and general than on the former and the period of disturbance was of longer duration. In both cases the rainfall began in the north-east and extended south-westward, ending in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

The average fall for the month in the various divisions is given below and varied from half an inch in Chota Nagpur to more than 3 inches in North Bengal. The fall was in excess in Bihar and North and South-West Bengal, and in defect, but by comparatively small amounts, in the other divisions.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of March 1902.—

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

Prospectus for Admission.

This School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on the 14th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first year class of each year will be limited to 50, of whom only 15 can be other than Biharis by race (i.e., natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar), but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar, in that order.

3. The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

- (1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics
- (2) Careful training in Survey work
- (3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering
- (4) Elements of road making and the construction of simple buildings
- (5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and with machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed, and Government has agreed to make one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be at least 18 years of age.

The Session will commence on 7th July 1902. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Department of the Patna College, the monthly fee is Rs. 1-8. All scholarship-holders, however, Government scholarships of the value of Rs 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the students attached to the school, 75 per cent of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below:—

- (1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University, in English and Mathematics.
- (2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools.
- (3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 14th and 15th July respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars:—

- (a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.
- (b) Race and religion, and evidence to show that he is either a Bihari or a native of the North Western Provinces or Central Provinces, or a domiciled Bengali.
- (c) A certificate of good moral character.
- (d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).
- (e) A medical certificate, showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
- (f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending, till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Rs. 1. An Amin student is taught Elementary Surveying with a corresponding amount of Mathematics and of Geometrical Drawing. He will not be admitted to the Workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of Elementary Surveying, and the other subjects taught in the Amin class, may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the Session that commences 7th July 1902, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1902.

10. Every candidate for admission to the School must bring a certificate of good character from the Head of the Institution from which he has come.

11. All candidates for admission to the School should present themselves personally at the School on the 7th July.

REGULATIONS FOR THE FOREST SERVICE BRANCH OF THE ROYAL INDIAN ENGINEERING COLLEGE, COOPER'S HILL, FOR 1902

(Postal and Telegraph address, Englefield Green, Railway Station, Egham, L and S. W. Railway)

The arrangements hereinafter described are subject to revision under the orders of the Secretary of State for India]

1 The examination for admission to the Indian Forest Service through the Royal Indian Engineering College, which will be conducted by the Civil Service Commissioners, will be simultaneous with, and (except that German must be taken as an obligatory subject and that Botany is added) in the same subjects and papers as, the examination for the Indian Police Department,* which is usually held in June

Candidates may undergo the written part of their examination in London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, or at any of the provincial centres at which the simultaneous examination of candidates for admission to the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, is to be held. A list of the probable centres may be obtained from the Civil Service Commissioners at any time after January 1902. The oral and practical parts of the examination will be held in London only.

A fee of £2 is required from candidates examined in London, but when the written examination is conducted elsewhere than in London the fee is £3. Candidates examined at a college or school will probably be required to pay a local fee in addition to the fee of £3 (in order to defray the expenses of superintendence), as to which they should obtain early information from the college or school authorities. The fee payable to the Civil Service Commissioners must be paid by means of stamps of the specified amount. Instructions on this point will be issued to candidates about ten days before the examination.

2 The number of candidates to be selected annually varies according to the requirements of the Forest Service in India, the figures as regards each particular year will be advertised from time to time. In 1902 there will be eight appointments offered for competition.

3 Candidates for the Indian Forest Department are selected under the following arrangements —

- (1) An applicant must be a natural-born British subject and must be above 17 and under 20 years of age on the 1st June of the year in which he competes for an appointment. He must be unmarried, and if he marries before reaching India he will forfeit his appointment.
- (2) An applicant must send† to the Judicial and Public Department of the India Office, on or before the 1st day of May of the year in which he proposes to compete —
  - (a) His name, parentage and home address, a certificate or other satisfactory evidence of the date of his birth, and the written consent of parent or guardian that his name should be recorded as a candidate.
  - (b) A statement of the places of education at which he may have been, accompanied by testimonials of good conduct, during the last four years.

* Candidates may, if qualified, enter for both the Police and the Forest Department. They will, in such case, have to pay the fee due in respect of each examination.
† In the form of an applicant, the documents specified in paragraph 3 (2), clauses (a) and (b), should be enclosed in a cover addressed to the Secretary, Judicial and Public Department, India Office, London.

- (3) Applicants will have to appear before a Medical Board* at the India Office particular stress being laid upon good vision† and hearing. A physical test will also be imposed, so as to ensure the selection of persons of active habits and powers of endurance.
- (4) Applicants who have passed the medical examination and the physical test will be permitted to undergo an examination before the Civil Service Commissioners in the following subjects‡ (Classes I and II), marks being assigned as follows:—

CLASS I.§

		Marks.
Mathematics I (including Arithmetic)	...	3,000
German§ (800 for colloquial)	..	2,000
Botany	...	2,000
English Composition	...	1,000
Geometrical Drawing	...	500
Freshand Drawing	..	500
Geography	...	500

CLASS II.

Mathematics II	...	2,000
Latin	...	2,000
French	...	2,000
Greek	...	2,000
English History	..	2,000
Chemistry and Heat	..	2,000
Physics	...	2,000
Physiography and Geology	..	2,000

Candidates must obtain such an aggregate of marks in the examination as a whole as may indicate in the judgment of the Civil Service Commissioners a competent amount of general proficiency.

- (5) The Secretary of State will nominate as probationers such competitors as attain the highest aggregate of marks (provided they obtain the aggregate referred to above and satisfy the requisite conditions in other respects). These probationers will then enter the College, where they will be further trained for the Forest Service of India.
- (6) If the full number of competent probationers required in any year cannot be obtained from the persons so examined, the Secretary of State reserves a discretion to fill up the deficiency by selecting any other persons or persons whom, after consulting the authorities of the College, he may consider properly qualified to become probationers for the Forest Service.

4 The course of study for candidates for the Indian Forest Service extends over about three years. For six terms the candidates will prosecute their studies at the College, and during the period of foreign study, which will occupy the remainder of the course, they will visit, under suitable supervision, such Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose. Excursions may also be made for purposes of instruction, both during term time and during part of the vacations.

*It is suggested that a candidate before commencing any special course of study, should undergo a thorough medical examination. By such an examination any serious physical disqualification would probably be revealed, and the candidate might thus be spared the expense and waste of time involved in a course of preparation for a service for which he is physically unfit.

Candidates for the Forest Service may, if they wish it, undergo a preliminary examination by the Medical Board at the India Office, not more than two years before they are qualified to compete, under the following conditions:—

- (a) Applications must be addressed to the Under Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, London, accompanied by a fee of two guineas and by a statement of the candidate's age.
- (b) Candidates must pay their travelling expenses.
- (c) Candidates considered to be unfit by the Medical Board at this preliminary examination, are not bound to accept its opinion, but may, at their own risk, continue their studies, with the knowledge that they will have to submit themselves for a final medical examination by the Medical Board, shortly before the literary examination at which they wish to compete.
- (d) On the other hand, it must be distinctly understood that the preliminary examination by the Medical Board is held solely for the candidate's information, and that, if after that examination, he is reported to be physically fit, he has not on that account any claim to be accepted as physically fit when he presents himself for the final Medical Examination, upon which alone his acceptance or rejection will depend. Candidates may be considered fit for the service at the preliminary examination, but may be found at the final examination not to be fit either on account of some physical defect which did not exist or passed unnoticed at the preliminary examination, or for other reasons.

† On the subject of the standard of eyesight required for the Indian services, a pamphlet can be obtained on application to the Secretary, Judicial and Public Department, India Office.

‡ Reprints of the papers set at previous examinations, together with tables of the marks assigned to the candidates, are published by the Civil Service Commissioners, and can be obtained through any bookseller from the following:—
FISKE & MORRISWORTH, East Harding Street, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4, or FRANK & CO., 10, Abchurch Lane, London, E.C.4, or FRANK & CO., 116 Grafton Street, Dublin. The price is one shilling.

§ All the subjects of Class I may be taken up. Only two of the subjects of Class II may be taken up.
¶ Candidates must qualify in German.

5 Each annual session begins in September, and is divided into three terms, with vacations of about four weeks at Christmas, two weeks at Easter,* and eight weeks in the summer.

6 A charge of £61 is made for each of the six terms spent at the College; for the period of foreign study the charge is £70 for each of the three terms, the amounts must be paid terminally in advance to the Bank of England. Receivable orders, with full directions as to the mode of payment, will be forwarded from the India Office to the parents or guardians shortly before the fees fall due. A student will not be allowed to come into residence or to start for or continue his study of foreign forests until his fee for the term has been paid.

7 A deposit of £5 is required to be paid by each student on admission to the College as caution money, to cover charges incurred by him for damage to books, instruments, &c., or any College bills outstanding on leaving the College. Any balance over and above such charges will be repaid. This deposit is to be paid with the fee for the first term, making the total payment on that occasion £86.

8 The foregoing payments cover all charges for tuition, board according to the College tariff, lodging, with washing up to a cost of 2s. a week, and ordinary medical attendance while in residence at the College. When students are on tour, and during the course of practical instruction, whether in Great Britain or on the Continent, the Secretary of State will defray the expenses of (1) board, lodging, and washing (the aggregate maximum expenditure under these heads being 10s. per diem); (2) travelling expenses, and (3) fees to local Forest officers, &c.

Students are required to provide their own class books and drawing instruments†. Drawing paper, drawing boards, and surveying instruments are provided by the College.

9 The prescribed course of study comprises the following subjects:—

I.—Auxiliary Subjects.

- |                          |                             |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------|
| (1) Geometrical Drawing. | (7) Physics.                |
| (2) Freehand Drawing.    | (8) Chemistry.              |
| (3) Surveying.           | (9) Geology and Mineralogy. |

| (6) German.              | (12) Drill and Gymnastics.  |

II.—Forestry, Theoretical and Practical, in all its branches.

10 Every student is required to conform to the College rules, to exhibit due diligence in his studies throughout the course, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in such manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to be removed from the College, or to be sent back from the foreign study, which may entail the loss of his appointment.

11 During the course of study the proficiency of the students is tested by periodical examinations, and on the termination of their studies there is a final examination. Each student may also, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, be required from time to time to appear before the Medical Board, and should the result be unsatisfactory, he cannot claim to be allowed to complete the course.

12 The subjects enumerated in paragraph 9 are grouped in certain main branches of study,‡ and a fixed minimum of qualification is required—(1) in each separate branch; (2) in each separate subject taught at the College and during forest tours, and (3) in all subjects taken together. Students who obtain these minima will receive the College diploma in Forestry.

13 Candidates who have obtained this diploma and are found to be of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Forest Department (the final decision on which points will rest with the Secretary of State for India) will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Forest Department of India in the order of their standing at the end of the final examination. They will be allowed, before leaving the College, to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted; but the distribution will be made to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India after consulting the President of the College. Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

14 Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment, he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and will be provided with a free passage. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

* While in actual residence at the College. During the third year spent in foreign study on the Continent, only one week is allowed at Easter.

† The "Cooper's Hill" case can be procured from the makers at a reduced price if obtained on order from the College. Intending students can apply to the Secretary to the College for these details.

‡ For details see Royal Indian Engineering College Calendar.

15 The pay of an Assistant Conservator of Forests will begin from the date of reporting arrival in India. Probationers who acquit themselves creditably during their course at Cooper's Hill College will begin on a salary of Rs. 350 a month. It will, however, rest with the President of the College to decide whether any of the probationers, though they have obtained the College diploma in Forestry, have failed to deserve that rate of initial salary. Such probationers, if any, will begin on a salary of Rs. 250 a month, and this difference of salary will continue until the first departmental examination is passed in India. Officers entering the Forest Service will be required to contribute a subscription ranging from a compulsory minimum of 5 per cent. up to a voluntary maximum of 10 per cent. of their salary to the Forest Officers' Provident Fund. Such contributions, with compound interest, will accumulate till the date of retirement, when the total sum will be paid to the contributor or, in the event of death before retirement, to his legal representative.

16 Promotion, leave, and pension will be governed by the regulations laid down by the Government of India and made applicable to Forest officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. The pension rules applicable to Public Works and Telegraph officers appointed from Cooper's Hill College have been extended to Forest officers appointed from England, and the Inspector-General of Forests and Conservators of the first grade are now eligible for the extra pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum admissible to an officer after at least three years of approved service as a head of a department in any province, if considered deserving of the special concession. A copy of the Regulations relative to these matters can be seen on application either at the Library or the Record Department of the India Office; the principal rules are contained in the Abstract of the Civil Service Regulations, as given in the "India List and India Office List," published by Messrs. Harrison and Sons, 59, Pall Mall, London, which can be procured through any bookseller.

17 Every candidate, before proceeding to India, is required to furnish to the President of the College satisfactory evidence of his competency in riding. It is desirable that this evidence should be forthcoming before the candidate proceeds to the Continent for his final year of study.

GENERAL RULES.

18 Chemical, physical, and botanical laboratories, a forestry museum, a forest nursery, a library, and gymnasium are attached to the College. Means are also provided for the practice of photography. Students making use of the laboratories are supplied with the needful apparatus.

19 Each student residing in the College is provided with a separate room, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance. Furniture and bedding are supplied by the College, but students are required to provide their own towels and bed linen. Meals are taken in Hall. Wine and beer are not included in the ordinary fare, but can be obtained from the College cellar at fixed prices.

STUDENTS NOT NOMINATED FOR THE INDIAN FOREST SERVICE, BUT DESIROUS OF OBTAINING A DIPLOMA IN FORESTRY FROM COOPER'S HILL COLLEGE.

20 Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service may be received into the College, as far as the available accommodation permits. Such students may pass through the course of instruction prescribed for the nominees of the Indian Forest Service, as detailed above, or they may be permitted to participate in the instruction given in certain subjects only. On attaining the prescribed minima of marks in the several branches of study and in totals as laid down above, they will receive, as the case may require, either the College diploma in Forestry or special certificates showing in what subjects they have followed the instruction, and with what result.

No student who was not under the age of 20 on the 1st June in the year in which he entered the College will be permitted to compete for any scholarship or prize.

21 Candidates who desire to be admitted under paragraph 20 may submit the necessary application at any time, but not later than the 15th day of June of the year named for admission, except with the special permission of the President. The application must be made on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary of the College.

22 Candidates whose applications are found satisfactory as to character and in other respects will be required to undergo an examination, to be held at the College, about the last week in June of the year for admission. The objects of the examination will be to ascertain whether the candidate is qualified to follow the course of instruction with advantage (or certain parts of it, as the case may be). Candidates who do not come up to the required standard will not be admitted to the College.

The President may dispense with the whole or any portion of this examination in the case of a candidate who produces a University diploma, or other similar certificate granted by a recognised examining body.

23 Candidates admitted to the College under paragraph 20, who propose to pass through the full prescribed course of study, will be required to pay the same fees in every respect as those paid by the nominees for the Indian Forest Service. Candidates who do not become resident, and are admitted only to certain subjects of study, will be required to pay the fees which may be fixed in each special case in consideration of the extent of their studies. The candidates of both classes will be required to abide by the general rules of the College.

FEES

1 All regular students must pay Rs 15 on entrance as an entrance fee. All failed first and second year must seek admission by applying before 15th May, otherwise their prior claim lapses. They must pay their fees before the 15th June. Third- and fifth-year students who fail at the first and second L M S examinations must pay their fees by the 15th June.

New students must apply and, if admitted, pay their fees before 1st June.

The session will commence on the 15th June.

2 All regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs 96 in two instalments—Rs 48 on the 15th June and Rs 48 on the 1st November.

3 The fee for each course of dissections is Rs 6.

The fee for each course of Practical Chemistry is Rs 6.

The fee for each course of Practical Physiology is Rs 20.

4 Muhammadan students are required to pay the entrance fee of Rs 15 and half the annual fee, Rs 24 on the 15th June and Rs 24 on the 1st November. The remaining half fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

5 The following scale of fees is fixed for regular students who take up courses additional to the full curriculum of a year (Section "Curricula," paragraph 2) —

	Rs
(a) For a single course of lectures in one subject in one year	40
(b) For attendance for three months in one department of hospital practice	30
(c) For attendance for three months at practical pharmacy	30

6 Casual students who wish to attend any course of lectures or any department of hospital practice may do so, with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject, on payment in advance of the fees fixed in paragraph 5.

7 Junior stipendiary scholarships and free tuition for one year are awarded to 10 students of the bond fide second-year's curriculum on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

8 Junior stipendiary scholarships and free tuition for one year are awarded to 10 students of the bond fide third-year's curriculum on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the second year, but not unless they have passed the Preliminary Scientific examination.

N.B.—By the term "students of the bond fide second and third year's curriculum" is to be understood those students who have not failed in a former Test examination of the first and second year, and who therefore have not had to seek readmission.

9 Senior stipendiary scholarships and free tuition are awarded annually to 10 students of the bond fide fourth-year's curriculum on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the third year, provided they have passed either the First M B or L M S examinations. A student who has failed to pass the Preliminary Scientific examination at the end of his second year cannot hold a scholarship in his third year. In the event of his passing a combined examination at the end of his third year, he will then be eligible to hold a senior scholarship. Senior scholarships, with free tuition, are tenable for two years, provided the holders pass the Test examinations at the end of their fourth year to the satisfaction of the Principal.

10 Holders of stipendiary scholarships of a value less than Rs 20 per mensem are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs 70 for the year in which they hold a scholarship. All other scholarship holders shall pay the same fees as regular students, except female students, who are exempted from the operation of this rule [Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No 1285, of 28th March 1895].

11 Students readmitted to a curriculum after failure at Test examinations or in the case of third-year students, those who have failed in the first L M S or M B examinations, will be required to pay half the annual fee in one instalment (i.e. Rs 48) and an extra fee (i.e. for dissection) Rs 6 in full.

12 Students who have passed the Test examination of the second year, but have failed to pass the preliminary Scientific L M S or M B, and who therefore have to take up in their third year as extra subject those in which they have failed, will be required to pay fees for those subjects at the following rates—Rs 20 for one subject, Rs 30 for two, and Rs 35 for three, in addition to the full annual fee.

13 A student who passes the Preliminary Scientific L M S at the end of his second year, but for any reason does not pass the Preliminary M B examination, and who then wishes to present himself for the Preliminary Scientific M.B. or combined M.B. examination at the end of his third year, and has to attend the lectures in Chemistry, Botany, and Zoology, required for this examination as extra subjects, must pay fees in accordance with the provision of paragraph 12.

This practice is, however, not recommended, and such students are advised to ask permission to revert to the second year course of study.

14. A similar ruling applies to students who have passed the first L.M.S. at the end of their third year, but having failed to pass the first M.B., wish to present themselves for it at the end of their fourth year. They must attend the necessary lectures as extra subjects and pay extra fees, but they are advised to apply for permission to revert to their third year.

15. Students who have passed in all subjects at a University examination but fail in the "aggregate" will pay fee as if they had failed in one subject.

16. Students who fail at the final M.B. or L.M.S. examination will pay fees for the subjects in which they have to re-appear at the following rates.—Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three, but without any annual fee.

17. These rules with regard to the payment of fees after failure may, in special cases, be relaxed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, on the recommendation of the Principal (Bengal Government Order No. 267 Medical, dated 19th January 1897).

18. No fees are charged to regular female students or to those of the Female Certificate class.

19. Similarly, no fees are charged to students of the Military Pupil class.

20. In calculating the sum to be paid under the rule 9, "The Students," the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

21. Thus a regular student leaving for Europe at the end of his second year would, after enjoying for two years a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, if he wished for the necessary certificates, be required to pay the following sum, calculated thus—

		Rs.	Rs.
Anatomy	course of first and second year	...	40 + 40 = 80
Chemistry	ditto	.	40 + 40 = 80
Botany	ditto	...	40 + 40 = 80

22. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

23. Students of the Military class and Female Certificate class requiring certificates, in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 5 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case, as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution, Education, No. 601, of 7th December 1880.

2. Any regular student may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professors of the subjects, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates for attendance at such extra lectures if the Professors are satisfied that the student has attended regularly and has honestly studied the subject. For such courses additional fees are charged (Section "Fees," paragraph 5).

3. A casual student wishing to attend any course of lectures or any department of hospital practice may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment in advance of fees at the rates fixed. If the student has passed one of the Preliminary Arts examinations as explained in Section "The Students," paragraph 1, he may be granted certificates of attendance at the lectures, provided the Principal and Professor are satisfied with his study of the subjects taken up.

4. Female students may, with the sanction of the Principal, change their course of study from the curriculum of the University to that of the Certificate class.

5 Casual female students may be enrolled in the Certificate class after commencing a course of study in one or more subjects at the College, but will have to complete the full four years' course from the time of entering the Certificate course

6 All certificates for attendance at these curricula are only recognised by the British General Medical Council, provided the requisite Preliminary Arts examination has been passed

EXAMINATIONS

REGULAR STUDENTS.

1 The examinations compulsory for regular students are the College Test examinations and the Calcutta University examinations.

2 Casual students may be required to pass the College Test examinations.

3 Students of the Military pupil class are required to pass College Test examinations and Final examinations in certain subjects at different stages of the curriculum, in accordance with the orders of the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

4 Students of the Female Certificate class are required to pass College Test examinations and Final examinations in certain subjects at different stages of the curriculum.

The following are the examinations for the different classes of students:—

	First year	Second year	Third year	Fourth year	Fifth year
Regular students	College Test examination.	College Test and Preliminary Scientific L.M.S. or M.B. examinations	First L.M.S. or M.B. examinations	College Test examinations	Final L.M.S. or M.B. examinations
Military Pupil class	College Test examination	Final examination	College Test and Final examination	Final examination
Female Certificate class	College Test examination.	Final examination	College Test and Final examination.	Final examination

NOTE.—It will thus be seen that the first L.M.S. or first M.B. fulfils the purpose of a College Test for regular students of the third year and the final L.M.S. or M.B. for those of the fifth year.

Promotion to a higher stage of the curriculum is dependent on passing the test examinations.

5 Students of the first and second year at the College Test examinations are expected to obtain a minimum of 40 per cent in all subjects, but 30 per cent in one may not debar them being promoted to the second- and third-year's curriculum respectively. Failure to reach this minimum will entail a further year's study before promotion.

6 Those who after passing the College Test fail at the University examinations will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year curriculum, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves for the combined Preliminary Scientific and first L.M.S. or M.B. examinations.

7 Those students who fail at the College Test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific. They will be encouraged to do so, but whether they pass or fail, they will be relegated to the second-year curriculum, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

8 Students of the first- or second-year curriculum, who fail twice at the same stage to gain promotion to the next higher curriculum, will be finally removed from the College.

9 Students of the third year must present themselves for the first L.M.S. or first M.B. examination of the Calcutta University, or for the combined (see paragraph 6 above). Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year's curriculum.

10 Those who fail to present themselves at the University examinations without satisfactory explanation render themselves liable to removal from the College.

11 Students of the third-year, who fail twice at the first L.M.S. or first M.B. will be liable to removal from the College. If the Principal thinks fit, they may be allowed to remain in the College and be relegated to the third-year curriculum on payment of fees at rates laid down (Section "Fees," paragraph 11). This concession may be repeated for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

12 Students of the fourth-year curriculum must not only pass the College Test examinations, but must also show diligence and aptitude in clinical work, otherwise they will not be promoted to the fifth-year curriculum.

13 Students of the fourth-year curriculum who at the College Test examinations obtain a minimum of 40 per cent. of the marks in three subjects and 30 per cent. in a fourth (Section "Curricula") will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail to obtain this minimum will be relegated to the fourth-year curriculum for a further year.

14 Students who fail to pass the final L.M.S. or M.B. examinations must attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the University regulations, and must pay the necessary fees (Section "Fees," paragraph 16).

15 Students who have failed to pass the College Test and University examinations in regular course are not eligible for junior or senior stipendiary scholarships (Section "College Rewards")

16 Students of the fourth-year curriculum will be allowed to compete for the medals, prizes and scholarships of the fourth and fifth years (Section "College Rewards," paragraphs 16 and 17)

17 The method of examination for Honours is determined by each Professor in consultation with the Principal.

MILITARY PUPILS

18 The rules regulating the Test and Final examinations of the Military pupil class are those ordered by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, from time to time

FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS.

19 Promotion to a higher curriculum is dependent on passing the Test examinations, at which the minimum of marks fixed in each subject must be obtained

20 A student of the first year who obtains less than 30 per cent of marks in any two out of the four subjects of the test examinations will be removed from the College

21. A student of the second- and third-year curriculum must obtain 40 per cent of the marks in two subjects of examination (Test or Final) to be promoted to the higher curriculum. A student who fails to obtain 40 per cent in two or 30 per cent. in one subject only will be relegated for a further year's study to her present curriculum

22. If a student obtains more than 30 per cent but less than 40 per cent. of the marks in one subject, she will be eligible for promotion. She must, however, attend a course of lectures in the subject in which she has failed in addition to the full curriculum of the year to which she has been promoted. She must pass the Test examination in that subject before being promoted. Repeated failure will entail removal from the College

23 The same rules for the minimum percentage of marks accepted for the examinations of the second and third year apply to students of the fourth year.

24 If a student of the fourth year gains 30 per cent. and less than 40 per cent in one subject only, she will be referred for a further course of study for one year.

THE MILITARY PUPIL CLASS.

1 The administrative control of this class, as a portion of the Indian Subordinate Medical Department, rests with the Director-General, Indian Medical Service

2 Students are admitted to this class under the orders of the Government of India, Military Department (India Army Circulars, 1884, clause 83). Full particulars are to be found in a prospectus issued annually from the office of the Director-General, Indian Medical Service

3. Students must be of European or Eurasian parentage, physically fit, of good character, and between sixteen and nineteen years of age on admission.

4 While at the college they will be styled military pupils.

5 Their education at the college is intended to fit them for employment in hospitals of British troops and in Military and Civil appointments (India Army Circulars, 1884, clause 83)

6. The course of study is that laid down in Appendix B of the abovementioned prospectus, and will be found in the Section "Curricula" of these Rules

7 Military pupils must obtain permission from the Principal before attending lectures on subjects outside their curriculum.

8 The periodical and final examinations of the curriculum will be conducted, and students who fail to pass them will be dealt with in accordance with the rules laid down in the prospectus issued by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service

9. At the end of the course military pupils, if reported qualified, will be attested and admitted (India Army Circulars, clause 162, of 1888) into the Indian Subordinate Medical Department.

10 At the same time they will receive a certificate qualifying them to practise physic in India and to designate themselves Diplomates of the Medical College of Bengal

11 A military pupil who at the end of his first year at the college does not, in the opinion of the Principal, give promise of proving a successful or desirable student, will be liable to removal

12. A military pupil, in the event of failing to pass the periodical and final examinations of the curriculum, or misconducting himself, may be summarily removed by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, and all certificates, to which he may otherwise be entitled, withheld

13. A military pupil, desirous of relinquishing his studies, can only do so with the sanction of the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, and on refunding the whole amount of pay received by him

14 A military pupil, who, after completing the course, declines to be attested, will similarly refund the whole amount of pay received by him, and will not receive any certificates.

15 The order and discipline of the military pupils is maintained by the Superintendent of Military pupils and the Resident staff under the orders of the Principal

16 While under instruction in the college or hospitals, military pupils are subject to the rules for the maintenance of discipline applicable to other students

17 Leave to military pupils is granted by the Principal

18 No certificate of attendance on any course of lectures, or practical work, will be granted to a military pupil unless he has passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, or its equivalent before commencing the course, and has also paid the fees laid down for casual students (Section "Fees").

Letter No 4291, dated 24th October 1893, from the Secretary to the Surgeon General with the Government of India.

COLLEGE REWARDS.

1 The following are the rewards obtainable by students:—

- (a) Free tuition, i.e., refund of fees at the end of the first year, awarded to 10 students of the first year.
- (b) Government stipendiary junior scholarships, together with free tuition, awarded at the end of their first and second year to 10 students of each year.
- (c) Government stipendiary senior scholarships, with free tuition, awarded to 10 students at the end of their third year.
- (d) Special scholarships.
- (e) Government prizes.
- (f) Class medals for proficiency in each subject.
- (g) Certificates of honour.
- (h) Government scholarships to female students enrolled as regular students, with free tuition.

2 Free tuition, as above defined, is available to regular students only of the first year

3 Stipendiary scholarships are awarded only to regular students of the College.

4 Regular students, who at any time are referred for a second year of study in all the subjects of one curriculum, are thereby rendered ineligible for any of the stipendiary scholarships, junior or senior. They are, however, eligible for the special scholarships and class prizes of the fourth and fifth year.

5 A student who has failed to pass the Preliminary Scientific Examination at the end of his second year cannot hold a scholarship in his third year. In the event of his passing a combined examination at the end of his third year, he will then be eligible to hold a senior scholarship.

6 A student referred for a further course of study in one subject of curriculum is not eligible to compete for honours in that subject.

7. Certain Clinical College prizes, and all class gold medals and certificates of honour, are open for competition to all students except casual students.

8 A female student enrolled as a regular student may compete for all scholarships and medals.

9. A student who has permission to attend a course in excess of the curriculum of his year is eligible for the prizes given for that course.

10. Casual students are ineligible for stipendiary scholarships, prizes and certificates of honour.

11. A Government female scholarship of Rs. 20 per mensem may be granted to a female student on entrance for five years, provided that—

- (a) She is a promising student.
- (b) She is not receiving a scholarship of that value from any other course external to the College.
- (c) She is willing to bind herself to serve Government for four years, if called upon to do so after passing out of the College (Government of Bengal, Education, No 1285, of 28th March 1895.)

NOTE.—If a female student comes to the College with a scholarship of less value than Rs. 20 a month, she shall be entitled to receive the balance in the shape of a supplementary scholarship from Government on the above conditions.

12 A student holding a senior scholarship who fails to pass the test examination of the fourth year to the satisfaction of the Principal will forfeit his scholarship, which may then be awarded for one year to the student of the fifth year who stands highest in the results of the fourth year examination and is not the holder of any scholarship.

13 Senior and junior scholarships will not be awarded to any student who has gained the Durga Charan Laha Scholarship of Rs. 80 per mensem (Calcutta University Calendar) or any other scholarship.

14 A gold medal is awarded to the best student in each subject on the result of the Honours examination. In those subjects in which the course is biennial, the best of the students of the two years may obtain the gold medal, unless there be a special medal for the junior year. If the winner is of the junior year, he can only receive the reward of the junior year.

15 The fact of a student having obtained a medal or certificate of honour will not prevent him being relegated to a further year in that curriculum, the test examination of which he has failed to pass.

16. Discretionary awards of three in each subject may be awarded by the Professor, and the Professor may award to students who have not obtained the medal.

17. Discretionary awards of three in each subject may be awarded by the Professor, and the Professor may award to students who have not obtained the medal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

TRAVELLING EXPENSES OF HONORARY MAGISTRATES.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR RAVANESHWAR PRASHAD SINGH, BAHADUR, of Gidhour, asked —

Is the Government aware that Honorary Magistrates who come to the Sub-divisions from a long distance to hold Benches have to do so at considerable expense to themselves, and that many are quite unwilling to serve, and some resign, in consequence? Will the Government be pleased to consider the advisability of allowing travelling expenses to Honorary Magistrates, as in the case of the members of the District Board?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied :—

"It has not been brought to the notice of the Government that service as an Honorary Magistrate at a Sub-division is generally distasteful for the reasons stated by the Hon'ble Member. Travelling allowance has never been given to Honorary Magistrates, save in isolated cases, when it has been granted for particular reasons and for special duties, and the Government is of opinion that this policy should be maintained. The parallel between Honorary Magistrates and Members of a District Board is not complete, because the former, almost without exception, live close to the scene of their duties, while it is essential, for the proper working of a District Board, that its Members should be drawn from all parts of the district."

MUFASSAL DUFFADARS.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR RAVANESHWAR PRASHAD SINGH, BAHADUR, of Gidhour, asked :—

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the oppressive conduct of many of the duffadars in the Mufassal towards the poor? Will the Government be pleased to take the opinion of local officials and zamindars whether the duffadari system has not proved a source of extreme annoyance and also a great burden to the poor, and whether the old panchayati system was not better?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied :—

"No complaints have reached the Government to the effect that many duffadars in the Mufassal oppress the poor. If the Hon'ble Member is aware of instances of oppression and will bring them to notice, they will be inquired into. On the information at present before it, the Government is of the opinion that the duffadari system is a great improvement on that which preceded it."

FEMALE EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR RAVANESHWAR PRASHAD SINGH, BAHADUR, of Gidhour, asked :—

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the backward condition of female education in this country, girls, when they are taught at all, being taught (except among Brahmans and Christians in Calcutta) barely to read and write? Will the Government be pleased to consider the advisability of establishing, or of helping by sufficient grants-in-aid the establishment, in the principal district towns, of schools more advanced than those at present existing?

The Hon'ble Mr. MACPHERSON replied —

"The Director of Public Instruction has recently submitted a special reports on female education in Bengal, and inquiries are now being made in the districts which are most likely to favour it, with a view to the expansion of girls' schools. It may be added that districts and towns in which local efforts and local subscriptions are forthcoming in aid of girls' schools may count on the sympathy and support of Government."

WATER-SUPPLY IN THE MUFASSAL.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, said .—

I beg to draw the attention of the Government to two Circulars, namely, (1) Circular No. 7T.-M., dated Darjeeling, the 15th May 1896, and (2) Circular No. 8T.-M., dated Darjeeling, the 15th May, 1896, addressed to all Commissioners of Divisions over the signature of the Hon'ble Mr. H. H. RISLEY, C I E., Municipal Secretary, and issued with the view of taking some systematic action, from year to year, in the matter of improving existing sources of water supply, or providing new ones, both in municipal towns and in rural tracts, and I request the favour of being supplied with information on the following points —

(a) In the first Circular the Commissioners of Divisions were requested to instruct all municipalities in their respective divisions to prepare two registers showing "whether the existing sources of water supply in each ward or mahalla are sufficient for the requirements of the population, and what ought to be done to extend or improve them," and it was added that "the results of this inquiry should be set forth in the Annual Reports." Was this instruction carried out, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to lay before the Council the results of the inquiry since the Circular was issued?

(b) In the second Circular, the Commissioners were requested to instruct all District Boards in their respective divisions to prepare two registers, "showing whether the existing sources of water-supply in every village containing more than 100 houses are sufficient for the requirements of the population" and "what ought to be done to extend or improve them." Was this instruction carried out, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to lay before the Council the results of the inquiry since the Circular was issued?

(c) In the second Circular it was urged that an annual programme of operations relating to village water-supply should be submitted to the Commissioner with the budget estimate of the Board. Is this annual programme of operations submitted regularly; and, if so, will the Government be pleased to lay before the Council the programmes of operations relating to village water-supply since the Circular was issued?

(d) In the second Circular, District Officers were asked to "make the inspection of villages, with reference to water-supply, a cardinal point in their own tours and in those of their subordinates, and to take full notes of facts in each case with a view to supplementing and correcting the registers" Are these inspections of villages with reference to water-supply made by the District Officers and their subordinates, and full notes of facts taken in each case with a view to supplementing and correcting the registers, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to state the results of such inspections by District Officers and subordinates since the Circular was issued?

The Hon'ble Mr. KISCH replied .—

"(a) The instruction was carried out, and the results of the inquiry are to be found in Appendix M of the Annual Reviews of the Reports on Municipalities for the years 1896-97 to 1899-1900 and in Appendix II of the Review of the Reports for 1900-1901.

"(b) The instruction was carried out, and by the end of the year 1899-1900, it was reported that the registers were practically complete. The results, as regards all villages with more than 100 houses, cannot be laid before the Council in the same detail, as the results for municipalities are given in the Reviews mentioned in reply to clause (a) of this question. The results, so far as they appear from expenditure are, however, given in the return presented to the Council in response to the Hon'ble Member's question at the last meeting, and some further details will be found in Form No. IV in the Reviews of the Reports of District Boards for the years 1896-97 to 1899-1900.

"(c) The Government has no reason to doubt that the annual programme of operations is submitted regularly to the Commissioner as prescribed. The programmes are not submitted to the Government, but as both the preparation of the programmes and the provision of funds for their execution rest with the District Boards, it may be taken that the programmes are closely in accordance with the results given in the documents referred to in the answer to clause (b).

"(d) The Government has no reason to doubt that the instructions quoted are obeyed. In fact, the question has only recently been raised whether, now that the registers have been completed, their periodical revision does not involve an expenditure of labour and time out of proportion to the results. The Government has no detailed information of the results of the inspections referred to in this clause of the question. Those results are embodied in the local registers, which are too voluminous to place before the Council."

PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY, of Cossimbazar, asked.—

In view of the present position and the future prospects of the Provincial Judicial Service, will the Government be pleased to state why the improvement vouchsafed has not yet been made, although provision was made in the Budget of last year?

The Hon'ble Mr. BOURDILLON replied —

"Certain recommendations for improving the position and prospects both of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs were submitted for the orders of the Government of India some time since. They are now under the consideration of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India."

ENGINEER ESTABLISHMENT.

The Hon'ble DR ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—

(a) With reference to the Resolution of the Government of Bengal, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th April, 1901, regarding the appointment of officers in the Engineer establishment and of subordinates to the Upper Subordinate establishment of the Public Works Department, will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of postponing the operation of the Resolution which seriously affects the prospects of the students of the Engineering Department of the Sibpur College, and which ought not, therefore, to prejudice students, who took their admission into the College at a time when Bengal Government Resolution No. 329E, of 13th December, 1893, was in force?

(b) With reference to paragraph VII of the same Resolution, will the Government be pleased to consider whether it is desirable that the final list, in order of merit, should be based entirely upon the results of the practical examination referred to in paragraph VI, and that the proficiency which candidates have attained in what is described as "Scientific and Engineering knowledge" should be completely ignored?

(c) With reference to paragraphs VIII, IX and X of the same Resolution, will the Government be pleased to state whether it is intended that a graduate of the University, who is appointed an Apprentice Engineer under paragraph VIII, and who is subsequently confirmed as an Assistant Engineer, is liable to be superseded under paragraph X by a person who is originally appointed an Overseer under paragraph IX, and is subsequently promoted to be an Assistant Engineer under paragraph II? If this be the intended operation of paragraph X, will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of restricting the operation of the said paragraph to appointments made under paragraph IX?"

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE, replied —

"(a) Under the system in force prior to the Resolution of April last, the whole of the appointments from the Sibpur College, excepting mechanics required for special purposes, were given to graduates of the Calcutta University in the order of their seniority at the final examination of the College. Under the arrangements made last April, these graduates are required to compete, not only with each other, as before, but with students of the Apprentice side of the College, and all have to go through the practical course described in the orders at the end of their theoretical instruction. The guaranteed appointment of Apprentice Engineer is still reserved to University graduates, and to them alone. But for the appointments in the Upper Subordinate Service the selection is made on the joint results in theoretical and practical work in candidates from both sides of the College. The Government regrets that it cannot, in the interests of the public service, postpone the introduction of this scheme, which, as notified in the Resolution of April, 1901, will take effect in the current year.

"(b) The assertion that the theoretical proficiency of candidates in 'Scientific and Engineering knowledge' is completely ignored is incorrect, for the following reasons —

(i) Under Rule VIII of Resolution No. 1252E, of 4th April, 1901, the University degree commands the Apprentice Engineer's appointment.

(ii) The minimum number of four students selected for practical training from the Engineering side of the College are taken in the order in which they stand at the top of the University list (Rule III)

"Thus, the theoretical proficiency of students has already been fully allowed for in regard to the Apprentice Engineer's appointment. The best practical Engineer student graduate will get the appointment of Apprentice Engineer. From amongst the rest of the competitors the best practical men, whether graduates or apprentices of Sibpur, or a student from Bihar School of Engineering, will get the appointments of Upper Subordinates in the Public Works Department.

"(c) It is not intended that a graduate of the University, who is appointed an Apprentice Engineer under paragraph VIII, and who is subsequently confirmed as an Assistant Engineer, shall be superseded under paragraph X, by an Upper Subordinate, who is promoted to be an Assistant Engineer. When the promotion of the Apprentice Engineer and of the Upper Subordinate to the grade of Assistant Engineer is simultaneous, the seniority will be given to the Apprentice Engineer."

THE HOWRAH BRIDGE ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. JOSCELYNE moved that the Bill to extend the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, to the Howrah Bridge be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL DRAINAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1902.

The Hon'ble Mr. MACPHERSON moved that the Bill to amend the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Nolan, the Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon, the Hon'ble Mr. Gupta, the Hon'ble Maharaja Sir Ravaneshwar Prashad Singh, Bahadur, of Gidhour, the Hon'ble Babu Joy Gobind Law, the Hon'ble Maharaja Manindra Chandra Nandy, of Cossimbazar, and the Mover, with instructions to report in July next.

The Hon'ble BABU JOY GORIND LAW said:—"All landholders, who have been affected, or are likely to be affected, by the operations of the Drainage Act, will welcome with satisfaction the Bill now before the Council, not as a boon granted to them, but as a simple measure of justice. Hon'ble Members are aware that under the law, as it stands at present, Government is provided with a ready and effectual means for recouping itself for the cost of drainage works, but the landholders, on whom the first brunt of the assessment falls, have been afforded no similar facility for recovering them from tenure-holders and tenants, who are the parties primarily benefited by such works. True the landholders can have recourse to the Civil Courts, but we all know what this means, where one has to deal not with a few individuals, but with hundreds of persons. In reality it has been found that he is practically without any effectual means of recovering the assessments from the tenants, and so much so has thus been the case, that some landholders, I am informed, have been actually ruined. The Bill, so far as I can judge, will go a long way towards redressing this serious grievance."

There is one point, however, which I will submit to the Government and the Council, and which, in my humble opinion, is in need of rectification. Under section 26 of the existing Drainage Act, all advances made by Government shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from the day that payments are made from the Treasury until recovery. Again, it is provided that all such interest, which is due up to the date of the completion of the works, shall be added to the total amount of the principal sums advanced, and interest at 5 per cent. per annum shall be payable on the sum total of such interest and principal, or, in other words, compound interest is to be charged. Now compare this with the provisions of the Embankment Act. There the interest charged is much less burdensome. Section 67 of that Act provides that instalments of the cost shall carry interest at 5 per cent., or at such rate, not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may determine, from the end of the year in which they are payable, and compound interest is not thought of. So that the position is this, that in case of projects under the Embankment Act no interest is payable until the landholders fail to pay the instalments fixed by the Collector, but under the Drainage Act interest accrues as soon as any advances are made by the Government for carrying out a scheme, and when it is considered that under the Drainage Act an interval of two or three years must elapse before the works could be completed, and a further period of four or five years must intervene before the cost could be distributed among landholders and tenants, it is no wonder that the heavy charge of accumulated interest bears hardly and has a depressing influence on landholders and tenants alike, and tends to make such schemes unpopular. Further, I am sure it is not the wish of the Government to make a profit by these operations, and I would submit, for its consideration, whether the interest charged might not be reduced to  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent., which is the rate for Government loans, and compound interest done away with altogether."

The Motion that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee was then put and agreed to

THE BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1902-1903.

The Hon'ble MR. KISCH moved for the discussion of the Financial Statement for 1902-1903.

The Hon'ble BABU JOY GORIND LAW said:—"I will venture to offer a few brief observations on some items of the Financial Statement now before the Council. First, I will refer to the allowance of a special provision of 10 lakhs for Educational reforms; secondly, to the special provision of 4 lakhs for Police reforms, the provision of 5 lakhs for improving the financial position of District Boards, and an additional provision of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs specially assigned for the construction of feeder roads by District Boards. As regards Educational reforms, no details under this head are given. It is much to be desired that a substantial portion of the grant may be utilised in encouraging technical education. Sibpur College does not appear to meet the requirements of the country. According to my information, young men apprenticed to Messrs. Burn and Co. prove to be more efficient engineers and mechanics than the students turned out by the Sibpur College. Electrical Engineering is, I am told, not sufficiently encouraged in that College, and, under the present conditions, the demand for Electrical Engineers will not be supplied by that College. Police reforms have been the great want of the country, and no one has more strongly and forcibly advocated them than His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor. It is absolutely necessary to spend more money on the Department with a view to providing a better class of men and gradually to eliminate the dishonest element from the force. At present nobody wants to have anything to do with policemen. It could not too frequently be impressed upon them that they were paid to protect the people and not to harass them; as is well known, the District Board cannot take up the construction of new roads for want of funds, and the people who pay Road-Cess do not get any appreciable benefit for the tax they pay. The contribution from Provincial to the District Board Fund will meet a crying want, and I am glad that Government is now in a position to make this contribution, and it is to be hoped it will do so regularly every year. The improvement of the road and communications in the mufassal is a vast field, and can only be effected by regular annual contributions. I am glad to see a provision made in the Budget Estimate of Rs. 40,000 for Munsifs' residences. This has not come too soon. In out-of-the-way places in the interior they can get no suitable house accommodation, and are obliged to live in thatches and to hold their Courts under similar structures. It appears to me to be a good plan, if residences and Courts were combined under the same roof. I will refer to one other item in the statement which stands in need of explanation. The item I refer to is the provision of Rs. 2,20,000 for the Fenwick Bazar Police-station. This provision appears to be extravagantly large. Imagine what the cost would be if similar accommodation were provided for the other thanas, of which I believe there are some 26 within the municipal area of Calcutta. I am inclined to think that this item is an error,—possibly a printer's error."

The Hon'ble Mr. DAS said :—"I have had occasion in previous years to congratulate the Member in charge of the Finances on presenting a Prosperity Budget. The Budget which we have now before us is not only one which shows prosperity, but it also shows ample progress and the credit of presenting a Budget which distributes the fruits of prosperity among a most deserving class of public servants, and which applies the fruits of prosperity to the introduction of much-needed reforms, I say, the credit of presenting a Budget of this character to the Council is due to the Hon'ble Mr. Kisch, to whom the thanks of the public and the gratitude of the public officers whom the Budget provisions benefit are due.

"The remarks made by non-Official Members of this Council have often been called infructuous and irrelevant. During his two years of official life in this Council, there are only two days, Sir, when a non-Official Member can express his views on matters of importance, and on these two days his position is a source of bewilderment to him and of disappointment to the people whose interests he represents. I believe, Sir, that a great deal of this is due to incorrect notions regarding the position and duties of a non-Official Member. Some would wish to draw an unjustifiable analogy between his position and that of a Liberal Member of the House of Commons; others liken him to a statutory being lifeless as a statue, while a third class regard him as a sworn hostile critic of the Government, unworthy of its confidence. I feel it my duty, Sir, to say from my place here what I have considered the duties of a non-Official Member to be, and how I held that position here. I have always considered myself here as a humble interpreter between the Government and the people I represent. That is the right view of the position of a non-Official Member, it quadrates with the laws and rules which regulate the proceedings of this Council and harmonises best with our experience. As an interpreter his duties are to communicate to the Government the wishes and wants of the people, and to see that the intentions of the Government are not misunderstood by the people. However humble, Sir, this is by no means a useless office in a country like India where the difference in education, life, thought and religion between the ruling and subject races is greater than it is in any country in the world under a foreign Government. However humble his duties as an interpreter between the Government and the people may be, they are beset with very serious difficulties. Very often a non-Official Member is liable, from want of information, to suggest measures or reforms which are not acceptable to Government. It is not possible for any non-Official Member to have at his command all that information, all those figures, facts and statistics, which cost the Government the services of the ablest men in the ablest service in the world—I mean the Indian Civil Service. And this information, at the command of the Government, is not available to the non-Official Member, and I am sorry to say his application to have most necessary informations is sometimes most unreasonably disallowed.

"When the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Bill was before the Council, I applied for a copy of the former Bill on the same subject which had been introduced in this Council on a previous occasion and to which old Bill reference was made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill in his speech when he introduced the new Bill. But my application was disallowed first by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and eventually by His Honour the then Lieutenant-Governor.

"Is it really a useless waste of time to give a few minutes during the term of two years to the interpreter of the wishes and wants of the people? Should it not be the duty of a wise and sympathetic Government to know the wants and wishes of the people, although it may not be in its power to grant ready and immediate relief? A wise paterfamilias, anxious to enforce loyal and loving obedience to his authority and to secure happy contentment in his family, does not consider his children hostile critics even when their demands are wild and far beyond his powers and means. With these remarks, Sir, I pass on to deal with the Budget.

"I notice that there is an Imperial grant of 10 lakhs for Education. Your Honour's Government has three hungry children—Bengal, Bihar and Orissa,—each of which casts a wistful look at this Imperial grant. I am sure Your Honour will not deprive any one of them of his due share. I know the eldest of these is Bengal. The claims of the first-born should no doubt be preferred in matters of inheritance to those of the younger children. I congratulate Bengal on its invaluable heritage of a Permanent Settlement and on its possession of a wealthy landed aristocracy.

"But in the matter of Education, Sir, when the first-born is able to appreciate Education and to look after himself, the parental attention should be withdrawn from him, or rather it should be directed to the younger children who may stand in greater need of such attention on account of their youth and helpless condition.

"In Orissa we have only one Government College for high education, which is very badly off for accommodation for lecture rooms, and for the use of its teaching staff. I have explained the details of our want to the Hon'ble Mr. Macpherson, to whom I take this opportunity of conveying the thanks of the students for the kind attention with which he received my representation on their behalf.

"We also require some sort of Hostel for Muhammadan students. The Muhammadan community of Orissa are trying their best to raise funds, and, before long, I think there will be an application made to Government for a contribution towards the establishment of a Muhammadan Hostel.

"We have also a Medical School at Cuttack, which is attached to the General Hospital there. I find, at page 26 of this Statement, two remarks,—the first is against Medical Schools and the second is against Mufassal Hospitals and Dispensaries. Under the head 'Medical School,' I find the remark that there was some saving. I have often heard it said that the Medical School and General Hospital at Cuttack is behindhand in the supply of surgical and midwifery instruments and appliances. I do not know whether it is possible to adjust the account so as to make available a decent sum for the supply of this want. I can only add that any grant to a medical school to which there is attached a hospital is not only a grant for the noble purpose of education, but it is combined to the still nobler purpose of giving relief to suffering humanity.

'As was noticed by the Hon'ble Member who preceded me, a good portion of the Educational grant ought to be given towards education in Technical Schools.

"There is nothing in the Budget to show whether any portion of this sum is for the benefit of Primary Education, but I do sincerely hope that it is the intention and aim of Your Honour's Government to re-cast and re-model Primary Education and to give it a practical turn. Primary Education should aim at improving the condition of the artisan and agricultural classes. To attain this aim, the hand and the head must be trained together. They must be trained, so to speak, to go in double harness, each helping the other in the path of progress. But the present system of education is subversive of this very object it produces, as it were, an aversion in the agricultural and artisan boys to engage in the occupation of their forefathers. An agricultural or artisan boy who has been in the Primary and Upper Primary Schools considers it infra dig to engage in manual labour. This, Sir, is a most deplorable state of things. I do not consider it deplorable because it fills the country with disappointed and discontented aspirants for the posts of muharrirs, gumashtas, and petition-writers, but because it deprives the country of its most valuable resources. I think, Sir, that the richest legacy left by his ancestors to the Indian artisan is his organic adaptability to the handicraft of his ancestors—an adaptability which has been handed down from generation to generation, and which has an immense value in the commercial competition of the world. This gift of the Indian artisan to his descendants is the result of the combined action of the law of evolution and the law of heredity.

"The present system of education, by producing in the minds of these men an aversion to engage in their ancestral occupations, really robs the country of its most valuable resources. And not only that, Sir, but the present system of education is of such a character, that it educates a boy in many subjects which are not likely to be useful to him, having regard to the class from which he comes. Anybody who has visited these Primary and Upper Primary Schools and examined the boys of these schools will agree with me when I say that there are many subjects taught in these schools which might be cut down or omitted, and the time thus saved might be spent profitably in giving the boys a more practical training.

"Three or four years ago I suggested that Agricultural Primers should be introduced into these Primary Schools, and that small agricultural farms should be attached to these schools, so that these boys might gain a practical experience on these farms on the lessons which they learn from the Primers. In connection with this, I should draw Your Honour's attention to the remarks made from the chair by your predecessor, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, who, speaking on the subject of the establishment of Agricultural Schools, said—

'I could say a good deal in regard to the establishment of Agricultural Schools. The Hon'ble Member did not meet with much sympathy from the Hon'ble Mr. Bolton, but my experience has been different, and I confess I have a good deal of sympathy with him. In the Central Provinces, Agriculture is taught in the village schools. We had a garden attached to many schools in which the lessons learnt from the Agricultural Primer are put into practice. Once a week the elders of the villages used to come to the school, have the Primer read to them, and discuss with the boys and the master how the lessons in the Primer quadrated with their experience, and the whole village took more interest in that subject than in any other.'

"Of course, it may not be possible, it may not be expedient, or it may not be within the means of Government to attach such farms to all schools, but, at any rate, an experiment might be made by introducing them into some schools. It is not possible for Government to organise a system of teaching by which everybody can be taught his ancestral handicraft, but at the same time the system of education might be so modified, Sir, that a boy might have training of the head at schools and training of the hand at home, instead of having a whole-time education at school, he might have a training in the ancestral occupation at home, combined with book education at school, or a boy might attend school certain days of the week and attend to his ancestral craft on the other days of the week. This would, I think, attract more boys, because, with the very poorest artisan, whole time education does not find favour; for during the whole time the boy is at school, the father is deprived of his services, and, to be deprived of the boy's services, means a loss of income. If the education of these boys were better regulated, we would not have this deplorable result—this aversion to being engaged in the ancestral craft, but, on the contrary, the hand and the head would be trained together, and the education thus gained, instead of being a deterrent to his carrying on his ancestral occupation, would be the means of improving it in every respect. If we cannot do anything for the artisan, let us not undo what he has, if we cannot make a better artisan of him, let us not make a non-descript of him. If we cannot feed him, let us not prepare him for a life of starvation.

"In the Financial Statement before us there is an allotment in the shape of pony allowance to Head Constables. This is a liberality in the right direction. There is a sum of 4 lakhs, to which reference has already been made by the Hon'ble Member who preceded me, for Police Reform. There is nothing to show how this grant is to be spent. I dare say the absence of details is due to the fact that there has been no time to put in the details, or perhaps that might not be necessary. I do not mean to find fault with the Financial Statement for want of these details, but what I mean to say is, that I hope it is the intention of Government to do something for the few good and honest Sub-Inspectors engaged in investigation duty. A really good Sub-Inspector is a rara avis, but the few who are good and honest, are very unfortunate and badly paid public officers. An honest Sub-Inspector's work is very arduous, and yet he is often treated very harshly. To begin with, his training is a sad equipment for his duties. His training is confined to clerical duties, he does not get an opportunity of seeing the work of experienced detectives, and he never learns the secret as to how one should proceed in order to bring offences to light and offenders to justice. Then, Sir, he is placed, perhaps, under a European District Superintendent, who has no experience in investigation work or in detective work, so, practically, he gets no help, no practical advice from his immediate superior, all that he gets is a liberal dose of unparliamentary language and threats of degradation or punishment if he does not complete an investigation as soon as his superior wishes him. I hope, Sir, that it is the intention of the Government to come to the relief of these Sub-Inspectors. I shall show also that he is expected to know the law better than the Magistrate or Sessions Judge. If he omits to send up a man because he considers the evidence is not sufficient, and if the Magistrate is of opinion that the evidence was sufficient, he is punished or called upon for an explanation, though the same evidence may be considered insufficient by a higher tribunal, in which case nothing is done to the Magistrate. Then there have been cases, Sir, where he actually gets a belt supplied to him by the department with the buckle misplaced, but if he puts it on as he got it, he is disgraced because he put it on like that,—disgraced before the public and before a number of school-boys. If there is a confidential letter to his superior alleging that he is an illegitimate child, he is summarily dismissed. I am not drawing on my imagination, but stating actual facts, and could give names, if desired.

"In the Excise Department, rewards are given to officers for good work and detective ability. Compared with this, the rewards given in the Police Department are very insignificant. I do not know whether there is any justifiable reason for the special favour shown by Government to the Excise Department, but I do sincerely hope that this reason is not to be found in the fact that the Excise Department is a milch cow which yields a large revenue. If the Excise Department brings in a large revenue to Government, it also adds to the policeman's duties by adding to the vices and crimes of society.

"Excise-officers belong to the Preventive staff, yet they are rewarded for detective work. I should have thought that detective work really comes into requisition when preventive measures have failed, and certainly it is no credit to the staff of officers who call themselves Preventive Officers to be rewarded for work which is of a detective kind, and belongs really to the Police. It has been said that unless rewards are offered in the Excise Department, as it is to nobody's interest to bring to light Excise offences, these offences will never see the light of day. But this is true of several offences in the Penal Code, which it is nobody's interest to bring to the notice of the authorities. I do not say that this system of rewarding officers should be done away with; as it has existed so long, no doubt the Government has sufficient reason for it. All that I have to say is that if it is found of any efficacy as a stimulus in the Excise Department, the same stimulus ought to be given to good, honest Sub-Inspectors for good work done.

"I submit, Sir, that Government also ought to come to the relief of the Sub Inspector in another way, that is, by extending his training previous to his appointment, and during such extended period of training to place him in company with some detectives at work, so that he might have an idea as to how he should proceed in the discharge of his duties.

"At the discussion of the Financial Statement last year, I expressed the hope that the friendly and parental attitude of the Government towards District Boards, as manifested by the grant of 4 lakhs to the District Boards last year, would be emphasized more and more in future years. My hopes have been more than realized this year, and we have got an amount which is in excess of last year's grant. On behalf of the District Boards of Orissa, I beg to thank the Government for its allotment of Rs 30,000 out of last year's grant. I need hardly point out to the Hon'ble Mr. Kisch what the Hon'ble Mr. Baker said in reply to my appeal last year. The Hon'ble Member said —

'The Hon'ble Mr. Das has made an appeal to us that, in making the distribution, the Government should bear in mind the question of feeder roads in Orissa. We are fully alive to the fact that the East Coast Railway will not be complete, unless feeder roads are provided, and the Hon'ble Member may be sure we will give to his division the full share which is its due.'

"I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Finances will bear in mind these words of his predecessor in office when distributing the 5 lakhs meant for District Boards, and 1½ lakhs provided for Feeder Roads.

"Sir, the introduction of the railway into Orissa is associated with your Honour's rule, may I be permitted to express the hope that it will be the privilege of my race to associate with that rule also the completion of a system of feeder roads, which will bring to the door of the villagers, in the most backward province, the benefits of what is the most potent civilizing agency of the glorious Victorian era?

"I gave notice of certain questions to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Finances. they were actually in the nature of requests for information as to details, but as I have reason to believe that it is not practicable for Government to give those details, I now withdraw the questions, and the Hon'ble Member need not go into them.

"Last year, I made an ineffectual appeal on behalf of the Statutory Civilians. I believe in the justice of my cause, and I have full belief in the justice of Your Honour's Government, and therefore I renew this appeal, which I ask you to consider in the light of the facts which I am going to place before Your Honour. And I trust Your Honour's Government will see a way of abolishing the two third pay rule, — at least in regard to the more deserving members of that service, — if it be deemed inexpedient to expunge it altogether. The members of this service have passed through changes of policy, and have experienced the jealousy and envy of the sister services and met with disappointment which have no parallel in the history of any other service in Bengal. The Duke of Argyll, in introducing the Bill relating to the creation of this service, said that its object was to select for the Civil Service of India natives of this country, although they might not have gone up for the competitive examination in England.

"I suppose, Sir, no words would make it plainer that it was the intention of the Statute to open a new door for admission into a ground hitherto reserved for the Covenanted Civil Service. To remove any possible doubt with reference to the meaning of the Statute, I shall only refer to the despatch by Lord Cranbrook, dated 17th November, 1879, in which the Secretary of State vetoed the proposal of Lord Lytton's Government to organise two separate services of a mutually exclusive character. In that despatch the Secretary of State remarked —

'It is, therefore, quite competent to Your Lordship's Government to appoint every year to the Civil Service of India any such number of natives as may be determined upon, and the number of Covenanted Civilians from this country will have to be proportionately decreased.'

"These words make it clear that at that time it was intended to place the Covenanted Civil Servants and the Statutory Civilians on an equal footing.

"The inclusion in a higher service necessarily implies exclusion from a lower service, so that it could not be even plausibly contended that the Statutory Civil Service was a part of the Uncovenanted Civil Service. But to remove the very possibility of a doubt on the subject I beg to refer to the following words in the Government of India's Resolution, dated 24th December, 1879 —

'The correspondence with Her Majesty's Government thus shows that the main object of the rules was, not to transfer to the superior ranks of the Civil Administration officers of a class whose services have already been secured by Government in the inferior ranks, but to attract to the service of Government young men of good family and social position possessed of fair abilities and education, to whom the offices open to them in the inferior ranks of the Uncovenanted Service have not proved a sufficient inducement to come forward for employment.'

"These words show, firstly, that the Government was anxious to have a better class of men than were available for the Uncovenanted Civil Service, and secondly, that they offered higher inducements than were available to the Uncovenanted Civil Service. Agreeably to this Resolution, the Bengal Government proceeded to make appointments by two methods, namely, by selection, and by competitive examinations, and those who got their appointments by competitive examination are, in my opinion, better deserving of consideration, and certainly have more just grounds of complaint than those who got in by selection. The Public Service Commission interpreted the status of the Statutory Civilian in a way which was not consistent with all that had been said and done by Government for several years, and certainly that interpretation was not consistent with the expectation of those who had entered the service. That Commission recognized the rights of individual members to specified posts only, ignored the idea of an organized service and recommended the absorption of the Statutory into the Uncovenanted Provincial Service. Government accepted the view expressed by the Public Service Commission, without giving an opportunity to those whose interests had been affected to represent their view and their side of the case. Their grievances have evoked the united sympathy of the Press representing all classes of the Indian population. The Englishman, the Pioneer, the Madras Mail, the Advocate of India in Bombay, and all the papers here considered the action taken by the Government as amounting to an unjust excheat of vested rights, involving an actual breach of faith. Some of the members of the Statutory Civil Service petitioned the Government to have copies of certain documents in order that they might make a representation, and they asked the Government to forward this representation, with the necessary documents, to the Crown Lawyers for their opinion on the point as to whether they were members of an organized service or mere holders of specified appointments, but no heed was given to their application.

"Two sets of rules were framed under the Statute—one was in 1875 and the other in 1879. The rules of 1875 speak of the appointment to an office, place or appointment under the Civil Service of Her Majesty in India. The words 'office' and 'place' do not occur in the Rules of 1879, which speak of employment in posts hitherto usually held by Covenanted Civil Servants, and this change was no doubt not without reason. The appointments made under both rules were announced in different languages in the official Gazettes. The appointment of Rameshwar Singh under the Rules of 1875 was to be Assistant Magistrate of Darbhanga, and the appointment of Kumar Upendro Krishna Deb under the Rules of 1879 was to be a member of the Bengal Civil Service.

"There is no doubt that the omission of the words 'office' and 'place' in the rules of 1879 was meant to supersede the idea of appointment to specified posts, which evidently was the aim of the rules of 1875, but it seems more likely than not that the attention of the Commission was not drawn to the change in language in the two rules, or to the manner in which the appointments had been made under the two rules. It is not my intention to go behind these rules, but accepting the Public Service Commission's theory I beg to ask, is there any justification for this two-third pay rule?

"The appointment to specified posts ought to carry with it the emolument of the last incumbent. The Public Service Commission do not support this distinction in pay, and think the distinction is 'invidious and indefensible'. If the recommendations of the Public Service Commission ought to be accepted at all, they ought to be accepted in their entirety. Why accept them only so far as they relegate these Civilians into a lower service, and reject them so far as they go to show that the distinction in pay is 'invidious and indefensible'? This is neither justice to the Statutory Civilian nor courtesy to the Public Service Commission.

"In reply to my appeal last year, the Hon'ble Mr. Buckland said that there was no reason why native officers should receive the same pay as Europeans for doing the same work in India. I beg to submit that there is no difference of pay in the case of European and Native members of the Covenanted Civil Service, no difference of pay between European and Native District Superintendents of Police, and no difference of pay between European and Native Deputy Magistrates. The two-third rule does not exist anywhere, except in the Civil Service Regulations, and there too are the qualifying words 'unless otherwise ordered.' This shows that the Government has reserved to itself the power to make an exception in any case they like and to give full pay in cases of exceptional merit. May I be permitted to ask if there is not a single member of the Statutory Civil Service, who, by reason of meritorious services or otherwise, ought to benefit by this qualifying clause. The members of the Statutory Civil Service complain and feel that they are unjustly treated, and yet most of them are now employed as District and Sessions Judges. A District and Sessions Judge is not only the head of the Judicial Administration of a district, but he is also the exponent of British Justice to the people. Is it desirable that so high a functionary should live in the painful consciousness of having been unjustly treated by the Government he serves?"

"Sir, I do not use the language of mere convention when I offer my congratulations to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Financial Department for the Statement he has laid before the Council. Taken as a whole, that Statement is one which is more likely to give satisfaction to different sections of the community than any similar statement presented to this Council in recent years. Of course, it would be idle to affirm that the distributions which have been made under the different heads will give unqualified satisfaction to everybody, but I venture to think that this much may be stated without fear of contradiction that the Budget amply indicates a desire on the part of Government to recognise existing wants, and an endeavour to remove these wants as far as is practicable. To take one illustration only if we examine somewhat closely the details given under paragraph 48—Civil Works,—we shall find that provision has been made for expenditure upon works of public utility of the most diverse character. I rejoice to find that liberal provision has been made not only for the location of the courts and offices of Judicial and Executive Officers, but also for the residences of the officers themselves, who have often to discharge their duties in localities where they cannot get any comfortable habitations. I rejoice also to find that adequate provision has been made for the Training College at Dacca, for additional buildings for the Elliott Madiassa Hostel, and last, but not least, for the construction and proper equipment of the Pathological and Physiological Department of the Calcutta Medical College. These are all grants for carrying out reforms of a pressing character, and, as such, they will be readily welcomed, but I am bound to say that the grant which will be still more highly appreciated is of a very different character. I mean the grant of Rs. 43,000 for restoration of the ancient monuments and ruins of Pandua and Gaur. This affords practical indication that the Government is not altogether unmindful of its responsibilities in the matter of the preservation of ancient monuments, and that, in years of prosperity, the Government is prepared to carry on the work which was initiated a century ago by Franklin and Creighton, and continued half a century later by Ravenshaw.

"With your permission, Sir, I shall now pass on from these general observations to the detailed examination of one or two points in which I am specially interested, and I shall first take up the subject of Education. It is a matter for the sincerest congratulation that the Government of India have found it possible to place at the disposal of Your Honour's Government a sum of 10 lakhs of rupees to be spent for educational purposes, and I beg leave to refer for a moment to considerations which ought not to be overlooked when the details of distribution of this sum come to be finally determined. I have noticed with satisfaction that, in recent years, Government has taken in hand the question of the re-organisation of the Judicial and Executive branches of the service, and liberal grants have been made, from time to time, for improving the status of Munsifs and Deputy Magistrates, and I am glad to find that in the present Budget Rs. 30,000 has been set apart for the improvement of the status of Sub Deputy Collectors. But now that the Government has the means at its disposal, I trust an endeavour will be made to raise the status of the officers of the Education Department, specially in its Provincial and Subordinate branches. It is not necessary at this stage to detain the Council with figures, but an examination of details will show that the Education Department has been systematically ignored, its interests have been subordinated to those of the other departments of the public service, and though the Department was re-organised some years ago, I regret to say that the result shows that the more appropriate expression would be 'disorganised'. It is unquestionable that the Government holds out better prospects to our young men in the Judicial and Executive Services than it does in the Education Service, and the inevitable consequence is that our distinguished graduates prefer the Judicial and Executive branches of the service, the initial pay they receive is higher, and promotion, too, is much more rapid. I do not institute any comparison between the emoluments of a Professor in a College and those of a person successful in one of the learned professions—such a comparison would be obviously unfair, but what I venture to affirm is, that the status of the members of the Provincial Educational Service ought not to be lower than the status of members of the Subordinate Judicial and Executive Services, and that, so long as the present policy is continued, it must prove a source of weakness to the Education Department. One concrete illustration, perhaps, may not be unwelcome, take, for instance, the present Principal of the Sanskrit College, he is a scholar of European reputation, pre-eminent in his own department of study, but though he has served Government for twenty-five years, such is the constitution of the department that he is still in the grade of Rs. 300, and has been there for many years past. On the other hand, if we inquire, we shall find that there are pupils of this distinguished Professor who have entered Government service years later as Deputy Magistrates and are paid at least twice as much as he receives. Surely these are anomalies which may be, and should be, avoided. My remarks, however, are not intended to be restricted to the Provincial Service alone. If we examine the Subordinate Service, we shall find that the condition of things is still more deplorable. My hon'ble friends may, perhaps, be surprised to hear that in Government Schools, teachers are employed on Rs. 20 a month, and these are the teachers who impart instruction to beginners in a difficult foreign tongue. No wonder that the education of our boys has gone from bad to worse, we have, indeed, made education cheap, but we have not cared for the quality. Before I proceed to the next point, I would like for a moment to dwell on the distinction between the Superior and the Provincial Services—that distinction, to my mind, is arbitrary, and I cannot discover that it is based on any rational principle. You take two equally-distinguished graduates, say, from Oxford, and place one in the Superior, the other in the Provincial Service, you place them both in, perhaps, the same College, the work you set them to do is precisely of the same character, only when you come to the question of remuneration, you pay the one just twice as much as you pay the other. This is an anomaly which, I confess, I am not acute enough to be able to justify. I venture to hope, therefore, that the question of the improvement of the status of Educational Officers will receive the attention of the Government, and that an endeavour will be made to remove grievances of the type I have described.

“The next point in connection with the subject of Education, which I propose to take up, is the question of hostels. I am happy to be able to say that the action which has been taken by Government in this matter is a move in the right direction, and follows what has been the universal practice in this country from the remotest antiquity. In all our ancient seats of learning, students have to live with their preceptors, who feed and instruct them. When, therefore, Government insists that students reading in our Colleges should not be exposed to the temptations of this great city, but should reside either with their parents and bonâ fide guardians, or in hostels under the supervision of the College authorities—no one can deny for a moment that the rule is eminently reasonable. But I venture to point out that the modern system is, in one essential respect, vitally different from the indigenous system. In our indigenous system the student lives with his preceptor, and comes into constant contact with him. In the modern system the students rarely or never come into contact with their teachers, and I have no hesitation in adding that the advantage lies distinctly with the older system. I am firmly convinced that very little benefit will result from the introduction of the hostel system, if our students are grouped together in one part of the city and their professors are lodged miles away in Chowringhee. I hope Government will consider the desirability of providing quarters in the hostels for some at least of the professors.

“The next point in connection with Education, which I shall refer to is, the subject of Primary Education. Here, again, changes of a radical character have been only recently introduced, and it is too early, perhaps, to judge of the system by the results it may produce. But I hope it is not superfluous to point out that there is a tendency to make education too literary or too scientific for all students. When education is reaching the masses, an endeavour should be made to train the boys, who come from the working classes, in the elements of the crafts which have been successfully practised by their ancestors for generations. These students consider it a legitimate aim worthy of their ambition to become clerks in Government and private offices, and many of them consider it beneath their dignity to learn the handicraft in which their predecessors have distinguished themselves. But here, again, if we are to lay a solid foundation, we must have a class of trained teachers, very different from the ill-paid and half-starved gurus who teach in our primary schools. It is a matter for gratification, therefore, that provision is made in the Budget for starting training institutions at Hooghly and Dacca, which, I presume, will be on the lines of the institution lately started in Kurseong, and which, I trust, will be followed by similar institutions in Cuttack and Patna. I hope the time is not far distant when we shall have our boys placed under trained teachers in our schools of all grades throughout the country. It has always seemed to me to be very unreasonable that anybody and everybody, with a little general education, is regarded as a competent teacher. No one would think for a moment of employing a carpenter or blacksmith unless he has a competent knowledge of his craft, but we are too ready to assume that no skill is required in training the human mind—not even the amount of skill required in moulding a piece of wood or metal.

“The last point in connection with Education upon which I shall dwell for a moment refers to the Bihar School of Engineering and the Dacca Survey

School. It is satisfactory to find that provision is made in the Budget for raising the Dacca Survey School to the status of the Bihar School of Engineering, but I am afraid a much larger outlay will be necessary before even the Bihar School of Engineering will be recognised by the University. I hope I am not betraying an official secret, when I say that there has recently been a great deal of discussion in the University as to the status of the Bihar School of Engineering, and experts seem to be of opinion that its status has to be raised further before it can be affiliated to the University. I venture to express the hope that the necessary funds will be forthcoming, so that we may have well-equipped Schools of Engineering at Dacca and Patna.

"As I have dealt with the subject of Education at some length, I propose to be very brief with reference to the only other subject to which I desire to invite the attention of the Council: that subject comes, or ought to come, under head '43—Minor Works and Navigation.' We have had in this Council, from time to time, questions asked about the condition of the Nadia rivers, and the subject has been referred to by Hon'ble Members in the course of discussion on the Financial Statement in previous years. As I have no personal knowledge of the Nadia rivers, I shall not dwell upon that matter, but I shall refer to another stream, of which most of us have personal knowledge—I mean Tolly's Nullah. It seems, Sir, that if we are apt to lose sight of distant objects, we are equally apt to have a blurred and indistinct vision of objects too near our eye. It cannot be unknown to the responsible advisers of Government that the condition of Tolly's Nullah has been extremely unsatisfactory, both from the sanitary and the commercial point of view, for many years past. So far back as 1885, a project was drawn up for converting Tolly's Nullah into a still-water canal, but the scheme was dropped, either because the Government was not satisfied as to the wisdom of the course suggested, or because the Government was not prepared to meet the large outlay involved. Thirteen years later, in 1898, a portion of Tolly's Nullah was re-excavated, but I regret to say that the condition of things has not appreciably improved. The stream is, in many places, so silted up as to be hardly navigable at low tide, and it is not a matter for surprise that its sanitary condition is far from being satisfactory. I trust, Sir, this matter may engage the attention of the Government, and some consistent and practicable scheme may be devised to take the place of spasmodic efforts at partial re-excavation, which profit none, but lead to the waste of a considerable amount of public revenue.

"Before I resume my seat, Sir, I may be permitted to offer a few observations upon one matter which has been referred to by the Hon'ble Member who preceded me, I mean the question of the status of non-official Members of this Council. My hon'ble friend has defined such status to be that of an interpreter between the Government and the constituency he represents. I accept that definition as substantially correct, and I venture to express the hope that non-official Members, may, in the future, have greater facilities afforded to them for better discharging their duties as representatives of the people."

The Hon'ble BABU CHATURBHOOJ SAHAY said:—"The unexpected balance with which we enter upon the new financial year cannot but evoke the deepest satisfaction. It was estimated that the year just past would leave us with a balance of Rs 20,00,000, the minimum prescribed by the Government of India, but the new year of 1902-1903 actually opens with a credit balance of Rs 47,08,000. Compared with last year's Budget figures, the opening balance of the new year is better by Rs. 5,04,000, the receipts by Rs. 28,12,300, while expenditure has been estimated to exceed the Budget figures of 1901-1902 by Rs 33,16,000. It is pleasing to note that this increased expenditure is to be laid out on schemes of undoubted utility, many of which have been held in abeyance and postponed from year to year to await the advent of better times. The Government and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary may, therefore, be warmly congratulated on their having been able to present what may be termed a 'Prosperity Budget,'—a Budget which puts before us a generous balance which the Government proposes to administer with generosity. I most heartily welcome the liberal allotments made in the Budget for improving the status of Sub-Deputy Collectors and of the Subordinate Judicial Service, for introducing reforms in the Police Service, for the establishment of Agricultural Banks, for encouraging the Indigo industry, and for purposes of Education. The public is at present in the dark as to the nature and scope of some of the proposed reforms, such, for instance, as the re-grading of Mansifs, the reformation of the Police, and the plan for the improvement of Education, for all of which special grants have been assigned; but I venture to express the earnest hope that the generosity which has prompted these grants will be rendered thoroughly effectual by the formulation of adequate and efficient schemes. I shall, now, with Your Honour's kind permission, offer a few remarks and suggestions regarding some of the matters arising out of the Financial Statements, and I hope that they will receive such consideration as they may deserve.

"The Statement points to the fact that the income from Excise has been increasing steadily. It would be interesting to know in detail the increase realised respectively from license-fees for selling liquors within the distillery area, distillery-fees, Still-head duties, and the license-fees for outstills. If, as we may well suppose, there is a large increase under the last head, it would seem to point to the conclusion that drunkenness is increasing among the lower orders. The outstill liquors are mostly consumed by the landless and labouring classes of people, such as Ahirs, Kahars, Chamars, Dhobis, Dusadhs, Doms and the like. These classes are but too prone to indulge in the seductive pleasures of drink, and there are not a few who would forego their evening meal rather than their evening pot of liquor. They spend so much on drink that they can lay by little or nothing for a rainy day, and this propensity is allowed free play by the cheapness of liquor, which affords them every facility for indulgence. It thus happens that in periods of scarcity they are without the means to stand the slightest strain, and are therefore cast adrift to be a burden on the Government and the public, who are compelled by humanity to take measures for their relief. At these outstill grog-shops, moreover, the cheapness of liquor draws together the riff-raff of the locality, and the grog-shop becomes a fruitful seed-bed for raising plentiful crops of theft, burglary and dacoity. I beg leave, therefore, to suggest that some rules regulating the price, quantity and quality of liquors be framed with a view to raising the price, limiting the quantity, and improving the purity of the liquor sold, that a point be made of issuing licenses only to men of good character, and that the rules regulating the selection of sites for shops and the hours of sale be rigorously enforced. A check might thus be placed upon the propensity to indulgence in drink which is working such havoc among the poorer classes, and if this be provided, it will tend to mitigate the intensity of famine and lessen the perpetration of crime.

"The country will receive with universal satisfaction the news that the question of Police reform, so long delayed, is now approaching solution, and that an allotment of Rs. 4,00,000 has been made in the Budget to enable the Government to make a start in the direction of the desired reforms. What the lines are on which the Government intends to proceed in working out the proposed improvements, I do not know. But I would respectfully beg leave to urge that no scheme can hope for success which does not aim at removing the underlying causes of the inefficiency of the Police. The chief complaint urged against the present Police is that the innocent suffer while the guilty escape, owing to the machinations of subordinate police-officers. This scandalous state of things is to be mainly attributed to the fact that the superior police-officers are, for the most part, ignorant of the dialects, habits, nature and propensities of the people with whom they had to deal, and make but little effort to keep in touch with the people or to gain their confidence by sympathy. It thus happened that the superior police officers are not seldom entirely dependent upon their subordinates for facts and opinions alike. The subordinate police have discovered that they have in their hands all real police power, and that their superior, though officially their head, cannot, for reasons stated above, exercise supervision and control to any uncomfortable degree. It is inevitable that they should turn the situation to their own profit, and take advantage of the limitations of their superiors. A remedy would, I venture to think, be found in an extensive employment of local men as Assistant and District Superintendents of Police. Such men should be recruited from the number of candidates who pass the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service Examinations but fail to get appointments, and from men of rank, position and education to be selected by nomination. The proposal may not be new, but it may none the less deserve consideration. I put it forward in no selfish spirit, in no self-seeking desire to obtain a greater share of Government patronage for my countrymen. Such motives will doubtless be imputed, and there are some with whom the imputation will pass for an argument. But I will ask Your Honour to believe that I have in mind the one object of most efficiently purifying and strengthening the police service, and that I am sincerely convinced that if use be made of local talent, the superior officers of the Service will be enabled to control their subordinates, get into touch with the masses, and win the confidence of the people.

"The cause of Education will doubtless receive a powerful impetus from the very handsome grant of Rs. 10,00,000 made by the Government of India. The wants of this branch of the Administration are varied, and are increasing in complexity with the spread of knowledge and civilisation. The most pressing need at present is, in my humble opinion, the spread of Agricultural Education among the people. Agricultural Education will produce most important results in the economic condition of the rural population. While thanking the Government for the action taken by it in introducing, in certain selected schools, a system of bifurcated studies, providing for instruction in technical and commercial subjects, I beg respectfully to point out that the system requires further development. With an overflowing budget the claims of agricultural education may now be fully considered, and the necessary arrangements to give effect to the scheme recently formulated can and should be made so as to spread the benefits of this branch of education far and wide among the masses. A proposal to remove the agricultural classes of the Sibpur College to Pusa has been, for a long time, in contemplation. I feel certain that the change will be for the better, and will be welcomed by all interested in the cause of Agriculture. It would seem most reasonable that those who are being trained to impart agricultural instruction should receive their training in a locality where their studies may be as practical as possible. Passing now to matters connected with higher education, I beg leave to remark that the establishment of regular M. A. classes in the Patna College is a great desideratum, the supplying of which will advance the cause of higher Education in Bihar. The people of the Province will be deeply grateful to Your Honour's Government if, now that sufficient funds are available, an adequate staff were provided for the purpose, so as to make the Patna College a model for the whole Province.

"I beg leave to submit that the reduction in the values of the senior and junior scholarships from Rs. 25 to Rs. 20, Rs. 20 to Rs. 15, Rs. 15 to Rs. 12 and Rs. 10 to Rs. 8 will tend to injure the cause of higher education. Many students are only able to prosecute their studies by the help of these scholarships, and the deprivation of any portion of the scholarships will seriously cripple their resources. In this connection it should be borne in mind that the cost of living in towns is becoming greater every year. The restoration of the scholarships to their original values will be a gracious act on the part of Your Honour's Government, for which the young aspirants, whose prospects are threatened, will undoubtedly be most grateful to Your Honour.

"As regards the proposed grant to the Indigo-planters' Association, I cordially approve the action of Government. The grant must commend itself to all who remember that its object is to preserve an industry which is a growth of Indian soil and an asset of the State. It must also be borne in mind that the industry provides extensive employment for native workers, and is a source of profit to zamindars and raiyats alike. These obtain handsome returns from lands leased for indigo, while the raiyats are also able, under the exchange system, to take up lands just out of indigo from which very plenteous crops may be expected, seeing that indigo is a powerful fertiliser.

"The establishment of Agricultural Banks will mark an epoch in the history of the administration of the country. It is designed to serve as a preventive measure against famine by supplementing the resources of the poor peasantry, and is therefore a very laudable scheme. Though its ultimate success in the villages is problematical, the experiment is well worth trying.

"In Shahabad the greater part of the Chainpur Pargana, in the Bhabhua Sub-division, and a part of Sasaram Pargana are liable to drought for want of means of irrigation. The peasantry are very poor and the zamindars are seriously involved. In this connection I cannot resist the temptation of quoting the weighty words of the Hon'ble Mr. J. A. Bourdillon, C.S.I., to be found in the Famine Report of the Patna Division of 1896-97, regarding the affected tract in the Bhabhua Sub-division and a portion of Sasaram. 'There is,' he says, 'little or no irrigation; moreover, the cultivators are inexperienced and impoverished, and the physique of the people is poor, and their general condition bad. The grain marts of the Sub-division, such as they are, are supplied either from Sasaram, some 28 miles from Bhabhua, or more largely from the Zemania Station' (vide page 5, Vol. II). There are several rivers and streams, e.g., the Karamnasa, Durgawati, Kadra, and others issuing from the hills. They can, I venture to submit, be utilized for irrigation purposes. The water of these streams runs to waste; and if no large project can be launched, some small irrigation works, such as the erecting of weirs in those rivers, at suitable sites with proper reservoirs for the storing of water, may well be undertaken. The carrying out of such works would protect the country against famine to which at present it falls an easy and constant prey. Such works may not be immediately profitable in the commercial sense of the term, but would indirectly save Government from heavy expenditure on famine relief. This expenditure is very heavy, and the relief works to which it is applied are often of no permanent utility. The expenditure on famine relief in the Bhabhua Sub-division during 1896-97, from the beginning to the end of relief operations, will show how heavy famine relief expenditure may be. Considerably over 3 lakhs of rupees were spent, the supervision being supplied by civil agency. If the Moghulserai-Gaya Railway line, which was then under construction, had not drawn off people to itself, the cost of famine relief would have been still greater. On each occasion of an outbreak of famine, new sets of works have to be taken in hand, and lakhs upon lakhs of rupees have to be spent. If, however, you once establish irrigation works, the effect will be both lasting and protective. I earnestly appeal to Your Honour, in the name of the poverty-stricken people of this part of the country, to graciously provide this tract with suitable means of irrigation—an object which I am well aware Your Honour has much at heart, as is evidenced by your benevolent action in the Tribeni and Dhauka Canal Schemes and the Dudhia Canal Project. Such works will be Your Honour's best memorial. Their effect will be to prevent the return of famine, to restore happiness to our people, and to create a strong and prosperous peasantry—a more valuable asset to the State than any limited return in money can be.

"As Your Honour is aware, Bihar has narrowly escaped the inroads of a great famine. Your Honour's protracted visit to the Bihar district, in January and February last, when the situation looked threatening, earned our gratitude for the future, and produced at that time a very re-assuring effect. We were convinced that when danger might arise, it would be met by well-considered and carefully-matured measures. The year is over, and so far we have not experienced any distress worthy of the name, and I beg leave to be permitted to congratulate Your Honour on so happy a result."

The Hon'ble Mr. Nolan said:—"I think that the difficult task of distributing the moderate surplus of last year among the different claimants has been performed with general satisfaction. I myself noticed, in going through the figures, how closely the actuals of last year correspond with the estimate framed by Mr. Baker. He has now a wider field for the exercise of his abilities, and I am sure we all wish him similar success in his new sphere.

"I desire to draw attention to only one point of minor interest in this Budget,—I mean the Rs. 15,000 which has been provided for the establishment of Agricultural Banks. In explanation of the modest scale upon which this grant has been made, I may say that it is the general experience that progress in this direction is always slow at first. However extensive may be the ultimate result of initiating such a movement, it always takes years to make itself felt. It was in 1849 that the first of these Banks was started, in Germany, the fatherland of such institutions. Nineteen years elapsed before it produced any very considerable effect. Meanwhile a rival appeared to deal with this difficult class of finance, although on somewhat the same lines. It took him nearly fifteen years before he had nearly established favourable results. In Italy we find that much the same thing happened. There, too, progress was slow, though they had the advantage of German predecessors, which had given them both experience and prestige. It took six years to found fifty banks,—a very moderate number; but Dr. Wilder was nine years in obtaining the same moderate results.

"It is now six years since the movement was initiated in the congested districts of Ireland. When I was in the country the last time, I observed that what was conducted under the patronage of Government had the aid of the most powerful association. It was founded by many people of position, and had the universal approval of those persons for whose benefit it was intended. It was extensively patronised by clergymen, yet in that space of time they had employed or had obtained a capital of only from £3,000 to £4,000; or, say, about half a lakh of rupees.

"It is because we have considered what happened elsewhere that we have made our forecast in this Budget on such a limited scale. Hitherto a great deal has been done in the Mutual by various persons towards forming such banks, and, I believe, good progress has been made in places; but so far the Board of Revenue has not received a single application for a grant. I do not mean to say that some men have not asked for some money, but I have never received any application from any body of persons to form a society with whom we could deal with the assurance of being repaid.

"But if progress in this way is slow, I think it is assured. The difficulty which I have found is, that these banks expect all the clerical work to be done without any fees being paid for it. Of course it is very difficult to get people to undertake business on these terms. But once the thing is established, and it gets a grip on the people, all these difficulties soon disappear, and it is taken as a matter of course. At first it undoubtedly takes time. My object in speaking at all on the subject is to submit to you, who are among the most influential persons in the whole Province, that this is a matter worthwhile taking trouble over. It is worth your yourself doing something, or, with the influence of your position, making others do it; for the ultimate results have everywhere been very large indeed. There are now huge banks in Germany, having a turnover of £80,000,000 sterling, or something like 120 crores of rupees.

"As to what has been accomplished, I will read you, but not at any great length, an extract from Mr. H. W. Wolff's well-known work on the subject. He describes the general results as he himself has seen them:—

"You should go into the Valley of the Rhine where the Raiffeisen Banks have been longest at work, and observe to what extent farms have been made habitable and comfortable, how culture has been improved, how machinery has been purchased, and the best manures and feeding stuffs; how the farmer has been enabled to sell his produce for cash at double the old rates of return; how the small peasant can now buy his implements and manures of the best quality at the cheapest wholesale prices, and yet, thanks to a large reserve accumulated in his banks, raised up seemingly out of nothing, as if by fairy hands, at six months' credit; you should see how small industries and trades have been developed, how the usurer, once powerful, has been driven out of the field, and those once poor men have become small capitalists. One is afraid of falling into a snare of credulity in describing these results."

"As a picture of the results in a particular case, the following from the same observer is a striking account:—

"One very striking and characteristic instance comes to me from the Grand Duchy of Saxe-Weimar. There, in what not long ago was a barren district, something like a rural Seven Dials, stands the famous village of Weimar. Formerly neglected, it was, with Honour will not take it amiss, if I point out one or two matters of vital importance, which do not seem to have received that consideration which they deserve. Agricultural Schools are badly wanted in this country. In the Sibpur College there is a class in which none but graduates have entrance, and is thus not of much use. If Agricultural Schools are opened in the Survey Schools of Bankipore and Dacca, and Experimental Farms started in connection therewith, it would, I am sure, greatly benefit the people of this Province, whose means of livelihood are, unfortunately at present, mainly agriculture. Another matter I wish to bring to Your Honour's notice. I observe that there is great increase in the receipt side under Stamps. The new amendment of the law, enhancing the amount of stamps required for leases, has acted prejudicially against landlords and tenants. The Government may, if it so please, reduce the stamp as to leases, in the mufassal about agricultural lands, whether let out in perpetuity or for a term. The amount of stamp required generally for other deeds also, if reduced a little, will be considered a great boon by the people. As much has been said by the Hon'ble Members on the subject, I therefore do not wish to encroach upon Your Honour's time further at this hour of the day."

The Hon'ble Mr. APCAR said.—

"Before referring to certain items in the Budget Statement presented to the Council, I congratulate Your Honour's Government on the financial results of the year. In view of the favourable results of the past year and with a prospect of at least the estimates for the coming year being maintained, I think we may view with satisfaction the proposed allotments, aggregating Rs. 27,52,000, mentioned in page 2 of the Statement. With reference to one item of that amount, viz., an additional Judge for the High Court, and other increases of establishment in that Court, Rs. 1,25,000. On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, whom I have the honour to represent on this Council, I would venture to make the following remarks. The delays in the High Court have been frequently and strongly represented to the Chamber; the Chamber has addressed the Government on the subject, facts have been pointed out that the arrears of cases and the delays in their settlement have been the cause of great hardship, loss, and inconvenience to the parties concerned. I understand that the arrears have steadily increased, and at the present time there are upwards of 1,600 cases on the list. No relief has been given, and further representations are being made to the Government of India. The Chamber views with satisfaction Your Honour's proposal for an additional Judge. I understand the matter has been referred to the Secretary of State through the Government of India. I would therefore urge on Your Honour to impress upon the Government of India, and through that Government on the Secretary of State, the extreme urgency of the case, so that the relief may be sanctioned without further delay.

"In connection with the increase in the establishment of the High Court, it has been suggested that the appointment of competent shorthand-writers would greatly expedite the proceedings of the Courts. The result would be so obviously of advantage, that I have no hesitation in asking Your Honour to take the proposal into your immediate consideration. The present staff of Judges and establishment have been proved unable to keep up with the pressure of work, and large arrears have accumulated. I doubt whether an additional Judge will be sufficient. I think it will be found necessary to appoint a second additional Judge with the necessary extra establishment, and I venture to suggest this point for Your Honour's consideration when the next Budget Statement is being prepared. Although we have not yet got the additional Judge, we are grateful for the proposal for his appointment. Should circumstances point to the necessity for the appointment of a second additional Judge, I would ask Your Honour to give it the careful consideration it merits. In another way the business of the High Court might be accelerated, and that is by curtailment of the holidays and vacations, which, under present arrangements, aggregate about 90 days in the year, exclusive of Sundays.

"Under the heading Marine, I see the receipts are estimated at Rs. 13,33,000, against an expenditure of Rs. 10,23,000, resulting in a surplus of Rs. 3,10,000. The item of Pilotage Receipts is Rs. 12,00,000, against an expenditure of Rs. 6,44,600—a difference of Rs. 5,55,400. I think the Port Commissioners might well claim a percentage of pilots' earnings towards the expenses of the port and port approaches maintained by them. There is another matter to which I wish to refer shortly

“The Bengal Government at present hold about Rs. 65,000 accumulations from the Boiler Fund. As this Fund is kept separate, I would suggest it being invested in  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. Government Securities, thereby yielding an income of about Rs. 2,275 a year. Representations have been made to the Bengal Government for reduction of the fees for Boiler Inspection. I submit, for Your Honour's consideration, the pleas on that behalf. To a business man, it appears reasonable when funds have accumulated to the extent of Rs. 65,000, that a reduction should be made of the fees, which have produced that accumulation, and that by the very fact of such accumulations, the scale of fees has been fixed too high. It has been urged that the number of boilers on which fees have been hitherto paid may decrease, and the income arising therefrom consequently may also decrease. With an accumulation of Rs. 65,000 I think the Government may view that contingency with an easy mind.

“At the last meeting of this Council a question was asked as to the proposed City Improvements. It appears to me that as ordinary municipal taxation cannot be increased, the scheme must have the help of Government, plus proceeds of any special tax that may be considered advisable to impose. The question of the improvements must be faced sooner or later—delay increases the difficulty of dealing with a huge question,—and I trust the Government, as soon as they are in a position to do so, will give the public full information of the proposed scheme”

The Hon'ble Mr. ELWORTHY said.—“Your Honour—The chorus of satisfaction over the finances of Bengal, which was heard in this Council last year, calls for repetition, for we have another Prosperity Budget; we are 27 lakhs on the right side. At the Budget Debate of last year I ventured to suggest that the estimate of expenditure was excessive, and that the closing balance was being cut too fine, but the Hon'ble Mr. Baker reassured us in stating that the estimated revenue had been very carefully considered, and that it would probably be in excess by some lakhs. That statement has been borne out by facts; in the revised estimate the revenue is greater by 12 lakhs.

“A large proportion of the surplus is, however, made up by the saving in expenditure, for we find that 15 lakhs provided for last year have not been spent. With regard to that saving, there is one item which we have noticed with much pleasure—the expenditure on plague. I expressed some doubt last year whether sufficient allowance had been made on that head, it is satisfactory and reassuring that the whole of the allotment has not been necessary. Plague is still with us, but prolonged acquaintance with the disease seems to have made us more callous, and the outcry for expenditure has become less importunate.

“There is a considerable saving under Police, which is less than the Budget by Rs. 1,61,000, in consequence of the Police not being employed to the full increased strength during the year. But I find that there is increase in expenditure on Jails due to increased Jail population. May I ask if one has any connection with the other? I find that in the coming year the very large sum of 4 lakhs goes to Police reforms, which will probably diminish the number of prisoners. The Budget Estimate calls attention to an allotment by the Imperial Government of 16 Lakhs for Education and Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department, but no details are given. May we ask for some information regarding the disposal of those amounts?

“My Indian Colleagues will be pleased with the large grant for Education, and the further allotments for the benefit of their fellow-countrymen in the service of the Government. I have heard the cause of Education and the improvement of the position and pay of Government officers pleaded eloquently, moderately and sensibly in this Council Chamber, and I am sure that there is a feeling of deep gratitude that Your Honour has, during the latter years of your rule in Bengal, been able to do so much in the cause of Education.

and for the benefit of the Native members of the Public Service With regard to Education, the Hon'ble Babu Joy Gobind Law has mentioned that encouragement is not given sufficiently for electrical training in the Sibpur Engineering College. I understand that the complaint is, that the course through which Electrical Engineers have to go, is too prolonged As these Engineers, at the termination of their studentship, receive good emoluments in their start in life, it is a pity that there should be anything to discourage them. I hope, Sir, that this grievance may receive attention.

"There is an allotment of Rs. 1,25,000 for an additional Judge of the High Court, and for important increases in the establishment. This allotment will be received with very strong feelings of satisfaction, for it is a step that has, for a long time, been much needed. The addition of one Judge is, I believe, all that has been asked for, and it is to be hoped that we shall soon find the arrears diminish. It is difficult for a layman to form an opinion, but I have some doubt as to whether one Judge will be sufficient. We must bear in mind that times have changed, and that with the development of the Province in its trade, industries, communications, and the increase in trade in Calcutta itself, the demands on the High Court become greater, and the staff of 20 years ago, therefore, becomes inadequate. The maximum number of Judges permitted to the Calcutta High Court is 15, and I shall not be surprised if in the near future the Bengal Government is asked to make provision for the full number.

"There is another point in connection with the High Court—the holidays and vacations. The custom in India follows the custom in England, which, from time immemorial, has had its long vacation. But India has its own leave rules of a most favourable nature, and long vacations are unnecessary, probably, there may be no difficulty in arranging that there may be more working days in the year If arrangements of individual leave could be more generally made and if the holidays and vacations could be curtailed, the arrears would probably soon cease to exist, and still further strength on the Bench might not be needed. In commercial life we no longer tolerate the suspension of business formerly caused by the Durga Pujas. Government will surely have to conform to the demands of the times and abandon a custom attended with so much dislocation.

"At the Budget Debate of last year several of my Colleagues referred to the scheme for the improvement of the City of Calcutta and the absence from the Budget of any grant for this much-needed reform. The opinion then expressed was to the effect that the scheme was Imperial as well as Provincial, and not entirely Municipal. That opinion is undoubtedly becoming more general. The Secretary to the Bengal Government, in the Financial Department, stated on that occasion that it was his opinion 'that Calcutta had a claim on the Imperial Government for some measure of assistance, but that the lion's share must be provided by the people of Calcutta.' He further stated that 'there were good grounds for the hope that a scheme of finance has been threshed out, and that an agreement was being effected for the provision of the necessary funds in a manner agreeable to all parties and the best practicable under all circumstances.' He also remarked 'that you, Sir, trusted to be able to start work at an early date in anticipation of the necessary legislation.' Another year has passed, and apparently very little progress has been made. The recent debate in the Imperial Council gave only a ray of hope, for the Hon'ble the Financial Member, in his reply to the speeches of the Hon'ble Mr. Turner and the Hon'ble the Maharaja of Darbhanga, stated that 'the question of desirable improvements in the City was still under consideration, and that the last word had not yet been said.' The Hon'ble Member also said that 'it is not a one-sided question that the accounts show very heavy expenditure on Government establishment throughout the year in Calcutta, and these disbursements, by which the City profits, are, of course, largely increased in the winter months, no other Indian city enjoying such exceptional advantages.' Calcutta is the capital of the Empire, the seat of the Imperial as well as the Provincial Governments, and we may turn the argument around and say that, while thankful for favours received during the winter months, the eight remaining months are a financial loss to us.

"Time is passing, and we may, in another year or so, find ourselves with new Rulers needing time to study all the papers connected with the question necessitating further, and perhaps considerable, delay. Speaking as a citizen of Calcutta, I feel some disappointment that we are no further forward, and it may be also disappointing to yourself, Sir, interested in the improvement of this City, that the work may not be undertaken during the term of your rule in Bengal. It is an Imperial question, and we hope that the Imperial grant will be larger than we are led to expect, for we are informed that only a fifth of the cost will come from Imperial Revenues. The scheme must naturally be on a gigantic scale, for we believe in a great future for Calcutta, and we look forward to considerable expansion. The time has arrived when that expansion should be carefully directed. The present congestion and the expansion of the City should, in my opinion, be considered in connection with its approaches. The clearing of those hot-beds of disease, insanitary bustees—many of them situated in the heart of the Native portion of the City—the expansion to the south for Ballygunge will probably, in the near future, cease to be suburban, and the Railway Bridge and Main Station should, in my opinion, be considered together. Unless the Bridge and Main Station on this side of the river are settled and their position fixed, it is difficult to definitely settle the improvements which should be made in the various main streets. And, further, Sir, when the Victoria Memorial Building commences to take form, it will not be too much to ask that Government will attack that bugbear of Calcutta residents, the murky atmosphere caused by furnaces and chimneys located in the midst of the residential quarters, and the sooty chimney stacks of Howrah, whose smoke in the winter months hangs like a pall over the City. I venture to express the hope, Sir, that before we are called together to pass the Budget for 1903-1904, we may know the decision of the Imperial Government, and that we may be in the possession of a scheme, whereby Calcutta may be made more worthy of the Empire, of which it is the capital."

The Hon'ble MAULVIE SYED MAHOMED said —

"After all that have been said by other Hon'ble Members, I have no desire to detain the Council by any lengthy remarks of my own. Last year, I congratulated Your Honour's Government on the financial prosperity in Bengal. It is a greater satisfaction that the present year's Budget shows more prosperity. The Budget of last year has resulted in a larger surplus than had been anticipated. The opening balance in this year is not only larger than in the past, but the closing balance also is higher. That the present Budget can make an exceptional grant to Education is owing to the liberality of the Government of India in making, out of their abundance, a substantial special grant to Bengal. Out of the larger cash balance than what is required by the rules, Your Honour's Government was enabled last year to provide for some needed reforms, such as the improvement of the position and prospects of the Provincial Civil Service in both the Judicial and Executive branches. This year out of such cash balance, which is much more, sums have been set apart for improvement of the status of Sub-Deputy Collectors and appointment of four additional Subordinate Judges and the re-grading of Munshis. These hard-worked Government servants deserve all the encouragement that can possibly be given, as they will appreciate the steps to be taken this year in their interest. It will give general satisfaction to know that 4 lakhs of rupees and more will be expended this year on Police reform, and that 10 lakhs of rupees, the special grant of the Government of India, will be spent on Education. In the way of communication, 1½ lakhs have been reserved for a route between the Kumar and Madhumati rivers, and a like sum has been granted to District Boards for construction of Feeder-roads. Then, a provision has been made for an additional Judge of the High Court. The Musalmans of Bengal are grateful to the Bengal Government, and its present head for the allotment of Rs. 24,700 for the third storey to the Elliott Madrassa Hostel, as also for their share of Rs. 95,000 for acquisition of lands for extensions of Christian and Muhammadan burial-grounds. It is easy to find faults of omission with the allotment for Original Civil Works for the present year, the cost of which has been put down at over half-a-crore of rupees. But it must be remembered that the Government comes to its conclusions after consideration of all demands from different quarters."

The Hon'ble Mr. BOURDILLON said — "With your permission, Sir, I will occupy the attention of the Council for a short time while I make a few remarks of explanation in reply to the criticisms which have been offered by various Members upon the Budget provisions relating to the Departments of which I at present hold the portfolio. Most of these refer to the Department of Police and to the Provincial Services, whether Executive or Judicial.

"It may be convenient to deal first of all with the questions asked by the Hon'ble Babu Joy Gobind Law with regard to the provision of Rs. 2,20,000 for expenditure upon the Fenwick Bazar Thana. The explanation of this apparently large sum is two-fold: in the first place, this thana is at this moment about to fall down, and if the Government were going to continue to occupy it, it would have to be rebuilt, secondly, the present building stands upon a site which is required for the extension of the Calcutta Municipal Offices. The Corporation have acquired the land by law, and the Fenwick Bazar Police will have to be accommodated in another building. I need not remind Hon'ble Members that land in that part of Calcutta is extremely valuable: Government have had great difficulty in acquiring a suitable site, and have been obliged to pay a handsome sum for it. The sum budgetted for will provide not only for the site, but also for building large and sanitary barracks for a considerable force of Police.

"As regards Police and Police Reforms, several Hon'ble Members have turned their attention to this matter, especially the Member for Orissa, the Hon'ble Mr. Das, who has again appeared in the character of Champion of the oppressed, strongly advocating the cause of the Police and of those who have joined the Provincial and Statutory Civil Services. The Hon'ble Member has well earned for himself the title of the Cato of the Bengal Council. You will remember, Sir, that it was said of that great philosopher, that the victorious cause pleased the Gods, but the losing cause was dear to Cato.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das drew attention first of all to the large sum of Rs. 4,00,000 provided for the improvement of the Police; and referring in particular to the Sub-Inspectors, he expressed a wish that this large sum of Rs. 4,00,000 should contain a provision for improving their condition. He drew a pathetic picture of the relations between the Sub-Inspector and the Assistant Superintendent of Police but for the assurance that he gave that he was not drawing on his imagination, I should have been inclined to doubt the facts. He will, therefore, be glad to hear that one of the primary features of the scheme of Police Reform, now before Government, is the improvement of the Sub-Inspector, who will receive better pay and better training in his youth. Incidentally I may say that the period of his training, which used to be 5 months, will now be extended to 10 months. He will be well taught and, as far as possible, the extended period will be devoted to giving him that practical training, the absence of which the Hon'ble Mr. Das has so much deplored.

"The Hon'ble Member also asked whether rewards were given to Police Sub-Inspectors for good work, and he contrasted their position with that of the officers of the Excise Department in this respect. I hold in my hand some statistics of rewards, from which I find that in 1887-88 as many as 2,292 officers and men of the Police were rewarded. This number has steadily risen, till during the year just passed, 2,742 were recipients of rewards, and this total omits the figures of four districts for which final returns have not yet been received. The sums paid away in rewards to these officers and men average about Rs. 20,000 a year. The amount this year has been a little over that amount, but the actual figures are not at present available.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das was followed by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay, who also drew attention to the fact that Sub-Inspectors of Police were not all that they should be, and he suggested, among other things, that they should be trained to higher efforts, that they should be locally recruited, and that, besides the ordinary mode of recruitment by Examination, a certain number should be selected from among those who had qualified in the Provincial Service examinations, but had not been selected for appointment. As regards local selection, a great deal has been done in that direction by arranging that a certain number of Sub-Inspectorships should be offered for recruitment in different groups in different parts of the provinces, so that out of 50 Sub-Inspectors, let us say, who are to be recruited, a certain number will be taken from Examinees at Calcutta, some from Dacca, and others from Bankipore and Cuttack. Men of good family the Government will be glad to welcome in the ranks of the Police, but I fear very much, that until the pay of the Sub-Inspector is raised, it is hardly likely that men of good family, or men of the classes who compete for the Provincial Service examinations, will be content with the Rs. 40; which is the monthly salary of the lowest grade of Sub-Inspector. I think that even those who are most anxious for the improvement of the Police will hardly propose that young men of this class should be put at once into the responsible and onerous position of Inspector of Police, an office who occupies a position which requires peculiar qualifications and especially a long and practical training in the work of the department.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy asked how it was that so large a sum as Rs. 1,61,000 had been saved under the head of 'Police' in the budget for the past year. The answer is that appointments which fell vacant could not at once be filled up, and that a large number of officers were away on leave these and other circumstances made it impossible to expend the whole of the grant within the year.

"Several Hon'ble Members have asked for information as to details of the reforms which are contemplated in the Police. I can only say that the matter is at present in the stage of consideration, and therefore it would be improper for me to say what the details are and what the wishes of the Government are in regard to this matter. It is not certain whether the views of this Government will be accepted or modified by the Government of India, and were I to give any details now—even if this were allowable,—I should only raise expectations which might perhaps never be fulfilled.

"The same remarks apply to the question of improving the Provincial, Executive, and Judicial Services. For the present, Hon'ble Members must be satisfied to know that provision has been made for a sufficient number of Judgeships and for improving the condition of the Sub-Deputy Collectors. I trust that I betray no official secret in saying that the expenditure of Rs. 30,000 in the current year represents only a part of the scheme. It is Your Honour's intention, if possible, to go a good deal further than that in improving the condition of the Sub-Deputy Collectors—a service which is admittedly at present much depressed.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das, again posed as spokesman on behalf of the Statutory Civilians. I was not aware, till he mentioned it, that there was any general feeling of discontent in that service, and I am inclined to suspect that he has been made the confidant of one or two dissatisfied members of that service, and that he does not represent their feelings as a whole. However that may be, I can only say that a question of such magnitude and importance cannot be dealt with at five minutes' notice. The Hon'ble Member, in the course of his address, depicted to the Council the difficulties of non-Official Members who are expected to deal adequately with important questions in the Budget debate without having at their command statistics, facts and figures, which they could study beforehand, and I would ask the Hon'ble Member to look at the other side of the shield and to extend some sympathy to a Chief Secretary who is asked to deal, on the spur of the moment, with a question which has engaged the attention of Viceroys and Secretaries of State through long years of correspondence.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Apear made some remarks on the Boiler Fund, and asked whether the large balance under this head of Rs. 65,000 did not justify a reduction of the fees charged. This question has already been fully discussed, and Your Honour has passed orders upon it to the effect that the present fees cannot be reduced. We have been obliged to meet the growing needs of the Department, and we shall have to meet increments of pay which fall due this year we have also been obliged to take larger offices. As a matter of fact, the surplus is only slightly more than one year's expenditure, and any smaller sum than that would be an unsafe margin to work upon.

"These are all the remarks I have to make with reference to the criticisms offered by Hon'ble Members; but before I sit down, I should like, on behalf of the Government, to congratulate this Council upon the moderation and good feeling displayed in the criticisms which have been made in the course of the Budget discussion. It is not so long ago that this Chamber was the scene of criticisms, harsh and unfriendly, and I rejoice to think non-official Members have begun to realise that sinister motives do not underlie the policy of the Lieutenant-Governor, that the Government has a reasonable explanation for everything it does, and that the one object of the Administration is the good of the Province.

"And this leads me to my last remark. The Hon'ble Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyaya said that he wished that some information could be given in some less official form than a question in Council to non-official Members with regard to the proceedings of Government. I remember to have heard on more than one occasion non-official Members of this Council invited to put themselves in free communication with the Secretaries of Government. That invitation was at the time received with satisfaction, but I fear that it has not been largely taken advantage of. I can say for myself—and I am sure that I speak for my colleagues also—that we shall be only too glad if Members of Council, who wish to obtain information about any action—past, present or prospective,—that Government is about to take, will freely and without formality consult me or my brother Secretaries. I can assure them that if they do so, we will gladly place at their disposal all the information that we can properly give them."

The Hon'ble Mr. MACPHERSON said:—"I ask Your Honour's permission to offer a few remarks and explanations with regard to some of the matters mentioned by Hon'ble Members in the course of the debate to-day.

"Taking the remarks of Hon'ble Members in order, I would first notice what was said by the Hon'ble Mr. Das on the subject of Education. With regard to his request that Orissa should have a fair share of increased educational funds—for the Ravenshaw College, the Muhammadan Students' Hostel, and for other institutions—I think I may promise that due regard will be paid to the claims of Orissa in allotting increased funds.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das mentioned the subject of Agricultural Primers and Agricultural Farms which he would wish to see attached to patshalas, also the subject of Technical Education, and he made the important statement that the present system of Primary Education produces aversion in the artisan and agricultural boy to following the profession of his father.

"It would be difficult to compress, within a few remarks, even the very elements of this vast problem of Primary Education. If it be remembered that we have in this Province between five and six millions of boys of school-going age, that only about one and a quarter millions, or about 25 per cent of them, are now being taught in the 50,000 primary schools, and that to give stipends to the gurus of these primary schools of only Rs. 2 per month would mean an expenditure of 12 lakhs of rupees, and to give them Rs. 4 per month would amount to Rs. 24,00,000, and when it is remembered that we are now spending from public funds between 9 and 10 lakhs a year only upon primary schools, it will easily be seen that any increase of funds at all likely to be got for Primary Education can at once be swallowed up in a very small increase in the remuneration of gurus of existing schools or in a very small addition to the number of existing schools. I am not sure how far the Hon'ble Member may have realised what it is that the boys in the primary schools are taught which is said to inspire them with an aversion for the profession of their fathers. The Director of Public Instruction has stated that of the one and a quarter million boys who read in our primary schools, not 50,000 ever go up for the Lower Primary Scholarship Examinations. The teaching in the Lower Primary Schools is confined to reading, writing and arithmetic. Can such instruction inspire the agricultural boy with an aversion for the profession of his father? Is the extension of primary education on these lines deprecated, or is it desired to add something more? It may be very desirable to add something more to the education of the patshala boy, but we have to consider ways and means, and before we can add agricultural farms or gardens to the patshalas, we must find money to pay the guru who is to teach.

"The Agricultural Primer was a matter much discussed four or five years ago, and a Committee was appointed to consider the whole subject of text-books in primary and middle schools. As a result of the labours of that Committee, some pages giving some instructions in the elements of agriculture were added to the Primers which are read in lower primary schools, and, I understand that in the Upper primary and middle schools chapters of the Readingbooks deal with agricultural subjects "With regard to Technical Education, Government is waiting for a report to be submitted by the Committee recently appointed.

"The subject of Agricultural Education was also mentioned by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay and by the Hon'ble the Maharaja of Gidhour. I think their remarks applied to higher Agricultural Education. The Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay spoke of the removal of the agricultural classes now taught at Sibpur to Pusa. That proposal is still in the preliminary stage of discussion, and is under the consideration of Mr Morrison, Inspector-General of Agriculture, and other experts

"The Hon'ble the Maharaja of Cossimbazar spoke about the establishment of a Mining School. I understand that some students have been educated in mining science in the Sibpur College. If it is the intention of the Hon'ble Maharaja to suggest that a special mining school should be established in the mining district, for instance at Barrakar, such a proposal, especially if backed by offers of assistance from mine-owners and zamindars of the districts where collieries are started, would no doubt receive consideration. The advantage of concentration of engineering education at Sibpur is however, to be remembered

"The Hon'ble Member who represents the Calcutta University spoke of the necessity of improving the status of the Educational Service. He said that better prospects are held out to the Members of the Executive and Judicial Services than to Members of the Educational Service. I hope that I shall not be thought to be out of sympathy with Education and with the claims of officers of the Educational Service when I state that I personally take the view that the work of a Teacher or Inspector of Schools cannot be compared, as regards difficulty, anxiety and responsibility, with that of an officer of the Judicial or Magisterial Service. Would the Hon'ble Member really maintain that the work of the Head Master of a zilla school or of the ordinary staff of a College can compare in difficulty, anxiety and responsibility with that of a Deputy Magistrate in charge of a subdivision in Bengal? I was lately asked by an Educational Officer whether the work of trying criminals was as important or as difficult as that of teaching, and the answer I made to the question was that the difficult part of the work of a Magistrate was not the trying of house-breakers or others of the criminal class, but in keeping the peace in a large district and in holding the balance evenly in agrarian disputes. If we go to England for a comparison of the salaries of School Masters with those of Magisterial and Judicial Officers, we shall find that the salaries of Stipendiary Magistrates and of Judges in County Courts, to go no higher, are larger than those of School Masters, with the exception of the salaries of Head Masters of the endowed schools and of house-masters who make profits from house-keeping expenses. The profession of a Teacher is an honourable one, and I do not maintain that a labourer is not worthy of his hire. But it must be remembered also that a Teacher in Bengal has a life of comparative leisure as compared with the constant work of the officers of the Judicial and Magisterial Services. Then we have to take into account the teachers holidays and also the opportunities he has of making money by writing text-books, by examiner's work, and the like

"I believe in private schools the standard of pay of school-masters is not high. The Head Master of St. Paul's School in Darjeeling receives, I have been informed, a salary of Rs. 400 a month. Hon'ble Members may have seen it that a distinguished Maharatta Brahmin, who recently returned to India after having obtained the degree of Senior Wrangler, took service in a College in Poona on an exceedingly small salary. It may not be reasonable to expect that there should be many such enthusiasts in the Educational Department, or that teachers as a body should voluntarily accept small salaries, but, on the other hand, the comparative leisure and freedom from serious anxiety, which the teacher ordinarily enjoys, should certainly be remembered when a comparison of salaries is made. I may add that the question of the salaries of the Provincial Educational Service and the Subordinate Educational Service has constantly had the attention of the Government and still has attention.

"I will now turn to some matters brought forward by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay. The first is with regard to the absence of a M.A. class in the Patna College. I am informed that there is no defect in the staff of this College that would prevent such a class being established if there were sufficient demand for it. Such a class was in fact started in September 1899, but only three students joined, and it was closed the next year.

"The same Hon'ble Member spoke about the decrease in the value of senior and junior scholarships. These scholarships are to suffer some decrease in value from the year 1904, because it was pointed out by the Government of India that in Bengal, hitherto, the percentage of Government money given to senior scholarships, as compared with the sum allotted to primary scholarships, is in excess of the maximum recommended by the Education Commission. The Government has therefore determined to decrease the value of the senior and junior scholarships, and to transfer the money saved to primary scholarships.

"Before leaving the subject of Education, I have to notice Mr. Elworthy's request for some details of the proposals for spending the additional grant of 10 lakhs. I am not in a position to give precise information on this head, as the Director of Public Instruction is still maturing his proposals. I can only indicate Primary Education, female education, training colleges for masters, and provisions for better buildings and better equipments as very likely to receive additional grants. In making a distribution, Government has to consider how much of this additional 10 lakhs is likely to be permanent and can therefore be safely assigned to recurring heads of expenditure and how much may not be permanent and may therefore more appropriately be expended under heads of initial outlay.

"I have only to notice one more point, and that is what the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay said with reference to the needs and possibilities of irrigation in the Bhabhua Sub-division. This is a matter which may very probably come under notice in connection with the inquiries of the Irrigation Commission."

The Hon'ble MR. JOSCELYNE said — "I shall not trouble the Council at any length. I have only two small points to note. The first is with reference to the remark of the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay in regard to the establishment of Famine Relief Works in the district of Shahabad. The construction of weirs across streams in the Bhabhua Sub-division to bring the water over the country would mean a very large outlay which, I think, would be quite out of proportion to the benefit derived by reason of the fact that the supply of water would be lacking just at the time when it is most wanted.

"A similar observation would apply to any such works constructed in the Sasaram district. Sasaram is a hilly district, and any system of relief irrigation constructed there would require very large reservoirs, the cost of constructing which would be out of proportion to the amount of water coming down in a year of drought or famine. They cannot be of any use at such times."

The Hon'ble MR. KISCH said — "I desire, Sir, in the first place, to endorse the remarks of the Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon as to the way in which the Budget has been received. Hon'ble Members have accepted generally, with satisfaction, the decision of the Government as to the distribution of its funds, and there have been very few suggestions as to any other form of expenditure to which it is necessary for me to refer. There are, however, two objects of possible expenditure which have often been urged upon the Government, although they have not been mentioned to-day; and as they are likely at any time to be referred to again, I take this opportunity to say a few words regarding them.

"The first of these is the remuneration of ministerial establishments. It has been a very common thing to notice that provision has not been made for increasing the salaries of the ministerial officers of Government. I should like to say, therefore, for the information of Hon'ble Members, that this matter has not been lost sight of, and that much has been done both in the past year and in other years, though in a way somewhat different from that which had often been advocated. It has been suggested at different times that some great measure of reform should be introduced in this respect. At one time it was calculated that within the last forty years or so, there had been an increase in the cost of living of about 75 per cent., and it was then suggested that it would be only fair to straightway raise the salaries of ministerial officers in that proportion. Later on, it was thought that 12½ per cent. would more nearly represent the increase in the cost of articles on which ministerial officers have to spend their salaries, and it was proposed that the Government, when in possession of the necessary funds, should raise the salaries of ministerial officers all round by about 12½ per cent., or two annas in the rupee, at a cost, it was estimated, of about 4 lakhs of rupees at the time when the calculation was made. No doubt the cost would be greater now. Neither of these proposals has ever been accepted by the Local Government, and neither of them could be carried out without the sanction of the Government of India, which would, no doubt, have to face similar applications from all parts of the country. The Government is, however, in full sympathy with the desire that all grades of ministerial officers should be sufficiently remunerated, and what has been done, is this almost every year the heads of some departments or the heads of some large offices come up with requests for increases to the salaries of ministerial officers, and when the Government is in a flourishing condition and these applications are supported by good grounds, they are almost invariably sanctioned. The result is that a very great deal has already been done in this matter, and in the past year three large departments have thus benefited. The increase, in many cases, has been more than the 12½ per cent. which has been mentioned as a measure of the rise in the cost of living.

"It has also often been urged on the Government that something should be done for the benefit of the establishments below ministerial officers. I am glad, therefore, to be in the position to inform Hon'ble Members that the Government of India have sanctioned an increase to the pay of peons, orderlies and chaprasis in Calcutta and in the neighbourhood of Calcutta where living is unusually expensive. This sanction was anticipated and has been provided for in the Budget.

"Before I pass on to matters specially connected with the Departments, which I have the honour to represent, I propose to answer the specific questions which Hon'ble Members have asked in the course of this discussion.

"The Hon'ble Mr Apcar suggested that, inasmuch as the receipts under 'Marine' are in excess, by some lakhs, of the expenditure under that head, the surplus might be given for the relief of the Port and the Shipping. This difference, however, arises from the fact that charges in connection with pilotage are not all incurred in this country. There are very heavy charges incurred in England for pensions, leave allowances, allowances for widows and families, and in connection with leadsmen apprentices. From the figures for the last ten years, I see that these charges were always between 2 and 3 lakhs of rupees, so that if these are taken into account, as they should be, there is a very small margin.

"Then I was asked what has been actually done so far in connection with Munsifs' residences, the allotment for which in the Budget this year has been warmly welcomed. Well, Sir, this particular scheme for Munsifs' residences was started three years ago, and since that time 8 Munsifs' residences have been completed, 13 are in progress, and 4 more are just about to be started, so that in all 25 Munsifs' residences have been undertaken. With the funds available this year, it may be possible for the Public Works Department even to do more than complete the 17 residences in progress, or about to be begun.

"The Hon'ble Maharaja of Gidhour drew attention to the Stamp Revenue, and suggested that its condition was such that there might be some reduction. As to that, I can only say that the matter is one in which the Imperial Government is mainly concerned; it is not a matter within the financial powers of the Local Government.

"I now turn, Sir, to the larger questions which have been dealt with and with which the Secretary of the Financial and Municipal Departments is specially concerned. The first is the subject of 'Excise', which was dealt with at considerable length by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay. I regret that I am not in a position at the present moment to give details of the receipts in the year which has just ended under the different sub-heads of 'Distilleries, Outstalls, 'Stillhead Duty', etc. It may, however, be taken that the proportions of the total in the revised estimate do not differ materially from the proportions of the actuals of 1900-1901.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das has suggested that 'Excise' is a branch of revenue, which the Government is very much disposed to foster, and I am not sure if either the Hon'ble Member or the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay gives the Government full credit for taking all the measures in its power to suppress drunkenness and intemperance.

"The suggestions which were made by the Hon'ble Babu Chaturbhooj Sahay are no new things. The Government, for many years, attempted to fix a minimum price at which liquor should be sold in outstall shops, and it was only after a long trial, and after practical unanimity had been arrived at by the most experienced officers, that it was decided definitely, and I hope finally, to abandon any attempt to fix a minimum price for outstall liquor. It might be a good thing if it could be done, but its enforcement in the area of the Lower Provinces would require an army of informers and Preventive Officers. Oppression and blackmailing would be inevitable, and the remedy would be far worse than the disease.

"As to the quantity to be sold to individuals being limited, it is limited by rule, and as far as practicable as regards both distillery shops and outstall shops.

"As regards the other measures mentioned by the Hon'ble Member, I may say that they are actually carried out. The reports that we receive from our Excise-officers show that most careful inquiries are made as to the character of the persons to whom licenses are given. Before a shop is open, inquiries are made from the local authorities and also from private individuals of position in the locality. These inquiries are not merely made as a matter of routine, for the results show that they are effective. In numerous cases, in deference to public opinion, shops are closed and licenses are refused. Thus, recently in Serampore two shops were closed, because they gave facilities for drunkenness. At a small place in Tippera, an application for an outstall was refused, because the residents objected. In Darbhanga a distillery was closed on account of the objections raised. These are only a few cases which I cite to show that the rules are actually working. If the Hon'ble Member would look through these rules, he would see how elaborate they are, and that provisions are made for every class of objection, and he would, I think, be convinced that it is hardly possible for Government to do anything more. The hours of 'sale, to which reference was specially made, are strictly regulated with reference to the season of the year. There are different limits fixed for the summer and winter, and different limits for buying and for drinking on the premises. And after all, what are the results of our Excise system? The results are more satisfactory to the people and administration of the country than to the financial interests of the Government. Three annas one pie per head represents the annual revenue from the Excise Department in the Lower Provinces, while the annual revenue derived by the Government of the United Kingdom is Rs. 12 per head of the population. It is not the Financial Department of the Government which has to be congratulated on its revenue, but the people who have to be congratulated upon their extreme temperance.

"The Hon'ble Maharaja of Cossimbazar has entered at some length into the relations between the Provincial Finances and District Boards, and has asked for information on certain points other than those dealt with in the replies which I have given in this Council. In the first place, I may say that it is the intention of the Government to continue as long as possible, and so far as its relations with the Imperial Government permit, those contributions to District Boards for which provision has been made in the last two budgets. This year the grants will be considerably above 5 lakhs, owing to the special provision made for feeder roads.

"The Hon'ble Maharaja has asked whether this Government is in sympathy with the opinion that was expressed by Sir Alexander Mackenzie as to the expenditure on the objects of the Cess Act of an amount equal to the proceeds of the Road Cess. I may say at once that the Government is in sympathy with Sir Alexander Mackenzie's views on the subject. I would, however, point out that the matter now rests more with the District Boards themselves than with the Government; and when the Government is asked by the Hon'ble Member whether it will impress upon District Officers the desirability of following the principles laid down by Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the only reply can be that the representation should be addressed to another quarter. Several of the Hon'ble Members here are, no doubt, in touch with the District Boards, and it is the District Boards which have to be impressed. The funds of District Boards are not limited to the proceeds of the Road Cess. In the last year for which we have complete figures, District Boards had, in the course of the year, altogether 74 lakhs of rupees to deal with, excluding the opening balances, and out of the 74 lakhs, only 43 lakhs were derived from the Road Cess. It is for the Boards themselves to decide as to the best ways of spending their funds. It is not for Government and its officers to interfere unduly with the privileges and responsibilities of Local Self-Government. While I am on this subject, I should like to say something on another point which is often brought forward. There seems to be an idea that although the District Boards may be spending on proper objects the whole proceeds of the Road Cess, still, somehow or other, the Provincial Government gains at the expense of District Boards. I shall be glad if I can remove this erroneous impression. In the first place, it is not clear how the Provincial Government could gain from the other funds of the District Boards, because those funds are practically all funds derived from the Provincial Government. They come mainly from pounds and ferries and direct grants by the Local Government, and such additional funds as are derived from school fees are naturally available for expenditure on Education although it is an object outside the original scope of the Cess Act.

"I should like, however, to place before Hon'ble Members the exact position of the Local Government in this matter. In the year before the Cess Act came into operation, the expenditure from Provincial Funds under the three main heads which are now in part made over to District Boards, was—

				Rs
On Education	...	...	..	25,34,000
„ Medical	...	...	..	12,87,000
„ Roads	...	...	..	10,88,000

In 1900-1901, which is the latest year for which we have complete figures the corresponding expenditure from Provincial Funds was—

				Rs
On Education	...	...	..	28,81,000
„ Medical	...	...	..	24,81,000
„ Roads	...	...	..	14,11,000

that is to say, the Provincial Government is now spending under these three heads, Rs. 3,47,000, Rs. 11,94,000, and Rs. 3,23,000, or a total of Rs. 18,64,000 more than it spent in the year before the Cess Act first came into operation

"If, however, we compare the budget figures of the current year for Education and Medical with the corresponding figures for 1879-1880, the results are still more striking. Omitting outlay on buildings, the current budget figures are—Education, Rs. 42,42,000 and Medical, Rs. 24,35,000 against the corresponding figures, Rs. 24,75,000 for Education and Rs. 11,70,000 for Medical purposes in 1879-80; so that under these two heads Provincial Funds are contributing, in the current year, Rs. 66,77,000 against Rs. 36,45,000 in the year before the Cess Act came into operation—an increase of more than 30 lakhs of rupees.

"I hope that this statement of facts will set at rest for ever the idea that somehow or other the Local Government has profited unfairly, and saved expenditure on Education and Medical objects at the expense of the special funds of District Boards.

"The Hon'ble Maharaja of Cossimbazar has returned to the subject of the village water-supply, and has pointed out that there has been a decrease in the expenditure by District Boards on this account in the last two years. This is no doubt the case. The maximum expenditure was in the second year after Sir Alexander Mackenzie's pronouncement, and there has been a considerable decline since then. This is only natural. On the Government undertaking a systematic enquiry into the water-supply of the remote interior, a certain number of very urgent needs were brought to notice, and carried out. The cases afterwards taken up were less urgent, and District Boards, in the exercise of their judgment, have somewhat restricted their expenditure.

"A suggestion has been made by the Hon'ble Maharaja of Cossimbazar that the cost of village chaukidars should be borne out of Provincial Funds, and that the money thus set free should be spent upon wells and tanks. I do not know how far the Hon'ble Member has considered the details of this proposal, but I may mention that there are about 160,000 chaukidars in the 200,000 villages of the Lower Provinces, and that their cost is about 70 lakhs of rupees a year, and what the Hon'ble Member is asking is that the Provincial Government should take over the 70 lakhs of expenditure on village chaukidars, and give this sum for wells and tanks. Now, if the 70 lakhs are spread over the 200,000 villages, it would give something like Rs. 35 a year for each village. That is the actual effect of the proposal. The Hon'ble Member will see that this is a very large measure, and it is certainly open to question whether much good would be done with the Rs. 35 per village without an amount of supervision which it would be impossible to provide. The question of the village water-supply cannot, in the opinion of the Government, be dealt with in any way of this kind: it really rests with the people of the villages and their landlords, and although the hand of the Government is long and strong, it is neither long enough nor strong enough to set right the water supply of 200,000 villages in the Lower Provinces. From time immemorial, it has been recognised to be the duty of the landowners and of men of local authority and influence to provide the villages with reasonably good water, and no general and real improvement will be effected throughout the country unless it is recognised that the people must put their own hands to the work with the help of their landlords. This was the view expressed by His Honour the President, when he last reviewed the work of the District Boards, and it is the only answer I can give to the suggestion that the Government should take this matter into its own hands.

"I think, Sir, that I have answered most, if not all, of the points that were brought forward in this discussion, which have not already been answered by the Hon'ble Members in charge of other departments. I would only add that, if there is any point upon which information has been requested and which I, have overlooked, I shall be glad to give the information desired, if I am asked for it, either personally or by letter. It only remains for me to thank those Hon'ble Members who furnished me beforehand with notice of their questions."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said.—"I have listened with interest to this rather wide debate. In Budget discussions the animation varies as a rule inversely with the surplus. If the surplus is small, the debate is large; if the surplus is big, the debate is thin. The reason doubtless is that when there is little to distribute, every one clamours for a share. When the surplus is large, there are fewer disappointments and less complaint. We have to-day had, however, some excellent and interesting speeches, and I gather that the speakers are, on the whole, not dissatisfied with the plan of the Provincial operations in the coming year which has been explained in the Financial Statement. On the points which have been raised in to-day's discussion, the Hon'ble Members who are in charge of the several branches of the Government Secretariat, have, for the most part, given fairly full replies.

"In winding up the debate I should like to recall the attention of the Council very briefly to the salient features of the work which the large surplus of the year enables us to undertake. The first and largest item is that of Public Works. In these matters we have very pressing claims, the inheritance of a succession of lean years. The opportunity has at last come for making essential changes and additions in the public offices at Comilla, Noakhali, Barisal, Monghyr, Purnea and Patna. In some of these places the arrangements for the accommodation of the Magistrates were more primitive than I could have conceived possible in a civilised province. Quarters will be built for two Sub-divisional charges. A lakh and a quarter will be spent on necessary extensions of the Jails. The building of a Police post in the Fenwick Bazar Ward of Calcutta will cost no less than 2½ lakhs. The hospitals will absorb 9 lakhs of the surplus, including the Pathological oracle at the Presidency College, for which the Government of India expressly allotted us three "On Roads we shall spend, inclusive of the renewed grant of 5 lakhs to the District Boards, 9 lakhs at least. I regard this as in some respects the most important part of our Budget. Communications are almost everywhere in Bengal defective, and the defect becomes more apparent as the railways spread over the land.

"In Railways we are fortunate this year in Bengal. The Grand Chord, the Murshidabad-Ranaghat line, and the Jherria lines, will be all under construction, but railway lines, without feeder roads, are the horse without the cart, and it behoves us, if we are to take full advantage of the gifts the Gods are giving us, to push on these invaluable adjuncts of the railway systems on the Trebani Canal, which will give water and fertility to the north of Tirhut. Nearly 6 lakhs will be spent this year. The Bhil route in Eastern Bengal will be improved at a cost of 2½ lakhs. The Engineers will be worked to their full strength in the coming year, but I know that they rejoice in the ample field that is being given them for their energies. In this connection, I refer for a moment to the remarks of the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy on improvements in Calcutta. The Council are aware from a remark I made at the last meeting of the Viceroy's Council, that there has been a long correspondence between the Local Government and the Supreme Government in the matter—a correspondence which has extended over two years. If my successive efforts to place before the Supreme Government the financial questions with which we have to deal failed in being sufficiently clear and definite, I have only myself to blame, but I was disappointed by the terms of the Finance Minister's reply in Council, for I believe the position is now near in which the Corporation can be publicly consulted on the measures for carrying out the great scheme of the Building Commission. I confess to a deep personal disappointment at the delay which has attended this matter; for it cannot now be that I shall have part in the practical working of projects in which I had the strongest interest.

"After Public Works, the next largest item in the Budget of new works is that for Education. We have been fortunate enough in Bengal to receive one-fourth of the allotment for the whole of India in the Imperial Budget for the development of Education. In all matters, but especially in Educational ones, the opinion of our hon'ble colleague, Dr. Mookerjee, is entitled to the highest respect, and I have noticed with care the prominence he has given to-day to an increase of the salaries of the Departmental Officers of Education. That matter has already been under the consideration of my Government, but in my judgment there are far higher claims upon the allotment which the Supreme Government has given us. The matter in which this Province is deficient is in Primary Education, and it is in the strengthening of Primary Education that in my judgment the money must be mainly spent. We must, however, proceed warily, for we have no certainty that this grant will be continued, and no probability whatever that it will be increased. We have, therefore, to make the very most of our grant and see that it is turned to the greatest possible use. The matter is not easy. I mentioned in another place that the Simla Conference had insisted on a change in the system by which grants-in-aid are meanwhile given to elementary schools. The system is, no doubt, bad in theory, and ought to be changed, but it is cheap, and the plan which the department proposes in room of it is enormously dear. They recommend an army of Inspectors. These would cost 4½ lakhs a year, and half of the whole of the money that we need for the development of the schools would vanish in inspection. I believe there are simpler and cheaper methods upon which we are about to consult the District Boards. But in Bengal primary instruction is far behind, and the essential matter is to get it increased. My friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Das, has complained to-day that our system of elementary education tends to create in the learners a distaste to agricultural pursuits or the handicrafts of their forefathers. I should like to add to Mr. Macpherson's remarks the hope that the system which was introduced last year will at least reduce the tendency; for it will develop intelligence rather than memory, and interest the child in the common objects around him.

"The last matter I have to speak of is the Police. There are many directions in which much could be done for the improvement of the Police. But the cardinal point is the improvement of the investigating staff. Of the inspecting staff, I hear nowhere any complaints. Almost without exception I am assured they are upright and honest. They are far too few in number for really efficient inspection, but they are sufficiently paid, and they are straight. I am sorry to say I cannot say the same of the investigating staff which is below them. In other classes of the public service dishonesty has been almost altogether cured by a system of better salaries, and there is nothing for it but to try that in the investigating ranks of the Police. The proposals of this Government to that end are before the Government of India.

"There are a few miscellaneous matters to which I may, in conclusion, refer. The Maharaja of Cossimbazar has spoken on the question of rural water-supply. He is quite right in setting high store on it. He will see from the returns, which have been given him in answer to his questions, that the matter has been taken up by the District Boards in the methodical manner which means good business, and that the Boards of those districts, which are most interested have spent upon the provision of water-supply far more than the minimum, which was imposed by Government. I have no doubt that he is himself among the excellent landlords who conform to the traditions of their order and themselves provide for their tenants what the Maharaja properly calls a necessity of health and life. But all landlords do not follow that example, and I was sorry to find in Eastern Bengal the prevalent custom of exacting heavy fees from those of their tenantry who are willing to provide water-supply for their neighbours. I hope that he and all other men of influence will exert themselves to stop a custom so injurious to the people.

"I wish I could assist the Maharaja of Gidhour in his desire to see more model farms. I think myself that it is better to have a few good ones than many bad ones, and I hope, before long, we may be able to establish at Pusa a farm which will yield, by experiments on a large scale, results that will be of real value to the country. The experiments in the neighbourhood of Pusa by Mr. Coventry, of Dalangserai, are deserving of the highest praise.

"The remarks of the Hon'ble Mr. Edworthy on the electrical course of tuition at Sibpur shall have my attention.

"And now, Gentlemen, it remains to me only to discharge you from your duties for the present. The Council will assemble again in July."

The Council was adjourned sine die.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA- TIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1902

THE chief feature of the weather during April was the continuous disturbed condition with almost daily thunderstorms and rainfall, frequent oscillations in pressure, and at times very low temperature. These local disturbances were, apparently in the early part of the month, associated with the low pressure area over the western districts. Rainfall was not, as a rule, heavy and temperature was relatively to the normal lower in the western and central districts than in the east, especially East Bengal, where very little rain was falling. Also when rainfall occurred, it was usually at a time of rising pressure, which increase had commenced in the east and extended westward.

From about the 14th a change of a very noticeable kind occurred. Pressure remained low in the west of the Province, and the gradient from east to west became steeper, with strong south easterly winds at the head of the Bay. That is, the pressure distribution and wind circulation were very similar to what had obtained in the early part of the month, and with such conditions it might be expected that the area in which local storms were of most frequent occurrence and rainfall was most heavy and general would remain over the western and central districts. But from the 14th onwards to the 24th unusually heavy rainfall for the season was of almost daily occurrence in East Bengal and the adjacent part of Assam. Showers still fell in the west of the Province with the exception of Bihar. These were, however, comparatively trifling in amount, and the extent to which weather was, during those days, disturbed in the east of the Province can be shown by the temperature variation from the normal being practically nil in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and part of South-West Bengal, while towards the east defect ranged rapidly up to  $10^{\circ}$ . That large defect remained steady, almost throughout the period of disturbance.

A possible explanation of these peculiarities may be in the position of the area of lowest pressure. This, in the early part of the month, was over the western districts, and there is reason to believe that the relatively low pressure extended to a considerable height in the atmosphere. When the change occurred about the 14th, a low pressure area probably developed over East Bengal, which was not shown by the ground level barometric observations. The depression, if there were one, must have remained over the east of the Province for about ten days, and for the whole of that time the strong south-easterly winds at the head of the Bay fed that area with moist air from the Bay.

These winds, south-easterly in direction when they entered the Province from the Bay, afterwards changed to westerly, but at a higher elevation, and carried towards the east of the Province the moisture which was precipitated in quantity much in excess of what is usual in April.

As will be seen by a reference to the preceding tables, most of the stations in the Dacca district received four times the normal amount. In Tippera, Noakhali, Chittagong and part of Mymensingh also there were similarly heavy falls, and generally in East Bengal the total fall for the month varied from 10 to 20 inches. The average fall for the whole division was 13.2 inches more than three times the normal fall of 4.3 inches. In Assam general more or less heavy rain fell during the month. At Silchar the fall was 21.7 inches as compared with a normal of 13.6, and at Dibrugarh, Sibsagar, and Tezpur, the actual fall ranged from 10 to 13 inches, considerably in excess in each case.

While these unsettled conditions prevailed in the east of the Province, showers were of frequent occurrence in the west, and as weather had been disturbed in the west during the early part of the month, rainfall was in excess in all districts, though to a much smaller extent than in East Bengal. Excess in South-West Bengal was 2.8 inches, in North Bengal 1.8, in Orissa 1.5, and in Chota Nagpur and Bihar less than half an inch.

The number of rainy days, that is, days on which more than a tenth of an inch fell, was on an average more than double the usual number except in Chota Nagpur.

Maximum temperature was on an average for the month more in defect than minimum. Mean defect was  $3^{\circ}$  in Bengal Proper,  $1^{\circ}$  in Bihar and Orissa and half a degree in Chota Nagpur.

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was practically normal, with the area of lowest pressure over South Bihar, and southerly winds except in North Bengal and on the Burma coast. Temperature was in uniform excess by about  $3^{\circ}$ . The slow rise of pressure which was then in progress continued on the 2nd, but on the 3rd changes were less regular. With these irregular changes winds became south-westerly in places, and local storms with light rainfall occurred in Bengal Proper. From being  $3^{\circ}$  in excess temperature fell to  $6^{\circ}$  in defect in Lower Bengal.

During the subsequent ten days similar pressure changes occurred, generally small, and with rising pressure, which was roughly every second day, thunderstorms with fairly general rain swept over Bengal Proper. The dates on which rainfall was most general were the 3rd, 5th, 9th, and 11th. One noticeable feature was in the fall of temperature being greatest, usually in the western districts, showing that the centre of disturbance was in that region.

About the end of the second week the change took place which has been noticed above. Rainfall became much more general and heavy in East Bengal, and temperature fell in that area, and remained low for some time both in East Bengal, and in the country further east.

The centre of disturbance was evidently transferred eastward, but the pressure distribution remained as before with the lowest readings in Chota Nagpur. Pressure changes, the usual indication of disturbed weather, remained small, the winds were steadily from the east, and the elements which varied to any extent from the normal were rainfall and temperature in the eastern districts.

Between the 14th and 24th the 20th was the only day on which rainfall was not general in East Bengal. It therefore appears that there were two periods of disturbance in close succession. During the latter of these periods, commencing on the 21st there were faint indications of the eastward motion of a low pressure area. The general fall of pressure on the 21st and 22nd was followed by a brisk to rapid rise on the 23rd and 24th. The rise of pressure with which the period of disturbance closed, appeared to pass from north-east to south-west, but throughout these ten days of general rainfall in East Bengal changes of pressure moved with greater rapidity than usual, and were all but simultaneous in their effect.

Between the 25th and 27th a general fall of pressure occurred, and probably the area of lowest pressure was transferred westward again, as rainfall practically ceased in East Bengal, though considerable oscillations in pressure continued till the end of the month. Showers still fell in places, but during the last week the large defect in temperature, which had been a marked feature in the east during the previous ten days, almost disappeared. At the end of the month the greatest defect was in Orissa.

Pressure was continuously low in the western districts, and during the latter half of the month there was a steep gradient over the Province and the north of the Bay, with strong southerly or south-easterly winds. The daily oscillations were larger and more frequent than usual, especially while weather was so unsettled during the latter half of the month. The mean difference from the normal varied from excess of 0.4 inch at Narayan-ganj and Mymensingh to defect of about 0.2 inch at Hazaribagh.

Temperature was generally below the normal in the western districts during the first half of the month and in the eastern districts during the latter half, defect being large almost continuously in one part of the Province or the other throughout the month. The average defect in maximum temperature for the month varies from 2° in the outlying districts to 6° in the central parts. The difference from the normal minimum temperature for the month is smaller, and ranges from excess of 1° in the west of Bihar to defect of 3° in East Bengal. For the whole of Bengal Proper the mean defect for the month was 3° and in the western districts about 1°.

Rainfall, as already stated, was more or less frequent throughout the month. The showers were most general in the western and central districts during the first two weeks. Between the 14th and 24th heavy general rainfall occurred in East Bengal and Assam, and from the 21st to the end of the month scattered showers again fell, chiefly in the west. The average fall in East Bengal was 13.2 inches, nearly 9 inches in excess of the normal, and in North and South west Bengal about 5 inches. Over the whole of Lower Bengal the fall for the month was about three times what usually falls in April, and in North Bengal and Orissa about double the normal. In Bihar there was excess of about half an inch and in Chota Nagpur the fall was only slightly in excess.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of April 1902 —

28 When challans have so been passed, he shall keep one copy and return the others with his receipts enclosed upon them. These receipts shall be produced in Court by the person paying the money, when it is necessary for him to have satisfaction entered upon the record of the case to which he is a party, or when it is necessary to have a sale confirmed or notices issued upon the landlord in cases of rent deposits or upon the creditor in cases of debt due to a mortgage creditor, and the like.

In the same way, on presentation of the challan in triplicate* at the Treasury, as prescribed above in Rule 23, and on payment of the money, the payer shall receive, as an acknowledgment, two of the three challans signed by the Treasury Officer if the amount be Rs 500 or more, by the Accountant and Treasurer, if less than that sum.

29 In all cases, whether the money is paid into Court or into the Treasury, the person paying the money shall present to the Court in which the case is pending or decided one of the remaining two copies of the challan, and the copy so presented shall be filed with the record of the case. In the event of the persons failing to present this copy, the Judge in charge shall be justified in refusing to comply with the requisition of such person until the copy shall have been presented.

* Revised and added by Rule No. 1 dated 14 September 1890

Treasury Advice List

65 At the close of business each day the Treasury Officer, whether Sadar or Sub-divisional, shall prepare advice lists, in form No 15 of all such challans and payment orders of each Judge in charge as have been brought upon the Treasury accounts in the course of the day, and shall forward them to such Judges in charge respectively. In these lists shall be entered in detail such challans and payment orders as have been received or paid at the Treasury or Sub-Treasury in cash, while those brought into the Treasury account from the pass-book (Rule 58) shall be included in a single total on each side, with the description "as per your pass-book dated".

After receipt of the Treasury Advice List, the payment order should be registered by the Judge in charge in Form No 21 (Accountant General's No 327, dated 17th June 1881).

If the District Magistrate's Court is close to the Treasury, so that the Magistrate's registers referred to in Rule 67 can be sent daily to be compared and initialed by the Treasury Officer, this procedure may be adopted in lieu of the Daily Advice List, if found more convenient.

Rule cancelled

3 If there is a decree under which any one is entitled to recover anything, the record shall be destroyed at the end of one year from the date at which the decree has been fully satisfied, or on which it has been declared that execution is barred or cannot be had. In other cases the record shall be destroyed at the end of one year from the date of the decree.

Existing Rule

Rule 8, clause (a) — The number of copyists licensed must not be greater than will admit under ordinary circumstances, of each vernacular court earning at least Rs 12, and of each English copyist earning at least Rs 20 per month. Each copyist is to keep a register showing his receipts, which he is to submit once a month to the Judge, who will thus be enabled to regulate the establishment of copyists and to reduce the number, if required, with a view to the provisions of the preceding rule. The Judge may, under pressure of work, depute to his Charistadar the duty of examining these registers, but he is under no circumstance to omit doing so himself at least once a year, and a certificate of his inspection of these books is always to be inserted in the Annual Report.

* Passed in Drawing.

to present himself for the Preliminary Scientific M.B. or combined M.B. examination at the end of his third year, and has to attend the lectures in Chemistry, Botany, and Zoology, required for this examination as extra subjects, must pay fees in accordance with the provision of paragraph 12.

This practice is, however, not recommended, and such students are advised to seek permission to revert to the second year course of study.

14. A similar ruling applies to students who have passed the first L.M.S. at the end of their third year, but having failed to pass the first M.B., wish to present themselves for the end of their fourth year. They must attend the necessary lectures as extra subjects and pay extra fees, but they are advised to apply for permission to revert to their third year.

15. Students who have passed in all subjects at a University examination but fail in the "aggregate" will pay fee as if they had failed in one subject.

16. Students who fail at the final M.B. or L.M.S. examination will pay fees for the subjects in which they have to re-appear at the following rates—Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three, but without any annual fee.

17. These rules with regard to the payment of fees after failure may, in special cases, be relaxed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, on the recommendation of the Principal (Bengal Government Order No. 267 Medical, dated 19th January 1897).

18. No fees are charged to regular female students or to those of the Female Certificate class.

19. Similarly, no fees are charged to students of the Military Pupil class.

20. In calculating the sum to be paid under the rule 9, "The Students," the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

21. Thus a regular student leaving for Europe at the end of his second year would, after enjoying for two years a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, if he wished for the necessary certificates, be required to pay the following sum, calculated thus—

			Rs.	Rs.
Anatomy	course of first and second year	...	...	40 + 40 = 80
Chemistry	ditto	.	.	40 + 40 = 80

22. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

23. Students of the Military class and Female Certificate class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 5 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case, as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution, Education, No. 601, of 7th December 1880.

2 Any regular student may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professors of the subjects, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year and shall be entitled to certificates for attendance at such extra lectures if the Professors are satisfied that the student has attended regularly and has honestly studied the subject. For such courses additional fees are charged (Section 4, Paragraph 5).

3 A casual student wishing to attend any course of lectures or any department of hospital practice may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment in advance of fees at the rates fixed. If the student has passed one of the Preliminary Arts examinations as explained in Section "The Students" paragraph 1, he may be granted certificates of attendance at the lectures, provided the Principal and Professor are satisfied with his study of the subjects taken up.

4 Female students may, with the sanction of the Principal, change their course of study from the curriculum of the University to that of the Certificate class.

5 Casual female students may be enrolled in the Certificate class after commencing a course of study in one or more subjects at the College, but will have to complete the full four years' course from the time of entering the Certificate course.

6 All certificates for attendance at these courses are only recognised by the British General Medical Council, provided the requisite Preliminary Arts examination has been passed.

EXAMINATIONS.

REGULAR STUDENTS

1 The examinations compulsory for regular students are the College Test examinations and the Calcutta University examinations.

2 Casual students may be required to pass the College Test examinations.

3 Students of the Military pupil class are required to pass College Test examinations and Final examinations in certain subjects at different stages of the curriculum, in accordance with the orders of the Director-General Indian Medical Service.

4 Students of the Female Certificate class are required to pass College Test examinations and Final examinations in certain subjects at different stages of the curriculum.

The following are the examinations for the different classes of students —

	First year	Second year	Third year	Fourth year	Fifth year
Regular students	College Test examination	College Test and Preliminary Scientific L.M.S. or M.B. examinations	First L.M.S. or M.B. examinations	College Test examinations	Final L.M.S. or M.B. examinations
Military Pupil class	College Test examination	Final examination	College Test and Final examination	Final examination
Female Certificate class	College Test examination	Final examination	College Test and Final examination	Final examination

NOTE — It will thus be seen that the first L.M.S. or first M.B. fulfils the purpose of a College Test for regular students of the third year and the final L.M.S. or M.B. for those of the fifth year.
Promotion to a higher stage of the curriculum is dependent on passing the test examinations.

5 Students of the first and second year at the College Test examinations are expected to obtain a minimum of 40 per cent in all subjects, but 30 per cent in one may not debar them being promoted to the second- and third-year's curriculum respectively. Failure to reach this minimum will entail a further year's study before promotion.

6 Those who after passing the College Test fail at the University examinations will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year curriculum, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves for the combined Preliminary Scientific and first L.M.S. or M.B. examinations.

7 Those students who fail at the College Test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific. They will be encouraged to do so, but whether they pass or fail, they will be relegated to the second-year curriculum, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

8 Students of the first- or second-year curriculum, who fail twice at the same stage to gain promotion to the next higher curriculum, will be finally removed from the College.

9 Students of the third year must present themselves for the first L.M.S. or first M.B. examination of the Calcutta University, or for the combined (see paragraph 6 above). Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year's curriculum.

10 Those who fail to present themselves at the University examinations without satisfactory explanation render themselves liable to removal from the College.

11 Students of the third-year, who fail twice at the first L.M.S. or first M.B. will be liable to removal from the College. If the Principal thinks fit, they may be allowed to remain in the College and be relegated to the third year curriculum on payment of fees at rates laid down (Section "Fees," paragraph 11). This concession may be repeated for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

12 Students of the fourth-year curriculum must not only pass the College Test examinations, but must also show diligence and aptitude in clinical work, otherwise they will not be promoted to the fifth-year curriculum.

13 Students of the fourth year curriculum who at the College Test examinations obtain a minimum of 40 per cent of the marks in three subjects and 30 per cent in a fourth (Section "Curricula") will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail to obtain this minimum will be relegated to the fourth-year curriculum for a further year.

14 Students who fail to pass the final L.M.S. or M.B. examinations must attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the University regulations, and must pay the necessary fees (Section "Fees," paragraph 16).

15. Students who have failed to pass the College Test and University examinations in regular course are not eligible for junior or senior stipendiary scholarships (Section "College Rewards").

16. Students of the fourth-year curriculum will be allowed to compete for the medals, prizes and scholarships of the fourth and fifth years (Section "College Rewards," paragraphs 16 and 17).

17. The method of examination for Honours is determined by each Professor in consultation with the Principal.

MILITARY PUPILS

18. The rules regulating the Test and Final examinations of the Military pupil class are those ordered by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, from time to time.

FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS

19. Promotion to a higher curriculum is dependent on passing the Test examinations, at which the minimum of marks fixed in each subject must be obtained.

20. A student of the first year who obtains less than 30 per cent of marks in any two out of the four subjects of the test examinations will be removed from the College.

21. A student of the second- and third-year curriculum must obtain 40 per cent of the marks in two subjects of examination (Test or Final) to be promoted to the higher curriculum. A student who fails to obtain 40 per cent in two or 30 per cent in one subject only will be relegated for a further year's study to her present curriculum.

22. If a student obtains more than 30 per cent but less than 40 per cent of the marks in one subject, she will be eligible for promotion. She must, however, attend a course of lectures in the subject in which she has failed in addition to the full curriculum of the year to which she has been promoted. She must pass the Test examination in that subject before being promoted. Repeated failure will entail removal from the College.

23. The same rules for the minimum percentage of marks accepted for the examinations of the second and third year apply to students of the fourth year.

24. If a student of the fourth year gains 30 per cent and less than 40 per cent in one subject only, she will be referred for a further course of study for one year.

7. Military pupils must obtain permission from the Principal before attending lectures on subjects outside their curriculum.

8. The periodical and final examinations of the curriculum will be conducted, and students who fail to pass them will be dealt with in accordance with the rules laid down in the prospectus issued by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

9. At the end of the course military pupils, if reported qualified, will be attested and admitted (India Army Circulars, clause 162, of 1888) into the Indian Subordinate Medical Department.

12. A military pupil, in the event of failing to pass the periodical and final examinations of the curriculum, or misconducting himself, may be summarily removed by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, and all certificates, to which he may otherwise be entitled, withheld.

13. A military pupil, desirous of relinquishing his studies, can only do so with the sanction of the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, and on refunding the whole amount of pay received by him.

14. A military pupil, who, after completing the course, declines to be attested will similarly refund the whole amount of pay received by him, and will not receive any certificates.

15. The order and discipline of the military pupils is maintained by the Superintendent of Military pupils and the Bazaar staff under the orders of the Principal.

17. Leave to military pupils is granted by the Principal.

18. No certificate of attendance on any course of lectures, or practical work, will be granted to a military pupil unless he has passed the preliminary examination of the Calcutta University, or the examination laid down for casual students (Section "Fees"), before commencing the course, and has also paid the fees.

- (a) Free tuition, i.e., refund of fees at the end of the first year, awarded to 10 students of the first year
- (b) Government stipendiary junior scholarships, together with free tuition, awarded at the end of their first and second year to 10 students of each year

- (h) Government scholarships to female students enrolled as regular students, with free tuition

2. Free tuition, as above defined, is available to regular students only of the first year.

3. Stipendiary scholarships are awarded only to regular students of the College.

4. Regular students, who at any time are referred for a second year of study in all the subjects of one curriculum, are thereby rendered ineligible for any of the stipendiary scholarships, junior or senior. They are, however, eligible for the special scholarships and class prizes of the fourth and fifth year.

5. A student who has failed to pass the Preliminary Scientific Examination at the end of his second year cannot hold a scholarship in his third year. In the event of his passing a combined examination at the end of his third year, he will then be eligible to hold a senior scholarship.

6. A student referred for a further course of study in one subject of curriculum is not eligible to compete for honours in that subject.

7. Certain Clinical College prizes, and all class gold medals and certificates of honour, are open for competition to all students except casual students.

8. A female student enrolled as a regular student may compete for all scholarships and medals.

9. A student who has permission to attend a course in excess of the curriculum of his year is eligible for the prizes given for that course.

10. Casual students are ineligible for stipendiary scholarships, prizes and certificates of honour.

11. A Government female scholarship of Rs. 20 per mensem may be granted to a female student on entrance for five years, provided that—

- (a) She is a promising student
- (b) She is not receiving a scholarship of that value from any other course external to the College
- (c) She is willing to bind herself to serve Government for four years, if called upon to do so after passing out of the College (Government of Bengal, Education No. 1285, of 28th March 1895)

NOTE.—If a female student comes to the College with a scholarship of less value than Rs. 20 a month, she shall be entitled to receive the balance in the shape of a supplementary scholarship from Government on the above conditions.

12. A student holding a senior scholarship who fails to pass the test examination of the fourth year to the satisfaction of the Principal will forfeit his scholarship, which may then be awarded for one year to the student of the fifth year who stands highest in the results of the fourth year examination and is not the holder of any scholarship.

13. Senior and junior scholarships will not be awarded to any student who has gained the Durga Charan Laha Scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem (Calcutta University Calendar) or any other scholarship.

14. A gold medal is awarded to the best student in each subject on the result of the Honours examination. In those subjects in which the course is biennial, the best of the students of the two years may obtain the gold medal, unless there be a special medal for the junior year. If the winner is of the junior year, he can only receive the reward of the junior year.

15. The fact of a student having obtained a medal or certificate of honour will not prevent him being relegated to a further year in that curriculum, the test examination of which he has failed to pass.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the trace of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 80, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; l, lightning; s, strong wind; d, drizzling rain.
